

1. PIMA development

New buyers who are attempting to buy the land have set conditions to overcome Forever 21's 2008 failure of attempting to build a warehouse; by requesting that the 2.7 acres allocated for park use in 2003 settlement with Jan Perry and the City of LA be also sold to them. Jan Perry has spearheaded the push for erasing the last vestiges what was once the largest urban farm in the United States. The City has deployed its discursive spin by calling this project the "PIMA development". This conglomeration is nothing more than the oedipal child of Forever 21. The PIMA development is short for Poetry, Impact, Miss Me, and Active which are widely known as subcontractors for Forever 21.

2. A similar project, proposed by the PIMA group, emerged about six months ago, and Perry appears to be pushing for the sale of the land before the state ends funding for Community Development Grants. Without state aid, the land has little value to developers while large swaths of developed industrial warehouses and transportation centers are vacant. Because the land originally belonged to the Harbor Commission, Perry took the matter to them in August. In the face of pressure by the Farmers and residents at their meeting, the Harbor Commission punted and sent the matter to City Council without a recommendation.

3. Giving up their source of healthy food added $5.3M to City coffers, and still their Councilmember doesn't think they deserve two parks in the neighborhood. Area residents believe otherwise. On October 13th, Perry's staffers were run out of a meeting at Fred Roberts Park where they were pitching the sale of the soccer field land. Residents complained of being a "sacrificial community" for the developer friends of politicians. Silvia Duran, a 30-year resident near the proposed park, declared, "Jan Perry has always ignored us when we have complained of all the traffic and noise!"

4. Jan Perry has allied herself with Pueblo Del Rio low income housing complex. She will bus in residents from the housing complex and Fred Roberts Park for a free lunch before the Budget and Finance Committee meeting. However, most residents are determined to halt the industrialization of their neighborhood, with its attendant home value depreciation, impaired health, and noise and diesel pollution. The neighborhood lies along the Alameda Corridor, a major truck route carved out of low-income residential and commercial neighborhoods over the past two decades between the Los Angeles Harbor and downtown rail lines. The taking of the South Central Farm is the most recent of a long history of land transfers, including the Cornfields, Chavez Ravine, and the Ballona Wetlands, from publicly-held quality of life spaces to commercial and industrial developers.

5. In an L.A. Superior Court hearing challenging the sale of the Farm in 2006, Perry testified that the soccer field would be a public benefit mitigating the loss of the Farm. But in a recent letter to the Harbor Commissioners arguing now for the sale of the soccer field, NBC LA reports that Perry acknowledged the consequences of industrial development on her residents, declaring that the soccer field is impractical because of area pollution and, ironically, citing the same 2008 Environmental Impact Report that had stalled the project before. Removing the planned park could reduce some costs for mitigating construction and operation pollution for the developer and the buyer, but it would have no effect on long-term neighborhood pollution exposure.

6. "The settlement was authorized by the City Council on August 13, 2003. Pursuant to the settlement agreement, the Harbor Department sold the Lancer property to Libaw-Horowitz subject to, and in conjunction with, Libaw-Horowitz' pledge to dedicate approximately 2.6 acres of the property back to the City of Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation (RAP), or alternatively, to a non-profit community organization that would use and maintain the property for recreation and park purposes."

Community wants to know why this settlement was never enforced in a timely manner. 8 years is a long time. Question: Has Mr. Horowitz been paying taxes on the 2.6 Acres while he still claims that he owns them?

7. "...there has been an emerging field of research regarding air pollutants and the harmful impacts they can have on sensitive receptors. Considering the health risk posed by diesel emissions, the propriety of establishing an active use park in the middle of this heavily industrialized corridor should be questioned and is the primary reason why I am requesting the Harbor Commission to consider amending the pledge agreement." While Jan Perry may want us to believe that the research is new, we counter that she is omisive; these facts were the same one that her political mentor Juanita Tate used to shut down the trash incinerator. We further assert that if we follow Jan Perry's logic many of the following project would never have been built; C Street Corridor Park, Waterfront Walk and Dancing waters in San Pedro, Greenbelt Park in East Wilmington, or it would need to close down the Port of Call. Additionally, the sites that Jan Perry wants to help, i.e. Ross Snyder is two blocks away from the SCF Farm. So, if we follow her logic we should be shutting down the park too.

Further, we assert that Jan Perry has recognized the merits of our arguments and instead of Honoring the memory of her mentor, Juanita Tate, she is back tracking all the EJ work that has been done in the last 30 years. We encourage Jan Perry to anchor an EJ site that will serve as anchor to force the cleanup of the community; that will serve as a model for Brownfield communities across the United States. But it appears that Jan Perry has chosen to sacrifice our community a la Nixon's "Sacrificial Community" by allowing more contamination to be violently spread over our communities.

8. "a buyer that proposes to build a design center on the Lancer property that will encompass garment design, manufacturing and warehousing and could potentially create up to 600 new jobs." While all politicians speak the mantra of jobs and tax bases clearly they don't tell us that they come at the expense of the community and our quality of life. They have been promising jobs for 30 years and none have shown up. Even if they do materialize they will be back breaking sweatshop jobs. They will be jobs were the women in our community will be exploited for their labor a la Forever 21. While Jan Perry fights for living wage jobs for the AEG stadium she is willing to sacrifice her community to cheap labor exploitation.

9. "The fund will be used to improve existing recreation facilities with capital improvements and programming and to create new recreation opportunities in the area adjacent to the Lancer site. Execution of the release and payment of the settlement funds shall not be contingent upon Libaw-Horowitz losing the pending sale or any future sale of the property." It is clear that this money will easily disappear through the managerial nepotism and cronyism as has happened in the past. Quimby funds have been used in the past for park maintenance and upgrades. Particularly, Ross Snyder and Fred Roberts have benefitted in the past. Clearly, a failure to plan on the City Council's part should not punish the community at 41st and Alameda.

10. "...should be noted that in partnership with my office and the Department of Water and Power the Los Angeles Community Garden Council has successfully established a new seven-acre garden with 190 plots at 110th Street and Avalon Boulevard." What Jan Perry fails to mention is that she has ignored years of research on the effects of high power tension lines and their impact on sensitive receptors. The same ones that she uses to justify why we can't have the community garden or soccer fields. Particularly development of breast cancer on women and young girls. She fails her duty as an elected official in defending the well being of her constituents and supporting the precautionary principle. Clearly, she is willing to declare this group of folks another "sacrificial community".

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

8

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Laura Almo		3280 Diggswento Dr. LA, CA	lalmo@earthlink.net	8-19-11
Carrie DeBevoise		11800 Prairie Ave LA, CA	carried@ymail.com	8-19-11
ADAM GRANOVSKY		4325 GYMNAST AVE #7 MORCA	GRANOVSKYA@GMAIL.COM	8-19-11
Val Porto		4300 Alameda Valley Way MORCA	valporto@juno.com	8-19-11
SUNNY LEVINE		4300 Alameda Valley Way #7 MORCA	sun@laborhistory.com	8-19-11
Beth Husnik		1409 Elevario St LA, CA 90019	bethhusnik@yahoo.com	8-19-11
MARY PRENDERGAST		1803 N. Kernmore Ave LA, CA 90027	clearcutfilms@gmail.com	8/19/11
George Brumby		1 Parkside Junction LA, CA	gbrumby@comcast.net	8/19/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

5

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action requested for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Donovan McLean	[Signature]	1443 Alameda St. #403 LACA P.O. CK	sthtcxtm@gmail.com	8/19/11
ROTH LEVINE	[Signature]	1349 CANTAVANT BLVD 90272	rothlevine@kmac.com	8/19/2011
Doug Kieffer	[Signature]	1825 N. Whitley #403 LA 90028	buglegs@gmail	8/19/11
David Goldstein	[Signature]	216 Glen Dr Sacramento CA 95665	dijiji@gmail.com	8/19/11
Cory Brazeman	[Signature]	128 N. SWILL Dr #304 LA 90048	cory@laneighbors.org	8/15/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action requested for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Jerry Dirienzo		738 22nd St, 90402	hotpie.music@gmail.com	8-19
CHRISTY SCHWAB		11	duchossmusic@gmail.com	8/19
Isaac		11355 W. Olympic LA		8-15-11
Jan Sello		106/83 Lehigh Blvd	SM ce 01105
Deborah Kaye		Woodland Hills 6519 Kabac Ave	dkkaye@aol.com	8/19/11
Julia Stein		819 NO Sierra Bonita	juliasp@earthlink.net	8/19/2011
Justin Meadows		4445 Casanova Ave #116 Folsom Lake, CA 95602	mrmeadows@earthlink.net	8/19/11
SANDY BROWN		10350 Wilshire	sandy10778@yahoo.com	8/19
M. Galinsky		169 Hall St #Kpy 11205	m.galinsky@yahoo.com	8/19

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

8

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
CLEMENTE FRANKO		1295 SUNSET L.A. CA	OKRANKOY@HOTMAIL
BEN BERKOWITZ		4005 MAN ST HSA LA, CA 90013	INTO@BERKOWITZ.COM
JUDY MACHADO		835 ALAMEDA AVE PASADENA, CA	YMSOLUTIONS@SBCGLOBAL.NET
BENNY MADERA		279 OHIO ST #17106 AGUAIR HILLS 91301	bennymadera@hotmail.com
ROSE FORLIS		4079 SPANISH BL 20220 FT MOUNTAIN ST CHATSWORTH, CA 91311	resierora@gmail.com	8/20/11
JOSH KIRK		17435 SAN FERNANDO MISSION BEACH GRANVILLE CA 91344	jkirk@earthlink.net	8/20/11
JIM SUMMERS		17435 SAN FERNANDO MISSION BEACH GRANVILLE CA 91344	jimsummers@verizon.com	8/20/11
MARCO FISK		17421 HORNER ST GRAND HILLS CA 91344	USFISK@VERIZON.COM	8/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

4

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Elizabeth G. Zager	[Handwritten Signature]	937 Alameda Ave	lizagerb@mac.com	8/20/11
Aaron Zober	[Handwritten Signature]	1836 N New Hampshire Ave #306	azober@gmail.com	8/20/11
Jimm Land	[Handwritten Signature]	906 E Alameda St LA 90032	jammiland@aol.com	8/20/11
Kimberly Thompson	[Handwritten Signature]	17395 Tennyson St 91314	Kimthompson.soc@rr.com	8-20-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

5

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action requested by	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Josh Trachtenberg		407 Huntley Dr 90048	joshtrachtenberg@gmail.com	8/20/11
Audrey Pans		407 Huntley 90048	audrey@ardacious.org	8/20/11
KEITH NAKATA		811 N. CROFT AVE CA 90069	keith.nakata@earthlink.net	8/20/11
Caroline Neber		1979 Braga Ave Apt 2 90068	neber1@aol.com	8/20/11
Dwayne Wyatt		4419 SAN ANGELOS AV CA 90065	CITYPRATICE@gmail.com	8/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

9

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action requested for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Glen Fox	[Signature]	3011 N. NEWBROOK PAS #111 SAN ANTONIO TX 78209	galumph47@hotmail.com	8/20/11
Chris Layton	[Signature]	11250 Phina St #53 Culver City, CA 90230	amdramwk@yahoo.com	8/20/11
Mike Matthias	[Signature]	1869 Street 1st Culver City, CA 90230	mrmatthias@hotmail.com	8/20/11
Ashleigh Matthias	[Signature]	10869 Street 5th Culver City, CA 90230	ashleigh.matthias@gmail.com	8/20/11
Megan Culver	[Signature]	10869 Street 5th Culver City, CA 90230	meganjculver@gmail.com	8/20/11
Rick Culver	[Signature]		rickard.culver@fox.com	8/20/11
Stephanie Hubbard	[Signature]	3027 Vineyard Ave LA, CA 90016	huvanghu@gmail.com	8-20-11
RE SERAF	[Signature]	P.O. Box 1774 DC, CA 90209	GIRRE@aol.com	8/20/11
Noemi Ramirez	[Signature]	1295 S. Sunset Blvd LA CA 90024	noemi63@gmail.com	8/20/11

[Handwritten initials]

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

22

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MAYRA ZAMORA		928 WATSON AVE WILMINGTON 90744		7/30/11
Patrick Serrano		626 274 2999	Awsome Job Guy's!	7/30/11
Dee Carmora		400 S Bernside Ave #85 LA 90056	yeah	7/30/11
Linda Zielki		1228 Prestonway Venice CA 90291	Freedom for food!	7/30/11
Sergio Ruiz		3108 Hammond St Bakersfield CA		7/30/11
Daniel Ruelas		6611 Cedar St Fresno CA 93722	Being IT since matti that shit last year	7/30/11
Jose Jacob Garcia		4245 N. Hazel Ave Fresno CA 93722		7/30/11
Brianna Corral		21303 Haddon Pines Dr		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ampl Silvano		1907 Singingwood Ave	Romona CA. 91767	7/30/11
Amuel Pivero		1025 E 55th St Long Beach	CA 90805	7/30/11
Ann George		12993 - Sandhurst St	Pacific, CA 91331	7/30/11
Jorge Lopez		1156 S. Matthews St.	LA 90033	7/30/11
Paul Duran		4495 Sorensen Ct	Los Angeles CA 90044	7/30/11
John Farmer
Yvonne Becerra		4294 S. Bernardino St	Montclair Ca 91767	7-30-11
Jennifer Rojas		1732 Rowman	rojas.jen.renee@gmail.com	7/30/11
Eyes Heaven		1208 W Kewwick Ave	Los Angeles CA 90016	7/30/11
John Miller		1378 N. County Ave	Johnny.know@gmail.com	7/30/11
Nelva Figueroa			nelva.figueroa@gmail.com	7/30/11
Ann Farmer		232 W. 5th Ave	Chandler AZ 85224	7/30/11
Ann Pios		831 Santa St	MyStar 420@Hotmail	7/30/11

* Jennifer Rojas jenniferrojas@gmail.com 7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
CARLOS HERNANDEZ		(PALMDALE, 91331) 12545 TERRA BELLA ST		7/31/11
MARLE DIDIA		117 BIMINI PL 90804		7/9/11
Alfonso Martinez		4532 Centupa St 90072		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

