

From: Joyce Dillard <dillardjoyce@yahoo.com>
To: "Adam R. Lid" <Adam.lid@lacity.org>
Date: 7/21/2009 9:37 AM
Subject: Comments to Information Technology and General Services Committee, Agenda 5, CFI 09-1714

Comments to Information Technology and General Services Committee, Agenda 5, CFI 09-1714

You have got to be kidding. In the second largest city in the country, you choose to go with Google???

Or is this a pleasant surprise and you are going to open the records, in its entirety, online to ALL.

You have state laws to adhere to like the California Public Records Act. Will you be able to supply all documentation. For what period would Googlepages retain the information.

How does this fit the term "transparency" as the City applies for and received American Recovery and Reinvestment Act ARRA stimulus funding.

The Cornfield-Arroyo Specific Plan CASP is on googlepages. This is a Planning Department project.-- bad idea. It is not posted on any city website and difficult to find.

Be responsible. Keep your own records and have proper back-up systems.

Suggestion, be more transparent. Post everything on line—emails, Forms 700 Statements of Economic Interests, ballot measure campaign reports, payroll, cash disbursement journal, cash receipts journal etc etc.

Maybe one day, the City may operate as a unit instead of fractionalized departments with the leadership expecting the Citizen to suffer the consequences of increased fees and taxes due to the tomfoolery of the politicians.

Joyce Dillard
P.O. Box 31377
Los Angeles, CA 90031