24

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Vincent Rabaja		Costa Mesa, CA	So Cal needs more farms like this	7/30/11
Jose Chavez		1412 W. Flair		7/30/11
Katherine C. Roberts		1709 N. 1st Ave Upland CA	Please Bring Back the FARM!	7/30/11
Matt Carter		139 Virginia El Segundo		7/30/11
PERMIT			El Toro @ N/A
Sam Santiago		4123 E. BRAD ST. Long Beach, CA	EAT Fresh FOOD!	7/30/11
Mariana Bruno		Santa Ana, CA		7/30/11
Seray Aprahamian		3041 Welfar Ave		7/30/11
Nicolas Lopez

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Leonardo Vaterzuela		103 Shasta St, 91910		7/30/11
Maria Zavala		1419 E. 42nd St./LACA 9011		7/30/11
Salvador Cortes		1419 E 42nd St./LACA 9011		7/30/11
Dana Brions		544 Vanhornae		7/20/11
Julie Lonokka		1108 Stoneshead 2230 S Beverly Ave LA, 90007	LOUPT. W. CALIF. CO	7-30-11
BITA AMON		2303 Hidden Pines Dr DICKENS BR, CA 91705		7-30-11
Juan Gonzalez				7/30/11
Melissa Botello				7/30/11
Jaime Esquivel		502 E. Myrtle St. Santa Ana CA 92701		7/30/11
PAUL GARCIA		10712 Wickett Pl.		7/30/11
CHARLES SARKIS		123 Main St.		7/30/11
Alex Hernandez		1519 PICO ST. SAN FERNANDO 91342		7/30/11
Michael Thurman		740 Glen Street Martinez Ca		7/30/11
Donald Rodriguez		1521 Liberty St. Unit 2 LA 90020		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

26

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
BLITHE AGUIAR		121 EAST LOOP DR. CAMPBELL, CA 93010		7/30/2011
Jake Reich		6109 SUN MADOCK NORTH AURORA, IL 60130		7/30/11
Nathaniel Clucas	Nathaniel Clucas	665 N Handy St Orange, CA		7/30/11
Nat Wisely		Collingswood, NJ 08100		7/30/11
Lillian Pearce		PITMAN New Jersey	Save Open Space Now!	7/30/11
Chris Allen		Collingswood, NJ		7/30/11
FIDEL ARIAS		12808 Farnell St. Baldwin Park		7/30/11
KIERSTEN DELACRUZ		2652 DORRANCE AVE GAINES	GIMME LAND!	7/30/11
Carlos Jantez		120 Linden Ave LBC		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Nancy Weza		53736 Hubbard St	awesome job!	July 30th
Dorey MORRIS		1212 W. 38th	DOPE!	7/30/11
Anna Barrigas		13112 Hurdley St #209 Winthier		7/30/11
Jeslean Kohli		1511 Bendable Pl. CA		7/30/11
Trine Enzels		4622 Pl, CA 92886	I want to help!	7/30/2011
Eddie Flores		5265 Buchanan St. CA 94012	Down with growing food	7/30/2011
Keri Minnick		529 Sandalwood Pl #5 Escalante, CA 93027		7/30/11
Caleb Minnick		529 Sandalwood		7/30/11
Wesley		1
Amy Bell
EMERSON		2903 N. 7C Tree Kor Kongicow IT 75604

D

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

25

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.          Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.          "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jocelyn Gómez		9930 Club View Dr		7-30
Yamilet Villalobos		1031 E 4th St LA		7-30-11
Priscilla Doye		6423 2nd Ave. LA 90003		7/30/11
Chris Villalobos		1031 EAST 4th St LA 90001	Cool job keep it up	07/30/11
Mark Abreg		443 E 46th St LA CA 90011		7/30/11
Georgina Corral		4600 E Rosecrans Ave		7-30-11
Apid Hayes		5600 Sunset		7-30-11
Nike Rimbau		3314 Keystone Ave #		7-30-11
Esmeralda Lopez		1081 Victoria	☺	7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Vanessa Hurtado		11220 Patem Dr, 90230		7/30/11
Cameron Lindquist				7/30/11
Cassey Gantolis				7/30/11
Jaymin Garcia		1429 W. 68th St		7/30/11
Philip Coleman		7322 Bright Ave 90602		7/30/11
Alex Leon		929 N. Concord Ave 90640		7/30/11
Charles Tussell		120 E 23rd St, 85713		7/30/11
Rosa Tossell		120 E 23rd St 85713		7/30/11
WESSA STRADA		1710 SE CAMINO REAL E107 ENCINITAS CA 92024		7/30/11
Victoria Alvarez		914 Newberry Dr. Apt Mountain View CA 94042		7/30/11
Vicki Chavez		517 Baseline Rd La Verne		7/30/11
Nora Ortiz		904 S Norton Ave, Torrance CA 90501		7/30/11
Dora Jurado		904 S Norton Ave Torrance, CA 90501		7/30/11
Albin Ramirez		2676 Abad drive Fresno oak CA 91367
Scam Smith		42717 Rimold Dr Lake Hughes, CA		7/30/11
NRA/5151 DELUCA				7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Marina Carbajal		931 E Dayman ST LB CA 90806		7-30-11
Amy Post		8789 Wightway Kville 94951		7-30-2011
Stephane Silva		11281 Reliance Dr Riverside CA 92505		7/30/11
YANIRA MARTINEZ		1011 N. BOLLEHE CERENA CA 92882		7/30/11
Brendan Hamme		11220 Paton Dr Culver City, CA 90230		7/30/11
Michelle Gamba
Blanca Perez		909 1/2 W 40th PL LOS ANGELES, CA 90037		7/30/11
Carmela Perez		909 1/2 W 40th PL CA, CA 90037		7/30/11
Caby Gonzalez		907 West 40th Pl. LOS ANGELES, CA 90037		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Sonia Gill		11311 HAYSELL CIR		7/30/14
Lucy Lee		6009 Andersen Road		7/30/11
Monika Domini		9509 UNDERWOOD		7/30
David Domini		9509 UNDERWOOD		7/30
Zoe Domini		Drzs Panama CA		7/30
Mario Navarro				7/30
Summers				7/30
Arnold Power				7/30
Megan Wagner		PB BOX 1525 Indio, CA		7/30
Monica Morales		82969 Santa Ana Dr. Newark CA 9472		7/30/2011
Ruben Milkine		229 535 INDIO, CA 92220		7/30
Brian Hamels		6510 NORD RD. GULF CO		7/30
Cassandra Meru		959 S. SOTO ST #40 95117 LACA 90023
Waverlyna Fied		1129 W. Cambridge Pl Atherton, CA
Lisa Hernandez		16014 KONTMERS ST LATHAM, CA 91744		7/30/11
Andrea Ortega		12435 Rustin St El Monte, CA 91733

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Claudia Cano		8161 Virginia Ave South Gate CA 90280		7/29/2011
TIM MOSSBARGER		12525 WALCROFT ST LAKEWOOD 90715		30 JUL 11
CONNIE MOSSBARGER		12525 WALCROFT ST LAKEWOOD 90715		30 JUL 11
Lia Andika		464 Lucas Ave LA 90017		30 JULY
Axel Caballero		345 5TH AVE VENICE, CA 90291		30 Sep 2011
ESS HERNANDEZ		1270 GARDEN AVE ST HELENA CA 94574		30 July 2011
Allison Dill		4486 Dogwood 90740		" "
William Flores		501 Archer St Anaheim CA 92801		7/30/11
Caroline O'Connor		1321 Pennsylvania Ave. Los Angeles, CA 90033		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Leage Dequade	Leage Dequade	532 Sam Ave, LaPorte WA		07/20/11
Bartlett Roseberry		1578 Annette Ave, Northridge 91306		07/20/11
Kathryn Rodriguez	Kathryn Rodriguez	PO Box 1280, Tucson AZ 85752		7/30/11
Nicholas Stone	Nicholas Stone	625 N. Vermont Ave 94103
Arilla Paris	Arilla Paris	5257 SML Blvd. LA 90038		7/30/11
Michael Thurman	Michael Thurman	740 Glen Street Northridge CA 91353		7/30/11
Mico Smith-Korze	M Smith-Korze	2530 Myrtle St Oakland 94607
David Corville	David Corville	828 W Washington Blvd WATFORD LA 70511	LA 70511
Laura Cambren	Laura Cambren	13532 LA FOREST ST		7/30/11
Karina Jimenez		1116 West 90057 LA, CA
Gustavo Calderon	Gustavo Calderon	907 W 48th CA 90057
Jonathan P. Wilson	Jonathan P. Wilson	52443 Jennifer way CA 90014
William Warfield	William Warfield	7400 E Golf Links Apt 160 Tucson AZ		7-30-11
Julian Rodriguez	Julian Rodriguez	1614 S Grand Street		7/30/11
Christy Archer	Christy Archer	45963 Burkhead Ct CA		30/12/11
Edmundo Perez	Edmundo Perez	41520 Rancho Navarro LN Rancho Conejo CA 91320

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

25

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Andrew Chang		4830 Minden Pl, Los Angeles		7/30/11
Christine Hoang		<sup>Cornell</sup> 63 Irvine CA	Don't need more development	7/30/11
Mike Martine		10345 Encen Branard Hills CA		7/30/11
Rosemary Candelario Pulido		1352 S Dunsmuir #2 <sup>LA</sup>	give them back the farm!	7/30/11
Juan C. Vargas		1140 Wilcox Pl. Los Angeles, CA 90038		7/30/11
JAYANE THOMPSON		611 28th St. So. Castle	ONE PEOPLE THEIR LAND	7/30/11
Hannah Keene		1029 Valley Crest Dr		7/30/11
Grace Gray		200 JEMERALD DR		7/30/11
BARBARA GERAN		33377 SHOCKLEY TRTR CAMPO CA 91906	every acre counts!	7-30-11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Yessica Lopez		8543 Calle Ined. P.O. Box 10240		7/30/11
Robert Gomez		" "		7/30/11
Marianna Shelton
Evan White		1270 Camino del Rey		7/30/11
Alexis Cooperman
Andres Trigueros				7/30/11
John Foster		4633 Viro Rd La Granda CA		7/30
Zane White		415 Ranchitos rd NW, 87068	Bosque Arbus
CAROLINE FERRERONE				7/30
NICOLE SEAL		489 CUMANE LHO SAN CARLOS		7/30
GRACIA VERA, M.T		123 N. Kingsley Dr. Unit 4 LA 90004 CA		7/30
Mrs McQuinn		414 W. Beaver Creek Blvd Avon, Co, 81602		7/30
HUMBERTO ROSALES		5616 VILAGRANDA ST.		7-30
Jesus Real		10948 Ridge Ave		7/30
Javier Davis		16119 N Los Rios Ave Pasadena		7/30
Jose Gonzalez		12636 Braden St Alheta		7/30

CA 91331

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
KAROL MURPHY		SPA Beach, CA		7/30/11
Denise Torres		9723 Kenen Ave Arleta Ca 91331		7/30/11
Jason Gonzalez		12636 Braker St Pasadena CA 91331		7/30/11
Chris Torres		9723 Kenen Ave Arleta, CA
Rudy Quintana		740 Linden Cir 91711		7/30/11
Jessica Quintana		CORONA, CA		7-30-11
JESUS QUINTANA		1704 Manitoba Cir CORONA, CA 92882		7/30/11
Brittany Escobar		6843 Matilija Ave Van Nuys CA 91405
Bryan Gelfound		-		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Andrew Austin	Andrew Austin			7/30/11
Michael Kauer	Michael Kauer			7/30/11
Patricia Douglas	Patricia Douglas			7/30/11
Victor Mora	Victor Mora			7/30/11
Kelany Hernandez	Kelany Hernandez			7/30/11
David Morales	David Morales			7/30/11
John Hernandez	John Hernandez			7/30/11
FRANCISCA	FRANCISCA			7/30/11
CERNA ROSAS	CERNA ROSAS			7/30/11
Ashley Valencia	Ashley Valencia			7/30/11
Eric Sauer	Eric Sauer			7/30/11
Arthur Gonzalez	Arthur Gonzalez			7/30/11
David Sanhin-Hernandez	David Sanhin-Hernandez			7/30/11
Hector Gomez	Hector Gomez			7/30/11
Derek Harris	Derek Harris			7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ryan Sandojas		at home Rock the 40 th St	Real Food Real Route	Now
Robert D Galvan		3492 Green Ave Los Alamitos, 90720		07/30
John Bagarin		6497 San Marcos Way Buena Park CA 90620		7/30
Gina Cimurushi		2614 E 29 St S.W. Bnd CA 92346 Highland
Karim Belms		7301 Columbia Drive		7/30
Kristian Garcia		8633 Walker Street Cypress, CA	We all need to eat	7/30
Mauro Sordal		6813 Stafford Ave H.P., CA 90255		7/30
Jennie Carrillo		6813 Stafford Ave H.P. CA 90255		7/30
Israel Campos		3423 1/2 Paloma St. Los Angeles CA 90011		7/30

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Miriam Alvarez-Farin		5056 San Julian Ave		7/30
Rubén Espinoza		3541 Jesuine Ave. Los Angeles, CA 90034		7/20
BALTAZAR HRO		3541 Jesuine Ave Los Angeles, CA 90034
Jennifer Estrella		4019 Birmingham Ave Bell CA 90011		7/30
Rosabel Muñoz		4247 Eugene St.		7/30
Israel Orosco		2220 Delvidos Ave. Azusa CA 91702		7/30
Frederic Fournier		Po Box 1724 Mendocello, CA 90063		7/30
Carlos Mojica		244 S Noble Ave		7/30
Teresa Martinez		7914 Harbor Islander		7/30
Martin Vallejo		11831 Skunk Rd Carmichael, CA 95638		7/30
Bryan Ramirez		12341 West St Cecilia, CA 90703		7/30
Stacy Browne		363 1/2 Main, LA 90034		7/30
Jeanette Reyna		9172 Beech St Rio Rivera CA 90660		7/30
ERIKAZAMORA		904 S Chester Ave Compton 90225		7/30
Daniel Alvarez		904 S Chester Ave Compton 90225		7/30
KARINA MONTEZ		100 Kumpquat Pl. Orange CA 92667		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ivana Castro		Downey CA 90242		7/29/11
Michael Avila		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
Diana Martinez		Downey CA 90242		7/29/11
Nathan Fong		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
Krisita Corrao		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
MARIA QUIROZ		WHITTIER, CA 90606 8525 ALBUQUERQUE SU.

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Emilie Yanez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Melissa Agis		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Crystal Herrera		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Paulina Gopez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Isabella Lopez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Jessica Sandoval		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Melissa Bassarelli		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Elsa D. Vazquez		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Jenny Jovel		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jar: Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
D.K RAJAPAKSE		2375 - W. Crescent Ave Anaheim Ca 92801		8/2/11
JOSE GIVAREZ		4725 MYRON ST PICO RIVERA CA 90660	PLEASE BRING IT BACK CITIZENS	8-2-11
DAN CARRALERO		3922 CAMELINO ST KIND CA 90712	Think "Green"	8-2-11
Andrew Coffee		11317 1/2 Mirada Blvd #4 Whittier, CA 90604		8-2-11
TONY LAMARCA		11266 MANANA TR MANANA VALLEY CA 92288	WE WANT A BIKE	8-2-11
Josie Bernal		7635 manzana ave Pico Rivera CA 90660	THINK "(Green)"	8-2-11
Quintiliano B. Montes		10136 Fallon Ave. Santa Fe Springs CA 90670		8/2/11
Catalina Zelaya		121517 Old River school Rd.	Neighborhood Resource	8/2/11
DEAN ENDO		14873 CARMENITA RD		8-2-11
Augustine M Diaz		7512 LINDSEY AVE PICO RIVERA CA 90666	HELP THE COMMUNITY!	8-2-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Lorena Roman		Galante Ave. 6245 N. Alameda Azusa, CA 91702		7/30/2011
Anne Hernandez		12728 Torch St Baldwin Park CA 91706	CA 91706	7/30/2011
Luis Guerra		60 E 9th St San Bernardino CA 92410		7/30/11
Miguel Ascencio		872 W 2nd St Pasadena CA 9176		7/30/11
Sandy Ruelas		839 1/2 W. 77th St. L.A. CA, 90044		7/30/2011
Alex Techevez		928 Sandpiper St West Covina 91791		7/30/11
Christian Villegas		3535 Uihelgard Ave. Baldwin Park CA		7/30/11
Alfred Navarrete		13614 Rexwood Ave Baldwin Park CA 91706		7/30/11
Ruben Barrera	Ruben Barrera	Boyle Heights		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Repro Lopez-Salas		681 Victoria St	☺ Good Luck!!!	7/30/11
SARAH HUERTA		2530 Hill St - LA 90255		7/30/11
Adam Casillas		1311 Haskell Ave	Power to the People	7/30/11
Wendy Letron		3215 W 110 St + Induswood	QBCO	9/30/11
Ingrid Mena		2510 West 113 Street Inglewood		9/30/11
Alexander		1354 S. 10th Place AZ Casa Grande AZ	WTF. more Food for de people	7/30/11
Nick Aydice		609 Anderson Rd Apt 259 Pasadena CA		7/30/11
Stephanie Casim		4111 Concast Smdrwy 92102	support local farmers	9/30/11
Fahnie Gurrissia		911 S. Fresno st LA 90033		7/30/11
Debra P. Day		1032 E Apricot Ave 93710 Fresno		7/30/11
Thon Day		" "		7/30/11
Dianne Prado		325 1/2 South Redondo Beach 90234		7/30/11
Clark Lewis		" "		7/30/11
Gizelle Morales		511 W. 115th St. L.A. CA 90049	lets do this	7/30/11
Ryan J. Cozart		7623 E. 91st Orem UT 84057	☺	7/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
BRENDA PENELOBBARD		El zapote Victoria EL Salvador	cocosi.dir@gmail.com	31 Julio 2011
Linnæa Capps		155 Underhill Ave Brooklyn, NY 11233		31/July/11
Jennifer Kasper		147 CHESTNUT AVE. UNIT #3 JAMAICA PLAIN, MA 02130		31/July/11
Sandra E. Parada		3611 W. 54TH ST LACA 90043		8/2/11
Celeste A. Gambon		3007 W. 5th ST Los Angeles, CA 90020		8/2/11
Maggie Vasquez		6347 Seville Ave apt A Huntington Park, CA 90255		8-2-11
TONY M. AVILA		1424 12th ST #E South CA Santa Monica 90401		8-2-11
LINDA PIERA-ÁVILA		1424 12TH ST. #E 90401 SANTA MONICA, CA.		8-2-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jessica Durum		1814 N. Normandie Ave Los Angeles, CA 90027		7/31/11
Jenny Abrams, MD		324 19 th Ave Seattle, WA 98122	rho.labrums@gmail.com	7/31/11
Alexandro Araya		1840 W. First St. 91754		7/31/11
Marina Diaz		7909 Abigail Pl. Los Angeles, CA 90046		7/31/11
Lenna Martynak		1237 24 th St #D Santa Monica, CA 90404		7/31/11
Claus Marcussen		1237 24 th St #D Santa Monica, CA 90404		7/31/11
Don Lassus		663 W 13 th St, Apt 5 San Pedro, CA 90731		7/31/11
Lisa Parson		701 Dancig Fwy CA 90032		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LAURA TURIANO	Laura Turiano	94602 3355 GUIDO ST OAKLAND CA		7/31/11
Rachel Kelley	Rachel Kelley	6152 S Kenton Way Englewood CO 80111		"
Ann Miller	Ann Miller	4310 Finley Ave #1 LA, CA 90027		7/31/11
AJANTHA ATTALURI	Ajantle	24 MURDOCK ST, # 2 BOSTON, MA 02135	GREAT WORK!	7/31/11
Linda Sharp	Linda Sharp	4437 Ambrose Ave #19 Los Angeles, CA	thank you!	7/31/11
Jose Quiroga	Jose Quiroga	19256 Gilmore Street Woodland Hills CA 91367		7/31/10
Anje Van Beckelaer	Anje Van Beckelaer	1342 C Oxford St Phila PA 19125		7/31/11
IRENE DOLAN	Irene Dolan	1007 S. JUANITA AVE TREDONDO BEACH CA 90277		7/31/2011
JYOTI PUVVULA	Jyoti Puvvula	LA Los Angeles, CA 90066		7/31/2011

JOPUVVULA@hotmail.com

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

9

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Caitlin Lassus, MD		663 W. 13 th St Apt. 5 San Pedro, CA		7/31/11
Sindalisa Hear		2750 Oregon Ave. Long Beach, CA 90806		7/31/11
Vanita Varma		3281 S. Sepulveda Blvd Los Angeles 90034
Monica Le		32 Bunside Ave Somerville MA 02144		7/31/11
Trisha Schimek		1000 Walnut St #105 Philadelphia, PA 19107		7/31/11
Sara Doorley		21st 20660 St St, Saratoga CA 95116		7/31/11
Irma Cruz Nava		Tehuantepec, Oax. Mex. CEPAFOS	cepafo@hotmail.com	7/31/11
Lily Walkover		1808 Bancroft Way Berkeley, CA 94713		"
Denise Zuhla		63 HOCHTINE ST JAMAICA PLAIN, MA 02130		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

9

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Joe Shortall		6568 Dashwood St Lakewood, CA 90713	Access to healthful food + green space is a human right!	7/31/11
Jonathan Kirsh MD		8 Blue Bottle Ln. Durham, NC 27705		7/31/11
Clyde Langford Smith		3544 Jerome Ave, RPSM BRONX, NY 10467	Greenspace, Lungs for Land & People!	31 July 2011
Cole Miller		4310 Finley Ave 1 Los Angeles, CA 90027	Greenspace + local Produce = Social good	7/31/11
Shirley Novak		2669 E. Genesee St Syracuse NY 13224		7-31-11
Sindalana Hlean		2245 7930 Hawthood Ave, Apt 207 Wauwatosa, WI 53213		7/31/11
E-JOHN LY		2414 S. Barrington Ave #209 Los Angeles, CA 90064		7/31/11
Ann Chirra		211 California Ave #305 Santa Monica, CA 90403		7/31/11
Grace Kim		383 Grand St #1602 NY, NY 10002		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Rick...	[Signature]	620 S. Locust Ave	8-11-11
...	[Signature]	1147 Marchmont	8-11-11
Oscar...	[Signature]	618 S. Locust Ave	8-11-11
Pedro...	[Signature]	1451 E. Vernon Ave Apt 7
...	[Signature]	1617 E 33 St
...	[Signature]	1617 E 33 St
...	[Signature]	533 W 119th
...	[Signature]	585 W 114th
Martini...	[Signature]	1749 W 41st 90062	8-11-11

25

Maria Diaz	Ojeda	820 W 112 ST YUCA
Alicia Ramirez	Alicia Ramirez	11-36 Adams 90011
Alfonso Perez	Alfonso Perez	520 77 ST LA 90044
Alejo serrano	Alejo serrano	1315 E 93rd ST / A 90001
Gladys moyola	Gladys moyola	1345 - E 83rd ST 90001
Esther Oliva	Esther Oliva	7870 California H.P. 90025
Kendy Oliva	Kendy Oliva	7872 California H.P. 90025
Mariano Lopez	Mariano Lopez	7873 California H.P. 90025
Rafael Pineda	Rafael	7545 E 93rd St
Adrian Lopez	Adrian	7545 E 93rd St
Blanca		7545 E 93rd St
Ruth	Ruth	7545 E 93rd St
Ernesto Wanda	Ernesto Wanda	1636 W 70th St
Ernesto Wanda	Ernesto Wanda	1636 W 70th St
Abel Navarro	Abel Navarro	843 12 98 St
Ernesto Wanda	Ernesto Wanda	843 1298 St

Rokhadasbgtotal.net

Summe

1636 W 70th St
LA 90047

1636 W 70th St
LA 90047

Ernesto Wanda

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
OSCAR MONCADA	Oscar Moncada	856 W. 42 nd St # 2 L.A. - CA 90037		7/30/11
Oscar Urutia	Oscar Urutia	1807 W. 36 th PL LA CA 9008		7/30/11
Keypat's Moroches	Keypat's Moroches	3532 S 8 th AVE LA		7/30/11
Jimm Rodriguez	Jimm Rodriguez	2901 COGWIN BL MONT CA		7/30/11
Jose Maradiaga	Jose Maradiaga	3534 S. 8 th AVE LA CA 90038		7/30/11
JOSE SANTILLANA	Jose Santillana	(323) 627-6482		7/30/11
Pedro A. Diaz	Pedro A. Diaz	(626) 319-8723		7-30-11
OSCAR CAMERON	Oscar Cameron	1388 38 ST		7.30.11
Jose A. Velasquez	Jose A. Velasquez	818-314-4602		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

1.8

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Nelson Lainez		4133 S. Compton 90011	KEEP YOUR PROMISE WE WANT THE SOCCER FIELD	7/30/11
Fabio Ocampo		3032 CONVERSE 90032	KEEP YOUR PROMISE WE WANT THE SOCCER FIELD	7/30/11
David Macariagos		39 ST WISCONSIN	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11
Rafael Duran		5310 S. Haver ST 90057	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11
Merrisa		3317 N. H. 90008	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	2/21/11
Jacqueline		7749 Regatta CA 91351	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7-30-11
Marvin Alvarez	Signature	9118 S. Avalon 90063	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11
Marvin Alvarez		9118 S. Avalon 90063	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11
Jessica		9118 S. Avalon 90063	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Todd Allen		Culver City, CA 90230 5376 Inglewood Blvd	Todd.Allen@CFR2.com EMAIL ME	7/31/2011
Ernesto Calderon		137 S. Laramie pk		7/31/11
Ernesto Calderon		990 Moraga Dr. 90049		7/31/11
Roderic Manroy		916 S. Manhattan Pl		7-31-11
Oscar Palma		916 S Manhattan Pl		7/31/11
Edvaras Valdez		180/2 S Manhattan Pl		7/31/11
Cesar Ernesto		14037 MORAGA AVE	MAY BEEN PROYECTO C:TRANSVIZION@yahoo.com	7/31/11
Ricardo Castro		807 1/2 E 25 ST	ECCLENTS PROYECTO	7/31/11
Lois Angel		2700 S San Rosas		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ramon Ruiz
Maria Ortega		1735 E 105 th St LACA	we want more parks	7/31/11
Patty Contreras		102 W 73 RD ST	we want more parks	7/31/11
Manuel Castro		12149 Eastbrook		7/31/11
Rene D Moral		8912 Steenbush ave		7/31-11
JAD		2922 S bolton		7/31-11
Carlos Romero		4323 HAMMOC ST.		07/31/11
Fernando H		323, 235-4967		07-31-11
ROBERTO CHAVEZ		(213) 309-85-91		07-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Denise Castanon		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		8/30/11
Marisol Anaya		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		8/30/11
Jessica		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/20/11
		4917 W 106th Ave LA CA 90024		7/30/11
Douglas		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/30/11
MVA Hurtado		1916 38th ST 90037		7/30/11
Esai Acavado		1702 E. 41st St. 90058		7/30/11
Eric Vasquez		1702 E. 41st LA, CA		8/2/11
Severino Romero

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jaime Valle		1518 E 41 st 50058		7-31-11
Yolanda Ara		1520 E 41 st 50058		7-31-11
Edwin Soto		LA, CA		7-31-11
HUGO TORRES		1510 41 st		7-31-11
Nelson Lopez		1510 41 st		7-31-11
NELSON		1510 41 st		7-31-11
Pedro Gonzalez		1510 41 st		7-31-11
ERIC MONTANA		LA, CA		7-31-11
Emiliano C		510 41 st		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Santana		1058 Commanore <sup>90058</sup>	we need the park	7/30/11
MARVIN DEL CERRO		COMPTON	WE NEED THE PARK	7/30/11
EMILIO TOBAR		COMPTON	WE NEED THE PARK	7/31/11
Hugo Ramos		Compton	we need the park	7/31/11
	José M. Vde	Los Angeles 90037	We need the park	7/31/11
	Luis	LA. CA		7-31-11
OSCAR ALFONSO		Los Angeles 90057	we need the park	7-31-11
Greg de Leon		2910 Colwood <sup>#301 9005</sup>	we need the park	7/31/11
Luis Avilov		8802 Graham N.V.	We need the park	7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Randy Gonzalez		3721 Warrist 90011 Mountain, CA		7/31
Byron Cassi		10150 Paulsen av. 91163		7/31
FRANK G.		301 S. VERMONT ST. CA		7/31
Jesus Hernandez	Jesus Hernandez	90606		7/31
VICTOR manuel	V m o c	90019 PICO BLV-L-A		7/31
Cesar Arce	Cesar Arce	LA CA		7/31
Jose Gonzalez	JOSÉ CLENVHITE	93535		7/31
Edwin Ninos		91605		7/31
Alvaro Barrios		LA CA		7/31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background.	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Cano		8009 S. 90097.		7/31
Hector DIAZ		1702 E. 41 CA 90038		7/31
	Franco	9195 Manhattan		7/31
Carlos Toledo		133 S. Lafayette Park.		7/31
KEVIN A. ...		9405. Manhattan PL		7/31
Ramon O.		2827. Norwood		7/31
Oswal		841. S. Gramercy		7/31
Merilyn		San Antonio		7/31
Gabriel		" "		7/31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Victor Hernandez		6622 W 94 ST		07-31-11
Luis S		6635 W 94 ST		7-31-11
Jose de la Cruz		2807 W 81 ST LA 90014		7-31-11
Michael de la Cruz		2809 W 81 ST 206 LA 90014		7/31/11
Teresa Gutierrez		2040 Magnolia Ave		7/31/11
Frank Clemente	Frank Clemente	Lancaster CA 93535		7/31/11
Demario Martinez		252 W 74 ST		7/31/11
Arnoldo Barrocas		9273 29 TR		7/21/12
Oscar Plata	Oscar Plata	1742 E 71 ST LA CA 90001		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ramiro Cevallos		1012 Clement St. # 2	WE NEED A LARGE GARDEN IN THIS SPACE	7/30/11
Nely Rodriguez		4178 Devo St #21, San Diego	Agreed ↑	7/30/11
JAIMES ALVARO		269 WESTERN AV. #504 1st	↑	7-30-11
Judith Garcia		1604 1/2 Scott Ave LA CA 90026		7-30-11
JESUS BUSTOS	J S B N	4116 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
MARCOS	C, D	4116 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
Miguel Hernandez	Miguel Hernandez	849 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
Jorge Reyes	Jorge Reyes	845 ASCOT. ave	LA 90011	7-30-11
Brenda Coceros	Brenda Coceros	849 Ascot Ave	LA 90011	7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
		1722 E 61ST		8/3/11
Orlando Funes		621 Romo		8/3/11
JORGE JUAREZ		1526 E 41 ST	323-234-4069	8-03-11
Yolanda Ruiz		1/	323 921 0451	8-03-11
JESUS ALcantara		1/	323 952 0452	8-03-11
MIRIAM OCHOA		1526 E 41ST	323 234 0771	8-3-11
Gerardo Garcia		1526 E 41ST		8-3-11
German		1526 E 41ST	323 283 7651	8-3-11
Alfredo Gomez		1307 E. 28th ST.	(323) 232-8577	8-3-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jaime ALVAREZ	[Signature]	734-84-PL-PH-1 <sup>LOS-ANGELES CA-90001</sup>	Keep your promise	8-3-2011
SALVADOR VALDIVIA	[Signature]	1545 E. 23 rd ST L.A. CA	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Salvador V. Jr	[Signature]	1545 E. 23 rd ST L.A. CA	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Ricardo Lucas	[Signature]	1348 E 41 st ST <sup>LOS ANGELES CA 90011</sup>	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Ricardo Lucas	[Signature]	1368 E 23 rd ST <sup>LOS ANGELES, CA 90011</sup>	Keep your promise	8-3-11
ROSE DUSAY	[Signature]	252 S. JOHNSON AVE	Rose -	8-3-11
Diego Rene	[Signature]	1944 HOOPEE AVE Los Angeles CA. 90011		8-3-11
OSCAR SORIO	[Signature]	1942 HOOPEE AVE	KYP	8-3-11
Jason SORIO	[Signature]	1942 Hooper AVE	Kyp	8-3-11

723
829
6021 →

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan	[Signature]	1308 <sup>55</sup>		8.3.11
Josefina Hdez	[Signature]	1330 1/2 41 Pl		8.3.
Bryan Acib	[Signature]	1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
Joselyn Lemus	[Signature]	1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
Mike Lemus	[Signature]	1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
Mario Hernandez	[Signature]	4110 Asbot Ave L.A. Anabol	Keep your promise!	8.3
Martin GOR	[Signature]	1407 12 E Pl	Keep your promise!	8.3
Miguel	[Signature]	1261 E 25 - ST	Keep your promise!	8.3
Miguel	[Signature]	521. Hooper - VA	Keep your promise!	8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Misael Calenda		4171 E wad laan		7/31/11
Jesús S. Conio		1041 Morgan Ave		7/31/11
EDDY Pineda		3520 Inglewood Ca	Keep your promise
Alejandro DeLaCruz		501 E 49th St	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Hugo Solis		8632 Bandera St LA	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Carlos Florian		1666 41 St LA.	" " "	8.3.11
MARION Chavez		1534 E 22nd St LA	Keep your promise	8-3-11
BRAD MINTZ		2907 S GRIFFITH	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	8-3-11
Mauro Ruiz		230 1/2 E. 82nd PL 90063	Keep your promise	8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MARY Hampton		1445 E. 41 st pl L.A. CA		7/31/11
Howard Sandra		41061 Dorsey St LA	We Need A Football Park Field	7/31/11
Julia MARTINEZ			Soccer field a park	7/31/11
Martin Martinez		8415 th pl L.A. CA		7/31/11
Brenda Martina		1601 E 41 st PL L.A. CA		7-31-11
Maria Cervantes		2818 1/2 E 2nd St	Keep your promise!!!	8/3/11
DeLira Rosales		2818 1/2 E 2nd St	Keep your Promise	8/17/11
Wendy U		2818 E 2d St	Keep your promise	8/17/11
Fernando Aul		2835 1/2 E 3 rd St 90011	Keep your promise	8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Carlos		5050 S. W. 117th		7/31/11
Rogelio Perez		2408 W. Bullis Rd.		7/31/11
Luis & Nancy		1973 AVE H 105		7/31/11
Carlos Rodas		1043 S. Exdmore Av. #203		7/31/11
Cordero Avila		52466 Hollywood		7/21/11
ARMANDO MONRAJ		447 E. 111TH ST. LA.		7/31/11
Luis Palacios		4417 S. Budlong LA		7/31/11
Domingo MURAZ		22772 Broadway		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Arnulfo Aguirre	[Signature]	1745 E 34 St		8.3
Oswaldo Valencia	[Signature]	1702 E 41 St		8.3
Eduardo Samaniego	[Signature]	1702 E 41 St		8.3
Elsa Hernandez	[Signature]	1354 41 E St Pl		8.3
Leticia Dennis	[Signature]	1857 - 41 E Pl		8.3
Rytanya Woods	[Signature]	1605 E 41 Pl		8.3
MARGARITA CAECIA	[Signature]	905 E 210 Pl Pl	905 St	8.3
Jessica Medina	[Signature]	1194 1/2 W 45 St	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Maria E Gonzalez	[Signature]	1203 Holmes Ave

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Marra E. Clemente		1702 E. 41 st L.A. CA 90058		07-31-2011
Karen Mendez		9636 Truba Ave 90280		8-3-11
Jose B. Pineda		3002 S. Las Sabilas Av 90018		8-3/11
Yera Chato		9636 Truba Av 90280		8-3/11
Mervos Ramirez		1143 E 25 th St Los Angeles	Agood/keep your promise	8.3.11
Eduardo Dominguez		1143 E. 25 th St	for the youth	8.3
	Eduardo			8.3
	Osvaldo	1119 E. 41 st		8/03/11
Luis Angel Rios		2709 S San Pedro		8/03/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Angel Juarez	Angel Juarez	1330 E 41 st Pl		8.3.11
Luis Almonte	Luis Almonte	1330 E 41 st Pl		8.3
Ernesto Leon	Ernesto Leon	9401 s normandie	Don't break promises!	8.3
Juan Cruz	Juan Cruz	4213 Naomi		8.3
Carl Gonzalez	Carl Gonzalez	338A melgar	I'll be there	8.3.11
Juan Leon	Juan	1055 us 90 th Vermont	N/A	8.3.11
Lizette Hernandez	Lizette Hernandez	168 E 43rd Pl.	Don't break promises	8.3.11
monrice Johnson	monrice Johnson	4212 Naomi	N/A	8.3.11
Destiny Lara	Destiny Lara	9804 Navarrodale Ave	Please make it	8.3.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ed Hernandez	Ed Hernandez	1622 E 1/2 33 rd St		8-3-11
Erick Gonzalez	Erick Gonzalez	1545 E 1/2 42nd St		8-3-11
Alejandro Salame	Alejandro Salame	1622 E 1/2 33rd St		8/3
Antonio Hernandez	Antonio Hernandez	1541 E 42nd St.		8/3/11
Yolanda Sanchez	Yolanda Sanchez	1219 1/4 E 45 St		8/3/11
Toch Melon Jr	Toch Melon Jr	1220 E 42 St		8/3/11
Teofilo	Teofilo	1331 - E 42 ST		8/3/11
Jose	Jose	(323) 2-33-7172		8-3
Oscar	Oscar	(323) 252-5937	GOOD!!	8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Mendoza		918 E.M.L King Blvd		8/3
OMAR GARCIA		919 E. 40TH PL.		8/3
Stephanie Alfaro		328 E 42nd St.		8/3
JOSE ESPINOSA		918 E.M.L King Blvd		8/3
Diego Garcia		159 W 111th St		8/3
Maniel Torres		211 W. 52nd St.		8/3
Bryan Ramos		1055 Stone St		8/3
FERNANDO V	FERNANDO V	159 W. 111 ST		8/3
Udon Garcia		919 E 40 TH PL		8/3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Ortiz	[Signature]	4214 Compton av	we want a park	8/3/11
Jose Ponce	[Signature]	4156 S Compton Ave	We want Park, soccer field	8/3/11
Jesus Ponce	[Signature]	4156 - Compton Ave	we want soccer field	8/3/11
Jordan Ortiz	JORDAN ORTIZ	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8/3/11
ISABEL GARCIA	[Signature]	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8/3/11
Ramiro Padilla	[Signature]	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8.3
Kimberly	[Signature]	980 E 41st		8.3
Francisco Carbajal	[Signature]	4214 Normandie Los Angeles		8.3
Emanuel Carbajal	[Signature]	9719 Normandie Los Angeles		8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Presbyterian		7744 W 51st St Los Angeles	Green field	8.3.11
Kestel Anicia		2450 Fireshire Blvd SA		8.3
Oscar Giron		10316 McKinley ave		8.3
Omar Giron		919 E 40th Pl	SOUTH	8.3
Maria	Galvan	1620 E MLKing Blvd	LA needs a GARDEN.	8.3
Laura	Galvan	1620 E Martin Luther King	My Dad had a garden there	8.3
Joanne	Lara	1620 E Martin Luther King	Had a garden there	8.3
Javier	Luna	1620 E M. L. K	FIGHT ON	8.3
Melody	Melody	4325 Lima st	fight on	8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
PARRICK		1620 1/2	I am willing to	8/3/11
Nathaly Maldonado		1442 E 22nd St		8-3-11
Melissa Maldonado				8-3-11
Samantha		1442 E 22nd St		8-3-11
Regelio		1175 E 46th	blackmetalist92@yahoo	8-3-11
Aysha		1547 E MLK blv		8-3-11
Christina		479 Park Front Walk		8-3-11
Joanna
Nidia C.		54th & Fig.		8/3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

18

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Marco Secora		4344 WALTON AVE		7/31/11
Fernando Garcia		5300 S. 7th 90043		7-31-2011
Jose Caniz		3248 HIRST PL		7-31-2011
Jose Pineda		323 354-5947		7.31.11
Jose Andrade		323/326-3329		7.31.11
Edgardo Roldan		323 212-7496		7.31.11
Ricardo Rivera		203) 249-1386		7/31/11
Rigoberto		12827 Clovis Ave LA		7.31.11
Fernando enro		(213) 245-9125		7.31.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Julio Perez		1256 Bromwing Blvd		7-31-11
Edgar Acosta		3448 west Blvd		7-31-11
Edwin Pajardo		1431 E. Vernon Ave		7-31-11
Eduardo Rana		1618 E 27th St <sup>LA</sup>		7-26-11
R. D. Alvarez		LA, CA		7-31-11
Miguel Martinez		1256 Bromwing Blvd		7-31-11
Justin Jiscan		2611 Pomroy Ave.		7-31-11
Leo Ortiz		N/A		7-31-11
William Chavez		4344 WALTON AV		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Allen Rivera		LA, CA		7.31.11
Andy Rivera		LA, CA		7.31.11
Jeffrey Rivera		LA, CA		7.31.11
GERMAN RIVERA		1563 E 46th St.		7.31.11
PRECILIANO GALEANA		1389 1/2 VERNON		7.31
JULIO		3475 1045		7.31
PEDRO		90 - VERNON 1030		7.31
SANTIAGO		LA, CA		7.31
E. Iberto		LA, CA		7.31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
ALFONSO SUAREZ		437 Gayley Ave LA, CA 90024		8/3/11
Julia Perez		96185 Agn Ave Temple AZ 85284		8/3/11
Daniel Muñoz		3926 Olive St CA 90255	Huntington Park dannerstar@yahoo.com	8/3/11
Luis Rosales	Luis Rosales A	3926 Olive St. H.P. CA 90255	alera@Farad@yahoo.com	8/3/11
Kenny Quiroz		1222 W. Howard Ave		8/7/11
Indira Agarta		172 W. Rose Ave		8/3/11
Rita Pieser		5021 Sierra Way W. CA 91362		8/3/11
ROSA MARTINEZ		1628 E. M. King		8/3/11
Jesse Hernandez		1025 E 42nd St LA CA 90011		8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MELVIN HANSON	Melvin Hanson	1249 E Coast	Let's keep it open in LA	8.3.11
Noel Lopez	Noel Lopez	7800 Peachtree	Keep the Park	"
Joseph Dutton	Joseph Dutton	1314 E 33rd		"
SHANNON SMITH	Shannon Smith	974 E. 48th		"
Jose Zuniga	Jose Zuniga	11602 E. 47th St.		"
Rodolfo Zuniga	Rodolfo Zuniga	11602 E. 47th St		"
Francisco Delgado	Francisco Delgado	1531 E 41 PL		"
Christian Echeverria	Christian Echeverria	2918 E 29 St		"
ANGELICA ALVAROZ	Angelica Alvaroz	1571 E M.L. KING BLVD		9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ana Pineda		16634 Mariposa St North Hills		8/3
Sally Gadi		74 Allston Way San Francisco, CA 94127		Aug 3, 2011
JARVIS GIBSON		5106 SERRA LOMA Chumbly 90230		8/3/11
Julio Mata		845 W 112 nd St LA CA 90044		8/3/2011
Angela Rodriguez		110 S Waterbury Ave 91722 Covina		8/3/11
Roberta Martinez		1708 Nalworth Ave		8/3/11
Marin Elena Chavez		9814 Calmado Ave Whittier CA		8/3/11
Fabrizio Rodriguez		9814 Calmado Ave Whittier 90605		8/3/11
Nicholas Santillan		5943 Carlton Way 90029		8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

LINZ

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Michael Kuehnert		3985 Maple St #52	4900-66	8/3/11
Jasmin Kuehnert		↓ ↓ ↓	↓	8/3/11
BRENDA ALVAREZ		2737 W 15 th ST LA 90006		8/3/11
ROCIO MARTINEZ		same as above		8/3/11
LINDSEY BIXLER		11911 MAGNOLIA BLVD	VILLE VALLEY	LINZBIX@GMAIL 8/3/11
Devon Holloway		11911 MAGNOLIA BLVD		8/3/11
Stephanie Larson		7411 Rancho Street		8/3/11
Patricia Placencia		1010 N. Central Ave		8/3/11
Heather Placencia		↓ ↓ Phx AZ 85112		8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Eduardo R.		1526 E 41st St - LA 90011		9-8-11
ADRIANA G.		ADRIANA GONZALEZ 1526 E 41ST LA 90011		08-02-11
Jonathan Gutierrez		1526 E 41st LA 90011		8-2-11
Teodoro Garcia		5821 SHULL ST - B.G. CA 90208		08-02-11
Jose M. Torres		2926 Glenn Ave.		08-2-11
R. Flores		424 S Wilmington Ave 90057		8-2-11
J. M. M.		3557 MAYWOOD		8-3-11
Carmelita Rosales		338 S VERNON AVE Los Angeles CA 90011		8-3-11
Javier		3547 BRENTON AVE ATD # C		8-3-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

17

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
P
Netipacuri	Netipacuri	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Alex Flores	Alexandra Flores	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
May Bannulas	May Bannulas	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Ramona Alarza	Ramona Alarza	37 LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
NONIA MacGilligan	Nonia MacGilligan	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
CRISTINA TACATA	Cristina Tacata	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Ingrid Mares	Ingrid Mares	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Rebeca Oliveira	Rebeca Oliveira	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ricardo Grijalva		221 E. Wimmer St		7-30-11
Selena Terrazos		" " "		7-30-11
Janet Velazquez		1576 W 19 th St		7-30-11
Ricardo Molinet		1455 W. 29 th St. Los Angeles, CA 90007		7-30-11
Chris Silvas		335 San Francisco Ave Pasadena 91767		7/30/11
HERI PEREZ		323-503-8168		7.30.11
Marco Martinez		(565) 628-6945		7.30.11
TERESA ZARAGOZA		1153 TANGELL ST NORWALK, CA 90650		7-30-11
SELENA ROSALEZ	Selena Rosalez	CA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Comina Rosales		LA, CA		7.30.11
Patricia Acosta		1359 E Bennett St Compton, CA 90221		7.30.11
Tenoch Martinez		LA, CA		7.30.11
Elsa Acosta		COMPTON 1359 E BENNETT ST.		7.30.11
Amaris Holguin		LA, CA		7.30.11
Christina N.		253 E Lake St MAY		7.30.11
Ema		LA, CA		7.30.11
Cruz Flores		3770 Farnsworth Ave		7.30.11
		LA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Tachhi R. Navra		LA, CA		7.30.11
Dolores Bilbao		LA, CA		7.30.11
Jagel Dominguez		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Cesha Dominguez		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Justina Mejia		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Maria Gaspar		1676 W 25th St		7.30.11
Yiomara Moya	Yiomara Moya	40 W. Coco Ave		7.30.11
E. Elizabeth		253 E Baker St		7.30.11
Sergio Peres		LA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Janet Walle		Azusa, CA 91792 540 N. Barbara Ave.		7/30/11
Ruben Macias		540 N. Barbara Ave. Azusa, CA 91792		7/30/11
Maria Sinson		13535 Eckford St La Puente Ca. 91746		7.30.11
Josefina Navarro		13535 Eckford St La Puente Ca. 91746		7.30.11
Jose Sinson		13535 Eckford St La Puente CA. 91746		7.30.11
Eduardo Bote		5749 Arroyo Dr LA CA 90042		7.30.11
Diana Teller		2939 Gneiss Ave. Downey, CA 90242		7/30/11
SIDRO NUNEZ		4716 Fisher Street Los Angeles CA 90032		7/30/11
Ixchel		222 south ave 64		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
GEO S. Ruem		1121 MEDUSA AVE LA PUENTE, CA 91754		7/30/11
Freddie Mercado		6596 Sanderson Dr Riverside, CA		7/30/11
Luis Cuachumbi		234 N. Rio bravo Rio Rico, AZ		7/30/11
Tijlter Medina		121 E. 67th St. Long Beach, CA 90805		7/30/11
John Flores		146 N. Gage Ave LA CA 90003		7/30/11
Edgar Flores		14203 Hedden Ave Compton CA		7.30.11
Willy Leon		117 W. Elm St. T-401 AZ		7/30/11
Michael Leon		117 W. Elm St. T-401 AZ		7.30.11
Wendy Lopez		1000 E. JOTA St.		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

57

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
CARLOS ROSAS		316 N. AVE 44 ARTHE LA CA 90042		7-30-11
Andrea Rojas		1023 W 57 th St CA LOS ANGELES 90044		7-30-11
Guilhermina Sierra		9323 Anzac Ave L.A. Ca 90002		7-30-11
Clotia Mondragon		1331 E 22 nd St 90011 LA		7-30-11
LINDA CHACON		826 S. MARGUERITA AVE ALHAMBRA CA 91803	Linda Chacon	7/30/11
Francisco Castro		9210 Pacific		7/30/11
Fatima Am		301 N. Waver Ave		7/30/11
Maria Guzman		1136 Mitony Ave		7/30/11
WENDY ESCOBAR				7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Anna Lopez		1215 E. 35 St		7.30.11
Juan Carlos P.		920 S. Hobart St		7.30.11
Marta Maria Molina		420 - 1 - 1 - 1		7.30.11
Bunretab		9010 S. Main St		7.30.11
Alex		9010 S. Main St		7.30.11
Dries M.		422 Kenmore Ave LACA		7.30.11
Edgardo masana		1779 W 35th St LACA		7.30.11
Silvia Duran		3507 Morgan Ave. LA		7.30.11
				E

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

17

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
				31/7/11
		LA, CA		7/31/2011
Rocio Hernandez		LA, CA		7/31/11
Juan		CA, CA		7/31/2011
José Holina		LA, CA		7/31/2011
Edith Arzate		LA, CA		7/31/11
Blanca Andrade		LA, CA		7.31.11
Jorge Ruelas		LA, CA		7.31.11
Fabi Rangel		LA, CA		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
FRANCISCO BOUTIENDES		1526 E 41 ST		31/7/11
CARMEN MOY		1525 41 ST		31/7/11
ROBERTO				7.31.11
ROSALBA LUNA		1524 North W. Parker		7/31/11
MARIA BARRON		LOS ANGELES	we want green space	7/31/11
JOSE JUANES		LA, CA		7.31.11
WALTER CORTES		LA, CA		7.31.11
ERICA GUY		Los Angeles		7.31.11
GLORIA VARGAS		1560 E. W. L. K.	green space	7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Delgado		1531 E 41st PL # 3 90011		7-30-11
Evelia Hernandez		1831 E 41st Pl # 3 90011		7/30/11
Leticia Arriaga		4070 1/2 S. San Pedro St 90011		7/30/11
Osmir Albato		1120 1/2 E 28th St L.A. CAL 90011		07/30/11
Julio Cervantes		2431 CUDWY ST H.P. CA 90255		7-30-11
Martin Hernandez		1831 E 41st Pl # 2 90058		7-30-11
Ma. Elena G.	M E G.	1434 1/2 E 46th St 90011		7-30-11
Raul L.				7-30-11
Carlo Lh				7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Baltazar Ayala		1411 Euclid ST RM		07-30-11
Krizza Ayala		1937 1/2 17th St SM		7.30.11
Paula Solis		2007 E Aroma Drive		7/30/11
LUCAS DE LA TORRE		9714 Exposition Blvd Apt 6 Los Angeles CA 90034	Don't Do it!!!	7/30/11
PAOLA IVETTE ZAVALA		9714 EXPOSITION BLVD APT 6 LOS ANGELES CA 90034	Don't build on green	7/30/11
Gabriel Zapata		12217 Pacific Ave LA CA 90036	Tra hui!	7/30/11
Josie Navarro		1439 N. Indiana ST #457	Don't build on green	7/30/11
Melena Mejia		607 Calle Conquistador Apt 9 SE	Don't Do it!	7/30/11
PANLO SOLIS		1216 S 2ND ST, ALHAMBRA 91801		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Rafael Escobar		1375 Garvey Ave		7/30/11
Marcus Parker		Yunon ca 1875 E Garvey Ave Yunon CA 91714		7/30/11
Cabinda Rietz		285 S. Fincroft St West Covina CA 91791		7/30/11
Luis Herrera		2637 W Monte Carlo Santa Ana CA 92706		7/30/11
Oscar Olavisa		kenada_970@hotmail.com		7/30/11
Janet Mendez		1822 E. Palmyra Ave Orange, CA 92866		7/30/11
Carlos G		tesca@att.net.com		7/30/11
Yahir Fernandez		2637 W Monte Carlo Santa Ana CA 92706		7/30/11
Ana Sanchez		342 N. Bayle Ave LA CA 91133		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Manuel Lopez		1521 Helen Ave Los Angeles		7/30/11
David Lopez				7/30/11
ICAR NAVARRO		AZUSA CA. 5502 N. ASPEN AVE		7/30/11
Patricia Rivas		Quarteira Ca. 3629 W. Serrano St 201		7/30/11
Victoria B. Bouslog		1557 Montecito 2n		7/30/11
Ricardo Alvarez		UN		7/30/11
Emi Almanza		UN		7/30/11
Sajana Villal		UN		7/30/11
Jennifer Roman		4309 Alpha St. LA		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

17

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Anreha Roman		2832 Lincoln St		7/30/11
Cris Lopez		2807 Alameda		7/30/11
Hector Pineda		2528 Howard St, LA, CA 90031		7/30/11
Joselyne		12411 Channing Ave, West		7/30/11
Andrzej		4924 Alameda		7/30/11
Abraham Avelar		2901 Curtis Ave Alhambra		7/30/11
SERGIO AVELAR		222 E REEVE ST COMPTON		7/30/11
MARIA Avelar		222 E REEVE ST COMPTON		7/30/11
Guadalupe A.		222 E REEVE ST COMPTON		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Kimberly Corda	Kimberly Corda	1030 S. Lowman Ave LOS ANGELES CA 90023		7/30/11
SANTOS RODRIGUEZ	Rodriguez	544 W 99th St LOS ANGELES, 90044		7-30-11
Edgar Anzures	Edgar Anzures	2602 Morced Ave El Monte ca 91733		7-30-11
MARLYN CHAS	Marlyn Chas	1696 WRIGHT ST. POMONA CA		7-30-11
Daniel Simpson	Daniel Simpson	225 N. Boylston St LA CA 90012		7-30-11
Albert Girou	Albert Girou	225 N. Boylston St		7-2
NETA GASHOGI	Neta Gashogi	2233 Whittier Blvd. L.A. CA 90073	GREEN OPEN SPACES YES FARM YES	7/30/11
Chaudia Gately	Chaudia Gately	355 N Avenue 52 LOS ANGELES CA-90042		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LUIS FARCIA		385 1418		7-30-11
Cynthia Perez		4015 W 130th St CA 90245		7/30/11
Claudia Silva		712 E. 27th St. 90011		7-30-11
Betty Nivarez		8412 Rivas Ave Dan 90240		7-30-11
Ulises Sarmiento		14623 Ohio St Baldwin Park CA 91706		7-30-11
Victoria Palma		7000 Haveline Ave		7-30-11
Ruben Palma		"		7.30.11
Kimberly Simon		13525 Eckman St La Duarte CA 91746		7-30-11
ALICIA V. MACIAS RUBEN R. MACIAS	 	3232 Mangum St Baldwin Park, Ca	Promises should be kept if we believe in giving to our community.	7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Edoardo Gomez		520 S. ACDEW COMPTON	to make change on this they need more funds	7/30/11
Teofil Gaitan		2333 North St. Ventura		7/30/11
Serrano Leballus		115 (west) 1st Apt 4 Santa Ana		7-30-11
Donna Rodriguez		1629 9th Ave Delano	93205	7/30/11
Raul Hernandez		9878 Woodlawn Ave Arleta, CA 91331		7/30/11
David Hernandez		912 S. Orange Ave Santa Ana, CA 92701		7/30/11
Juan Garcia		pobox 41751 Panorama 91412		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Cristina Borocua		222 S. Ave. 64 LA CA 90042		7/30/11
* Francisco Castillo		800 E 43rd St LA CA 90011		7/30/11
Valeria Martinez		4914 NAVARRO ST. LA CA - 90037		7/30/11
Jasmine S		81610 Millrose Pt APT # A12 Sunland, CA 91060		7/30/11
Madeline E				7/30/11
Maria M		4617 Country Club Dr PT # 116		7/30/11
Eva Arteaga		540 S Ferris Avenue L-A CA- 90022		7/30/11
Adolfo Arteaga		540 S. Ferris Ave LA CA 90022		7/30/11
Taranvin Arteaga		540 S. Ferris Ave LA CA, 90022		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LARRY ELANKS		1855 W. 87 st <sup>90047</sup> #5 L.A.	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7.30.11
José Alfaro		5132 Live oak st <sup>90255</sup> L.A.	Keep your Promise	7.30.11
EFRAIN MONTEROZA		1132 S KEEN AVE. L.A. CA <sup>90033</sup>	your promise	7/30/11
MARCO VARGAS		4712 ELIZABETH ST. <sup>90255</sup>	Antinon park cap	7.30.11
Alberto pascual		1508 E 51 st L.A. CA <sup>90011</sup>	Keep you promise	7.30.11
JOE		367 24 th ST L.A. CA <sup>90067</sup>	Keep Promise	7.30.11
SILVIA		252 E 59 th PL <sup>90003</sup>	Keep your promise	7.30.11
CHRISTIAN A.		5732 Fountain AV. <sup>90028</sup>	Keep your promises	7.30.11
VICTOR ORILLANA		4160 Dorset <sup>90011</sup>	Keep you promise	7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Orrellana	Juan Orrellana	4160 Jersey St. <sup>90011</sup>	Keep your promise	7-30-11
Raymond Lopez	Raymond Lopez	4311 1/2 Crocker St. <sup>90011</sup>	Keep your promise	7-30-11
Gloria CARD	Gloria CARD	6414 10 Ave. LA <sup>90013</sup>	Keep soccer alive	7/30/11
keel Ro	keel Ro	5036 <sup>90043</sup>	Loop	7/3/11
MARTIN PASTOR	M. Pastor	465 EAST 43 rd St <sup>LA 90011</sup>		7/30/11
CHARLES HOGAN	Charles Hogan	516 W 109 th St LA CA <sup>90044</sup>	KEEP PROMISE	7/30/11
Carlos Mendez	Carlos Mendez	4301 W 159 St <sup>90260</sup>	Good.	7/30/11
TERRANCE EUSHER	T. Eusher	45041 CORNIEZ LA.	Loop	7-30/11
LISTON TABON	Liston Tabon	1164 N. VAN Ness AVE. LA <sup>90038</sup>	Need more soccer field	7/30/11

below

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jerome Anderson	Jerome Anderson	419 W 10 AUG 90015	Keep your promises	7-30-11
Matilde Colon	Matilde Colon	626-E-75 st		7-30-11
Ana Moreno	Ana Moreno	1625 E 41 PL LA 90011	Soccer field	7-30-11
E. Herrio	E. Herrio	421 ISABE ST 90065		7/30/11
Pedro Ayala	Pedro Ayala	2298 Wilkie Dr. 90011	we want the soccer field	7/30/11
Lourdes P.	Lourdes P.	3617 5th and Wilshire 90016	Soccer	7/30/11
Nelson T	Nelson T		SOCCER	7/30/11
Byron H	Byron H	3115 S. La Salle Av. 90018	Soccer	7/30/11
Aneri M.	Aneri M.			7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Diego Dubon		2222 Barbouy Ct. <sup>90731</sup> San Pedro		7.30.11
Javier Dubon		2222 Barbouy Ct. <sup>90731</sup> S. Pedro		7.30.11
Arel Corona		1276 E 33 TH ST 90011		7.30.11
Patricio Sebastian		2 LA CA		7.30.11
Francisco		4418 S WITON PL. <sup>90062</sup>		7.30.11
Juan Torres		206 E 82 ST LA CA <sup>90063</sup>		7.30.11
Jose Ramirez		3407 N ARIAMI AVE <sup>91041</sup>		7.30.11
Alma Avila	Alma Avila	1421 E 56 th ST LA CA 90011		7.30.11
Beatriz Ejera	Beatriz Ejera	444 E W 90 th LA CA 90000		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
coach* Frida Espinosa		447 w 90th, 90003		7.30.11
Daniel		947 33 St. 90011		7.30.11
Silverio		11417 1/2 Berendo Ave 90044		7.30.11
Josmin Delgado		11417 1/2 Berendo Ave 90044		7.30.11
Marta		122 E 91 St L.A. 90003		7.30.11
Leonora		3714 Columbus Blvd #11 91202		7.30.11
Roy Fajardo		1431 E. Vernon Ave #7 90011		7.30.11
Edgardo		631 W. 28 St. L.A. 90007		7.30.11
Guillermo Burro		17005 Chedron Ave		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Vasquez	Jose Vasquez	841 W 112 ST 90044		7.30.11
Marta Vasquez	M. Vasquez	228 W. 82nd St. 90305		7.30.11
Juliana Vasquez	Juliana Vasquez	228 W 82nd St 90305		7.30.11
ROBERTO HERNAN	[Signature]	5854 2 ND AVE 90043 @008		7.30.11
Jesus Ramirez	[Signature]	227 E. 30TH ST 90011		7.30.11
ELENA RAMIREZ	Elena Ramirez	445 E. 99th St 90003		7.30.11
Adriana Moreno	Adriana Moreno	726 E. 97th St. 90301		7.30.11
Maria Mata	Maria Mata	LA, CA		7.30.11
Maria Torres	Ma del Carmen Torres	620 E 88th St / LA Cal 90002		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Gricely Duarte	Gricely Duarte	3416 E. 59th Pl LOS ANGELES CA <sup>90003</sup>		7/30/11
FRANK PEÑA	Frank Peña	826 W 70th St LA CA		7.30.11
Claudia Lopez	Claudia L	618 W. 74th St. LA CA. <sup>90044</sup>		7.30.11
Rosa Lopez	Rosa Lopez	618 W 74th St LA CA <sup>90044</sup>		7.30.11
Fernando Lopez	Fernando Lopez	620 W 74th St LA CA <sup>90044</sup>		7.30.11
Dashly Volve	Dashly Volve	347 E. 59th Pl LA <sup>90003</sup>		7.30.11
Tracey Garcia Valle	Tracey Valle	347 E 59th Pl LA <sup>90003</sup>		7.30.11
Jose B Montiel	Jose B Montiel	1602 E. 32nd St. LA <sup>90011</sup>		7.30.11
Jose Montiel	Jose Montiel	1602 E. 32nd St LA <sup>90011</sup>		7.30.11

kinetic

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

7B

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Miguel Moreno	MM	4512 S Figueroa	90037	7.30.11
Agustina de las		902 1/2 E 27th St LACal		7.30.11
Lozoro Mendez		2108 S. MAPLE AVE.	90011	7.30.11
Artemio	FRANCISCO	LA, CA		7.30.11
Eulalia	mate	351 W 46 St	90037	7.30.11
Melissa Ch	Chelie Ch.	1149 E. 57th St.	90255	7.30.11
Guadalupe Ch.	Guadalupe	1149 E. 57th St.	90255	7.30.11
Sonia Leon		1149 E 57th St	90255	7.30.11
Maria Betancourt	Maria	1149 E 57th St.	90255	7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
ANTONIO C.	[Signature]	707 E. 40TH PL	NESESITAMOS <sup>NAS</sup> CAMPOS	7/30/11
Silvia P	[Signature]	4420 Stanton Av.	"	7/30/11
Roberto Cn	[Signature]			7/30/11
Raul	[Signature]	2107 ST L.A		7-30-11
Raul Lopez	[Signature]	1434 1/2 E. 46TH ST L.A	90011	7.30.11
Suana Flores	[Signature]	1441 E 46 ST L.A	90011	7/30/11
JUAN MARTINEZ	[Signature]	9706 BEACH		7/30/11
David Baye	[Signature]	7110 HPCA 90255		7/30-11
Morcos	[Signature]	416 41 street 90011		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Liliana Bahena	Liliana Bahena	1615 E 32 nd St LA CA 90001	bahenamilian@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Margarita Ponce	Margarita Ponce	1035 W 163 rd St Gardena		8/9/11
Julie Medina	Julie Medina	9422 S Budlong Ave.	Julie Medina	8/9/11
Ely Acervado	Ely Acervado	935 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Anna Acervado	Anna Acervado	935 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Jessica Flores	Jessica Flores	931 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Daisy Flores	Daisy Flores	931 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Janeth Amezcua	Janeth Amezcua	1111 W 58 th		11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Julio Franco		705 E Vernon LA CA 90021		8/9/11
Jose Moran		3076 Lynwood Rd, Lynwood CA 90262		8/9/11
Jasmin Nava		5123 1/2 S San Pedro, Los Angeles CA 90081		8/9/11
Luis Nava		273 E 9th St Los Angeles CA 90001		8/9/11
Jose Ledesma		3029 E ST L Los Angeles CA 90003		8/9/11
Edgar Sandoval		1127 E Adams Blvd Los Angeles, CA, 90001		8/9/11
Miguel Cortez		5842 Bon Solillo L.A. CA 90044		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Mari Sandra	Sandra
Madelina	[Signature]	4200 42nd Street		8-9/11
Jesus Soto	[Signature]	3309 Morgan Ave		8/9/11
Leonardo T. Soto	[Signature]	4601 Compton Ave		"
Rosa Jimenez	[Signature]	6330 Arlington		8/9/11
Amanda Lainez	[Signature]	850 E 31 ST		"
Tomcat Hernandez	[Signature]	1151 E 74 ST		8/9/11
Narciso Flores	[Signature]			"
Roberto Cardenas	[Signature]	832 79th 9000/		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Jose Barboza		1321 W 106 th St L.A. Ca, 90044	joelking86@gmail.com	8-9-11
Dorian Velasco		919 E 111 th Dr 9059	BOREMAN123@gmail.com	8-9-11
Omar Romero		260 E Vernon Ave	Omar Hernandez@yahoo.com	"
Junior Jimenez		42 St Central		"
Jesús Vargas	Jesús Vargas	144 West 58 LA 90037		"
Victor Amézaga	Victor Amézaga	same		"
Jonathan C.		same		"
Raul Amézaga		627 W 58 th St		"
J.H. Bustamante	Jonathan Bustamante	6524 Malabar St		"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

17

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Carlos Avignon		6526 MALABAR ST		8.9.11
Gilbert Huerta		343 Rocker St		"
Das Demand		1411 E 33rd St		"
Marlon Fabris		616 N. Hobart St. #126		"
Daniel Leyva		1446 1/2 St E 23		"
Miguel Nava		1446 1/2 E. 23rd st.		"
Jonathan		↑		"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ernesto Costa	Ernesto Costa	1329 B W 1 st Jay Ln	NEED MORE SOCCER FIELDS SO THAT KIDS CAN PLAY	8-13/11
Diana Gonzalez	Diana Gonzalez	3756 Arlington Ave		h
Cesar Ortiz	CO	LA		8/13/11
Miguel Gonzalez	Miguel	3756 Arlington Ave		8/10/11
Sonia Flores	Sonia Flores	4421 S. Morgan Ave LA CA 90011		8/13/11
Guadalupe Vasquez	Guadalupe Vasquez	4426 Morgan Ave		8-13/11
Maria Estrada	Maria Estrada	1571 E. 33 rd st.		8/13/11
Alyssa Rivera	Alyssa Rivera	4116 Ascot Ave.		08/13/11
Margarita Anaco	Margarita Anaco	1368 E. 41st. Apt. 4		08/13/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action requested for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Carolina Cabrera		10115 State St. Apt 6, Lynwood, CA 90262	ameryllis.ccb@gmail.com	8/15/11
Yvette Perez		10528 Hunt Ave South Gate CA <sup>90280</sup>	perez_yvette19@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Cassandra Perez		10528 Hunt Ave, South Gate CA	perez.cass@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Guerrero Jose		9545 Otis St South Gate CA	guerrero.19.jose@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Fenessa Pineda		13502 Farise Dr. LA Mirada	fenessa@verizon.net	8-15-11
Olga Moedano		8972 San Gabriel Ave. #B South Gate, CA	olgamiedano@gmail.com	8/15/11
Oscar Gutierrez		7102 1/2 Mountain View Ave Huntington Park CA	Oscar93@gmail.com	8/15/11
Tiffany Medina		10234 Bryson Ave. South Gate CA 90280	tiffmedina@ymail.com	8-15-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Introduction	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCP Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most-productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011"
Conclusion	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Name	Signature	Address	Date
KELVIN CHEN			8-20-11
MRS. ESCOBEDO		Los Angeles CA 90033 649 S. Clarence St.	8-20-11
OSCAR VERA		1417 Alameda Ave	"
DAVID FLORES		840 W. Wilkes Ave Montebello CA	"
Alfredo Flores		7113 Birchleaf Los Angeles 90040	"
Mike Marquez		8615 Whittier BL Norwalk	"
Rose Manuel		1645 E. 9th Los Angeles	"
Walter Martinez		1800 1/2 New England St. L.A. CA	"
Armando Cabiquez		Aracela Lopez 90233 Palmdale	"

24

JAVIER VAIGAS A. J.V.A	1508 46 St Apt Fl.A.
Luis ANZAYA	1070 W 88th St
OLIVIA CARRASCO	8022-30th 90044
David Nava	5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
Javier Franco	705 E. Vernon Ave	La Ca 90011
Felad de Serna	5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
David Yanoz	705 EVERNON AVE	LA CA 90011
Rito Nava	5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
Jose Hernandez	705 Evernon Ave	LACA 90011
Marcel Lopez	1523 E. Hillman St	Long Beach, CA 90813
David Ray	822 E 31st St	Los Angeles CA
Yvonne Martinez	437 S. Hillman Ave	Los Angeles, Ca, 90062
Gustavo A	143 W 88th St	LA CA 90037
Yvonne J.C.	1676 S San Pedro St	L.A CA 90003
Yvonne J.C.	3232 SUG CENTER	L.A. CA
Juan Carlos	143 W 56 St LACA	90037

[Handwritten signatures and scribbles over the bottom right portion of the table, including names like Yvonne J.C. and Juan Carlos.]

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Fatima				8.6.11
Juan Flores				"
Kevin Flores				"
Ortiz Perez	Ortiz Perez	1038 F. 42 PL LA CA 90061	(323) 2325117	8.6.11
Silvia	Palmas	4420 Staunton Av LA CA	(323) 253-12-18	08-06-11
Silvia Casillas	Silvia Casillas	6020 Mayflower Maywood	(323) 560-2979	8-6-11
Rocio Huentia	"	1258 E. 77.	(323) 3517001	8-6-11
Cristina Carrillo	Cristina Carrillo	314 W 47th ST. 90061		8-6-11

Silvia Palmas

o

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

18

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003.                  Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.                  "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

A
AO
o
o
o
o

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Elvira		4156 CAMPTON AVE		8.6.11
Paulita		4168 CAMPTON AVE		"
Mario	Lopez Mario	4151 Naomi St. (323) 9	(323) 387-5861	"
Sandra	Sandra Galvan	391 9654		"
Jaqueline	Jaqueline D	323 382-3028	1560 E 32nd St LACA	90011
Leticia	Leticia Lopez	314 W 47th St	L.A.C.A	90037
Oscar H.	Oscar Hernandez	(323) 273-3312	1549 E 42 St LACA	90011
Malvin Johnson	Malvin Johnson	323-4816467	ME190001@GMAIL.COM	"
Fernando Lopez		12801 74 W. ST. LA	323) 818-52-24	"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
	Guadalupe Rojas	1669 E M L King		7/31/11
	Rosa Rojas	1669 E M L King		7-31-11
	Maria Salvo	1575 E M L King		7-31-11
	Urcos Miranda	1551 1/4 E 52nd St		"
○	RAFAEL R.	Rafael A. Rodriguez	600 W 50th ST LACA	323-846-0237 8-6-11
○	Andrew J	Andrew J. J...	1532 East Vernon Ave	1323-392-2098 8-6-11
A ○	Janine Nunez	Janine Nunez	1657 E 43 rd St	(823) 399-5579 8-6-11
A ○	Salvador Valdivia	Salvador Valdivia	1506 E 5th St	(323) 234-7493 8-6-11
A ○	Sandra Ramirez	Sandra Ramirez	1657 EAST 43 ST	213 247-0859 8/6/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

23

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Milton Acvedo		10233 16 th St. Los Angeles, CA		8-9-11
Jaime MARTINEZ		11371 41 st ST LA		8-9-11
Billy Vasquez		1843 S. Granddary Pl #2		8-9-11
Mario Martinez		15-37-633 ST. MAP 2		8-9-11
MARTIN DIAZ		1019 E 98 th ST		8-9-11
ROBERTO MORALES		6317 HOLMES AVE		8-9-11
Miguel Vasquez		4344 Arlington Ave		8-9-11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
JAVIER VARGAS A.	J.V.A	1508 46 th Apt FLA.
WAS ANZARA	WAS	1070588 th
OLIVIA CARRASCO	CA	8022-502 90044
David Nava		5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
JAVIER FRANCO	JAVIER FRANCO	705 E. Vernon Ave	La Ca 9004
Filadelfic Serna		5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
Daniel Franco		705 EVERNON AVE	LA CA 90011
RITO NAVA		5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
JOSE HERNANDEZ	JOSE HERNANDEZ	705 EVERNON AVE	LACA 90011
MARIO F. LOPEZ		1533 E. Hellman St	Long Beach, CA 90813
David Rojas		822 E. 31 st St	Los Angeles CA
JENNIFER MARCHALIN		4300 S Harvard Blvd	Los Angeles, CA 90062
GUSTAVO A.		1213 W 58 th St	L.A CA 90037
FRANCOISE J.C.		7676 S San Pedro St	L.A CA 90003
FFire Jones		3232 506 Center	L.A. CA
José María		1430 W 56 th St LACA	90037

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Reynaldo Diaz	Reynaldo D	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Junior Aguilar	Junior A	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Leticia Diaz	Leticia Diaz	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Luis Solis	Luis S	4118 Hopper Ave		8/9/11
Juan M.	Juan M	2014 - E 73 - ST. L.A.	90001	8/9/11
Alberto Cuellar	Alberto C	218 E 22 nd St	9001	"
XXXXXXXXXX		5955 S MAIN	90003	"
Luis T	Luis T	5955 S - main	90011	"
XXXXXXXXXX

<?php exit(); /* For security reason. To avoid public user downloading below data! */?>

"RecordID" "Date" "IP" "Email" "First Name" "Last Name" "Letter To Elected Representative"

"20110512-d5f6" "2011-05-12 02:53:09" "173.55.1.170" "mayor@lacity.org" "Antonio" "Villaraigosa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAntonio Villaraigosa"

"20110512-3ffd" "2011-05-12 02:56:44" "173.55.1.170" "mayor@lacity.org" "Antonio" "Villaraigosa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAntonio Villaraigosa"

"20110512-e204" "2011-05-12 03:00:10" "173.55.1.170" "tezozomoc@hotmail.com" "Mr" "Tezozomoc" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMr. Tezozomoc"

"20110512-bbf6" "2011-05-12 07:26:20" "75.173.74.153" "esuone@gmail.com" "jamie" "kin" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-187a" "2011-05-12 10:36:52" "76.232.127.4" "yesyesoktayokay@gmail.com" "Lane" "Gold" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nLane Gold"

"20110512-0459" "2011-05-12 10:42:14" "174.77.41.252" "cvarino@gmail.com" "Caroline" "Marino" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-190a" "2011-05-12 11:14:40" "24.193.228.220" "mkelley2001@yahoo.com" "Michele" "Kelley" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110512-3281" "2011-05-12 12:51:07" "98.151.15.155" "ar320@lafn.org" "Sheila" "Goldner" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-d564" "2011-05-12 14:12:48" "24.199.1.154" "jvasic@msn.com" "J" "Vasic" "Save the South Central Farm, we can do better,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110512-4054" "2011-05-12 14:29:01" "146.145.85.35" "ruizcanoclaudia@yahoo.com"

"Claudia" "Cano" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-ac13" "2011-05-12 14:30:20" "76.219.226.56" "joseclopez@hotmail.com" "Jose" "Lopez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-574c" "2011-05-12 14:38:21" "74.206.3.49" "shellshows@aol.com" "Shelly" "Brown" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-2d54" "2011-05-12 15:49:20" "76.173.106.235" "genevieve.marcus@gmail.com" "Genevieve" "Marcus" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110512-c2f4" "2011-05-12 17:48:20" "76.232.127.4" "sowvegan@gmail.com" "Jason" "Sutherland" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110512-e590" "2011-05-12 20:21:41" "98.112.173.11" "otro-yo@live.com" "Gerardo" "Cornejo" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "Ginger" "Rodriguez" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Ginger Rodriguez" "20110512-1ccc" "2011-05-12 20:25:07" "76.229.97.239" "k9laco46@hotmail.com" "jose" "cortes/ortega" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110512-4bel" "2011-05-12 20:34:15" "108.13.216.61" "promotepeace@verizon.net" "james" "nailor" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110512-299c" "2011-05-12 21:13:53" "75.50.190.174" "mujrmyz@yahoo.com" "Felicia" "Montes" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-0a8e" "2011-05-12 21:16:55" "67.103.140.114" "nicoatlzin@gmail.com" "nicolas" "patino" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-25c2" "2011-05-12 21:23:29" "184.192.84.84" "sly@cityofrosemead.org," "Christopher" "Rosas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-79ed" "2011-05-12 21:23:40" "76.231.197.221" "r.i.prado@live.com" "Rocio" "Prado" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-d144" "2011-05-12 21:28:10" "72.134.16.30" "Creeper60@hotmail.com" "Erica" "Friend" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-7509" "2011-05-12 21:29:57" "69.235.213.54" "migueton2784@yahoo.com" "Miguel" "Parra" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-09c3" "2011-05-12 21:38:28" "98.171.188.155" "sanchezlaura7@gmail.com" "Laura" "Sanchez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-5234" "2011-05-12 21:39:18" "75.50.178.216"

"echoparkunitedmethodistchurch@juno.com" "Rev. David" "Farley" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-1aef" "2011-05-12 21:47:55" "98.22.124.69" "colind@veganmail.com" "Colin" "Donoghue" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-ec55" "2011-05-12 21:53:56" "199.47.204.46" "taratrudell@yahoo.com" "Tara" "Trudell" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nTara Trudell"

"20110512-79a4" "2011-05-12 22:03:28" "98.149.72.181" "00moreadventurous@gmail.com" "Duke" "Johnson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-630b" "2011-05-12 22:16:55" "174.254.53.57" "arcinieganana@yahoo.com" "Nelly" "Arciniega" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nNelly Arciniega"

"20110512-855d" "2011-05-12 22:25:36" "76.94.0.58" "zapatalives@juno.com" "Omar" "Ramirez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-ac60" "2011-05-12 22:32:05" "75.50.190.174" "joelragedgarcia@sbcglobal.net" "Joel" "Garcia" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110512-4342" "2011-05-12 23:14:02" "99.113.185.16" "icontreras@ciis.edu" "Irina" "Contreras" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nIrina Contreras"

"20110512-ca15" "2011-05-12 23:42:46" "198.228.209.228" "j80tapia@yahoo.com" "Johana" "Tapia" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-9815" "2011-05-13 00:10:42" "99.69.162.36" "evoluxion777@yahoo.com" "IRIS" "DE AMDA" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110513-c096" "2011-05-13 00:20:47" "76.191.227.26" "srif@sonic.net" "Stephen" "Fischer" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-903e" "2011-05-13 00:35:11" "76.95.152.4" "Jessforrest@gmail.com" "Jessica" "Forrest" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-2481" "2011-05-13 01:25:24" "76.175.55.82" "iviana@aol.com" "iviana" "jimenez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-36cc" "2011-05-13 02:32:02" "68.104.85.252" "Rcardozo0@yahoo.com" "Rocio" "Cardozo" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-a929" "2011-05-13 08:50:51" "67.131.78.134" "suchalp@aol.com" "Cynthia" "Eutnam" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-b238" "2011-05-13 08:55:25" "75.92.114.198" "shirley_inla@hotmail.com" "Shirley" "Aldana" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-2e22" "2011-05-13 09:41:23" "76.217.25.116" "patloverme@sbcglobal.net"

"Patricia" "LoVerme" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-1c8f" "2011-05-13 09:53:23" "108.86.200.218" "darlingsunshine@gmail.com" "Samantha" "Contreras" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-26d8" "2011-05-13 10:56:55" "76.173.76.151" "freepeaches@gmail.com" "Luisa" "Flores" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110513-e997" "2011-05-13 10:59:58" "69.225.140.152" "angelica.delapena@gmail.com" "Angelica" "de la Pana" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110513-ba7d" "2011-05-13 12:55:50" "75.42.195.42" "sir_angel_224@yahoo.com" "Angelina" "Carrasco" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nAngelina Carrasco" "20110513-637e" "2011-05-13 18:48:55" "76.208.177.51" "christine5882@sbcglobal.net" "christine" "wilson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110514-elc4" "2011-05-14 02:01:15" "98.151.15.155" "au760@lafn.org" "Frank" "Hill" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110514-35b2" "2011-05-14 05:29:32" "79.216.146.248" "natilee.harren@gmail.com" "Natilee" "Harren" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110514-8bd9" "2011-05-14 08:52:22" "70.254.41.62" "xnidess@swbell.net" "Rael" "Nidess, M.D." "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nI've been a supporter of the South Central farm for many years and was deeply sorrowed to see closed. I believe it should be reopened to the benefit of the entire city of L.A.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-4c3b" "2011-05-14 10:30:34" "76.238.246.7" "politicolin@colinski.net"
"Colin" "Sevareid" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-c09f" "2011-05-14 11:26:12" "68.9.178.234" "shingrajia@hotmail.com"
"Sonia" "Hingrajia" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-6961" "2011-05-14 12:30:09" "66.215.86.132" "sft47@mac.com" "susie"
"tanner" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-9fef" "2011-05-14 17:50:27" "76.169.197.197" "yatrika@shivaloka.com"

"Mariam" "Shah-Rais" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-6064" "2011-05-14 18:19:14" "121.162.202.43" "c.saeji@gmail.com"
"CedarBough" "Saeji" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110514-5384" "2011-05-14 18:32:59" "98.149.22.72" "mickey_villa@yahoo.com"

"Michelle" "Villalba" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110514-be76" "2011-05-14 19:19:48" "69.230.67.12" "thewarroom@mac.com" "Tim" "Warner" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110514-ada5" "2011-05-14 19:32:35" "71.106.234.138" "tdusoleil@hotmail.com" "Terry" "duSoleil" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110515-ce93" "2011-05-15 10:10:55" "129.81.147.239" "cbarajas@tulane.edu" "Octavio" "Barajas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nOctavio Barajas" "20110515-b0eb" "2011-05-15 11:42:07" "76.201.124.78" "airezapatista@hotmail.com" "john" "martinez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-8628" "2011-05-15 13:47:11" "66.214.42.87" "chreabomb@gmail.com" "Lucy" "Marrero" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-12a8" "2011-05-15 14:51:29" "76.208.177.60" "GLORIA1957@AOL.COM" "GLORIA" "RODRIGUEZ-VASQUEZ" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted.

An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n GLORIA RODRIGUEZ-VASQUEZ"

"20110515-0092" "2011-05-15 14:56:34" "71.213.170.159" "marymargaretcarsen@hotmail.com" "Mary" "Carson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-cf66" "2011-05-15 16:22:14" "75.4.199.45" "jessicarath@mac.com" "Jessica" "Rath" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-5436" "2011-05-15 17:03:55" "173.60.85.137" "joannaxe@earthlink.net" "Joanna" "Moore" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-95b8" "2011-05-15 20:47:10" "71.134.128.6" "Diannacat@gmail.com" "Dianna" "Cohen" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110515-17fe" "2011-05-15 23:37:58" "216.7.77.173" "paldenlama@yahoo.com" "Paul" "Jacobson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-99f8" "2011-05-16 04:42:06" "98.24.58.191" "bethhenry@carolina.rr.com"

"Beth" "Henry" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-ccc5" "2011-05-16 11:43:48" "174.127.35.94" "drizwald@gmail.com" "Erik"

"Andreasen" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-d897" "2011-05-16 12:18:37" "128.146.76.70" "teresamares@gmail.com"

"Teresa" "Mares" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-f263" "2011-05-16 12:28:19" "24.251.97.252" "ashoor@usc.edu" "Alex"

"Shoor" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to work with your colleagues and the L.A. community to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAlex"

"20110516-75ed" "2011-05-16 19:44:59" "69.127.158.166" "aprijan247@gmail.com"

"April" "Stevenson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nApril Stevenson"

"20110516-c050" "2011-05-16 20:06:54" "75.56.200.208" "screamingredcat@att.net"

"karin" "kachler" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-0745" "2011-05-16 21:29:22" "76.87.192.118" "bec248@gmail.com" "Thuha"

"Tran" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-f67f" "2011-05-16 22:52:00" "69.230.211.117" "gamboa1274@yahoo.com" "Sonia" "Gamboa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nSonia Gamboa"

"20110516-257c" "2011-05-16 23:05:06" "76.247.15.194" "nicoleknows@gmail.com" "nicole" "zwiren" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110516-81b8" "2011-05-16 23:12:03" "76.90.194.26" "redman.judiblue@gmail.com" "Judi" "Redman" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-f21d" "2011-05-17 00:59:51" "76.90.87.219" "lailiyeweidman@yahoo.com" "Lailya" "Weidman" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-8a93" "2011-05-17 11:26:06" "76.208.167.104" "christine5882@sbcglobal.net" "christine" "wilson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-f59a" "2011-05-17 13:00:19" "144.90.63.78" "ssanjule@gmail.com" "Susan" "San Jule" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-721f" "2011-05-17 13:09:16" "76.94.236.150" "reinasalinas@gmail.com" "reina" "salinas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-ceic" "2011-05-17 14:44:43" "71.107.62.146" "sheda@workingforgreen.com"

"Sheda" "Morshed" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-4007" "2011-05-17 15:48:49" "76.219.182.227" "susangr@mac.com" "Susan"

"Rydberg" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-a320" "2011-05-17 17:55:48" "71.220.58.186" "earthlass@gmail.com" "Lucy"

"Saliger" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-618b" "2011-05-17 18:49:19" "76.213.255.150" "venedel@gmail.com"

"Venedel" "Harbito" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-ccd2" "2011-05-17 21:04:03" "68.122.21.51" "iuqoc@sbcglobal.net"

"Carman" "Tolivar" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-a0d5" "2011-05-17 21:20:29" "128.97.244.68" "amira112@gmail.com" "Amira"

"Hasenbush" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-befb" "2011-05-17 21:26:45" "67.159.177.145" "suereel@editide.us" "Sue and John" "Morris" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-49f4" "2011-05-17 22:30:28" "99.89.49.142" "jb0017@hotmail.com" "Jennifer" "Rosen" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-7a5b" "2011-05-17 23:02:39" "71.189.78.123" "jenniferjgarcia@gmail.com" "Jennifer" "Garcia" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110517-4d58" "2011-05-17 23:28:23" "99.203.161.82" "kayla.fallis@gmail.com" "Kayla" "Villegas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-1e7d" "2011-05-18 06:48:28" "24.24.170.79" "cmittino@hotmail.com" "Chris" "Mittino" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-369f" "2011-05-18 07:25:48" "75.50.155.178" "asmrtckie@yahoo.com" "Sarah" "Ross" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nSarah Ross"

"20110518-a4b2" "2011-05-18 08:12:55" "69.224.58.0" "dwballed2003@yahoo.com" "Sheila" "Woodson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-eef7" "2011-05-18 08:27:11" "67.101.182.57" "priscagl@aol.com" "Prisca"
"Gloor" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-1ee1" "2011-05-18 09:47:41" "76.230.42.1" "emily.zietlow@gmail.com"
"Emily" "Zietlow" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-ded1" "2011-05-18 09:49:07" "75.4.231.138" "gracefuljoyceful@gmail.com"
"Grace" "Johnson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-93b5" "2011-05-18 09:58:39" "75.84.122.96" "sytower@gmail.com" "Sarah"

"Tower" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-91d3" "2011-05-18 10:34:33" "67.203.184.210" "tabeybabey@gmail.com"
"Taber" "Volberding" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-4a50" "2011-05-18 11:32:18" "76.94.203.221" "ashleigh.layne@gmail.com"
"ashleigh" "layne" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-9e7b" "2011-05-18 11:43:24" "69.226.182.222"

"onefingersnapping@hotmail.com" "daniel" "kern" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-cedd" "2011-05-18 12:16:33" "108.81.138.100" "cliffolin@sbcglobal.net" "Clifford" "Olin" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-fsd2" "2011-05-18 12:35:05" "76.213.243.100" "lisa_cain@me.com" "Lisa" "Cain" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-5di5" "2011-05-18 12:56:31" "76.169.49.185" "Hockegrrl@aol.com" "Leslie" "Porter" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-d65b" "2011-05-18 12:56:32" "99.107.201.22" "jddelara@gmail.com" "Juan" "De Lara" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nJuan De Lara"

"20110518-c6bd" "2011-05-18 12:57:06" "76.169.49.185" "Hockegrrl@aol.com" "Leslie" "Porter" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-0035" "2011-05-18 14:09:20" "75.84.193.85" "josh@formlosangeles.com" "Joshua" "Rose" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMayra Gomez"

"20110518-9460" "2011-05-18 15:28:04" "99.62.82.112" "noraphillips@gmail.com" "Nora" "Phillips" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-d730" "2011-05-18 16:00:07" "98.149.44.165" "sukaphish@gmail.com" "Cheri" "Johnson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-5008" "2011-05-18 16:14:12" "128.97.202.178" "arturoharker@gmail.com" "Arturo" "Harker" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-91ad" "2011-05-18 18:40:33" "75.52.222.31" "artdyke@gmail.com" "Kristen" "Ridley" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. Furthermore, if we hope to provide food for ourselves in a time of climate change and skyrocketing gas prices, urban farms like the South Central Farm will need to become an indispensable part of our landscape.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110518-d45a" "2011-05-18 18:57:04" "99.129.29.25" "bibicaspari@gmail.com" "Bibi" "Caspari" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-422f" "2011-05-18 19:03:52" "76.79.163.204" "benassa@UGCS.Caltech.edu"

 "ben" "assa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-c808" "2011-05-18 21:29:45" "216.240.58.233" "kellfoll@yahoo.com"
 "kelly" "franti" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-5354" "2011-05-18 23:39:52" "76.91.162.125" "andreasitar@gmail.com"
 "Andrea" "Sitar" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110518-b053" "2011-05-18 23:58:25" "69.126.4.72" "ebevan@ucla.edu" "Elizabeth" "Bevan" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nElizabeth Bevan"

 "20110519-a2c3" "2011-05-19 05:09:51" "75.82.178.160" "hdzeigler@gmail.com"
 "Heather" "Hamilton" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nHeather Hamilton"
 "20110519-425d" "2011-05-19 08:27:13" "149.142.243.21" "mattdenicola@gmail.com"
 "Matthew" "DeNicola" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMatthew DeNicola, M.D."

"20110519-a46c" "2011-05-19 08:33:09" "74.126.228.192" "justingeraldlittle@gmail.com" "Justin" "Little" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-5d03" "2011-05-19 09:12:19" "65.112.167.178" "ryanmenezes559@gmail.com" "Ryan" "Menezes" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-9690" "2011-05-19 09:47:52" "76.169.69.188" "richard_zhuah@yahoo.com" "Richard" "Zhu" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-ed08" "2011-05-19 09:57:50" "76.171.75.141" "annamuraco@gmail.com" "Anna" "Muraco" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-a8d5" "2011-05-19 09:58:54" "128.97.202.78" "nyk888@gmail.com" "Nadia" "Kim" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nTHIS FARM MUST BE SAVED! It helps the economy, the environment, our taxes (better health care system), better health, WIN WIN!\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-a67b" "2011-05-19 10:02:29" "76.175.168.19" "mirandarodriguez7@gmail.com" "Miranda" "Rodriguez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-a7c8" "2011-05-19 10:30:48" "134.71.92.67" "a19123@hotmail.com" "Alan" "Villa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-d69b" "2011-05-19 10:40:18" "75.28.96.23" "elisabeta23@yahoo.com" "Amy" "Giles" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-4399" "2011-05-19 11:22:34" "98.149.128.163" "evangeline.heath@gmail.com" "Evangeline" "Heath" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-5e39" "2011-05-19 11:39:21" "159.83.4.160" "seiter@usc.edu" "Ellen" "Seiter" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-2f3d" "2011-05-19 11:57:48" "64.60.143.34" "butterfield_bill@hotmail.com" "William" "Butterfield" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-62cf" "2011-05-19 11:59:48" "64.50.54.90" "le.mccown@gmail.com" "Lindsay" "McCown" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-aaa9" "2011-05-19 12:01:54" "69.231.142.65" "hope.kinney@gmail.com" "Hope" "Kinney" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-a874" "2011-05-19 12:10:44" "132.194.70.73" "casey.mccallister@gmail.com" "Casey" "McCallister" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-1342" "2011-05-19 12:21:49" "24.205.34.112" "toliveto@earthlink.net"

"Tracy" "Oliveto" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-8cac" "2011-05-19 12:23:27" "66.166.143.106" "fabfrevr@AOL.COM" "T"

"Ramirez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-141a" "2011-05-19 12:53:50" "63.192.71.3" "carole_ly@hotmail.com"

"Carole" "Ly" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-9aab" "2011-05-19 12:58:27" "76.173.188.191" "ptureen@gmail.com"

"Phoebe" "Tureen" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nPhoebe Tureen"

"20110519-64b6" "2011-05-19 15:39:41" "76.166.146.65" "langemegan@gmail.com" "Megan"

"Lange" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-1547" "2011-05-19 17:48:02" "75.31.211.140" "alice.mcfarland@gmail.com"

 "alice" "mcfarland" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
 \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-99e0" "2011-05-19 17:51:06" "75.50.157.202" "makimberlite@yahoo.com"
 "Kimberly" "Neal" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
 \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-c3d4" "2011-05-19 18:05:44" "64.193.38.74" "lanamnguyen@aol.com" "Lana"
 "Nguyen" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-7ca1" "2011-05-19 18:21:16" "67.188.108.141" "kwestholm@hotmail.com"
 "Katherine" "Westholm" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
 \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-11bf" "2011-05-19 19:40:02" "76.166.146.12" "winterrosebudd@gmail.com"

 "winter" "mullender" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
 \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-cald" "2011-05-19 21:54:53" "76.94.191.139" "RobinJM@aol.com" "Robin"
 "Meares" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110519-37db" "2011-05-19 22:07:40" "108.66.103.204" "cynrojas@gmail.com"
 "Cynthia" "Rojas" "Dear Councilwoman Jan Perry,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
 \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nCynthia Rojas, resident Council District 9"

"20110519-02ec" "2011-05-19 22:45:09" "76.232.123.252" "flordeguayaba@yahoo.com" "cristina" "reyes" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-1c87" "2011-05-19 23:32:56" "98.119.81.166" "lulinia@yahoo.com" "Lillian" "Laskin" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110519-1a2c" "2011-05-19 23:45:44" "173.245.84.46" "thoff883@gmail.com" "T. A." "Hoffmann" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-f7c8" "2011-05-20 00:13:37" "75.83.129.189" "j_sarbanes@yahoo.com" "Janet" "Sarbanes" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJanet Sarbanes 90065"

"20110520-dbf8" "2011-05-20 01:28:10" "76.167.242.111" "daniel.santana.52@my.csun.edu" "Daniel" "Santana-Hernandez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDaniel Santana-Hernandez"

"20110520-dcf2" "2011-05-20 01:49:07" "76.243.135.163" "brienne.buttner@yahoo.com" "brienne" "buttner" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-faf2" "2011-05-20 01:49:30" "184.194.80.35" "guillenml3@gmail.com" "Maria" "Guillen Valdovinos" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-a6b8" "2011-05-20 03:16:54" "69.246.53.121" "alcazarg1@gmail.com"

"Gabriela" "Alcazar" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110520-67dc" "2011-05-20 06:20:20" "24.7.185.47" "nlopezgsul@hotmail.com"

"Nancy" "Lopez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nNancy Lopes\r\n\r\nVoting Citizen"

"20110520-9f3f" "2011-05-20 07:49:14" "75.79.38.158" "ehecatltewcatlipoca@yahoo.com"

"Cuco" "Esperansa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nCuco Esperansa"

"20110520-f285" "2011-05-20 07:50:49" "69.234.35.58" "dollserrano@aol.com"

"caroline" "serrano" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110520-b77f" "2011-05-20 09:35:15" "146.145.85.35" "ruizcanoclaudia@yahoo.com"

"Claudia" "Cano" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nClaudia Cano"

"20110520-d95a" "2011-05-20 10:19:34" "206.175.176.2" "aitok2@yahoo.com" "Ai"

"Tokuno" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110520-807f" "2011-05-20 10:50:57" "70.122.221.105" "twistdog@gmail.com"

doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-5866" "2011-05-20 14:46:53" "69.230.188.63" "tiwaais@gmail.com" "Vanessa" "Penalzoa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nVanessa Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-8950" "2011-05-20 14:48:45" "187.141.102.198" "angrywhitekid@gmail.com" "Scott" "Campbell" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-76d0" "2011-05-20 14:51:33" "76.167.27.110" "Shanknrehder@gmail.com" "Kathleen" "Rehder" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-3628" "2011-05-20 14:52:54" "99.117.162.82" "urbanwonder@gmail.com" "Marc" "Escanuelas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-1c88" "2011-05-20 15:26:33" "66.189.37.189" "lark2@mindspring.com" "Tracy" "Larkins" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-3620" "2011-05-20 15:44:06" "130.166.151.172" "michelle.josephine@gmail.com" "Michelle" "Porras" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-sbaa" "2011-05-20 15:44:14" "75.82.197.75" "muffinmanief@gmail.com"
 "Edgar" "Flores" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-8fea" "2011-05-20 15:53:31" "130.166.209.139" "feliciamerie@yahoo.com"
 "feliciana" "rivera" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110520-3ed2" "2011-05-20 18:30:40" "76.90.177.45" "wendysantaana@yahoo.com"

 "Wendy" "Santa Ana" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-7eed" "2011-05-20 21:20:51" "98.119.156.168" "hobbies4kk@gmail.com"
 "Kathy" "Kornei" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nKathy Kornei."

"20110520-8b35" "2011-05-20 21:48:01" "76.87.26.219" "aschlage@alumni.uci.edu"
 "Ariel" "Schlager" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110520-0ad2" "2011-05-20 23:25:58" "173.55.142.131" "dswashin@usc.edu" "David" "Washington" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-669a" "2011-05-21 00:04:06" "99.101.225.244" "beckysworld@linkline.com" "Becky" "Talyn" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nI strongly urge you to restore the Farm!\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nBecky Talyn"

"20110521-05a3" "2011-05-21 08:17:35" "98.154.225.65" "kapetapekan@hotmail.com" "Caitlin" "Krapf" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nCaitlin Krapf"

"20110521-0cd9" "2011-05-21 08:45:28" "99.165.127.178" "oeoi.le@free.fr" "cecile" "ledru" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-98d1" "2011-05-21 09:38:15" "108.70.172.227" "ndonaghy@gmail.com" "Nora" "Donaghy" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-80f6" "2011-05-21 09:41:39" "98.154.225.65" "benkrapf@hotmail.com" "Ben" "Krapf" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-4ca4" "2011-05-21 12:29:45" "71.189.126.137"
"simonejoyrichmond@gmail.com" "Simone" "Richmond" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110521-7a40" "2011-05-21 15:19:36" "66.27.201.159" "timothydavidbarrett@live.com"

"timothy" "barrett" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\ntimothy barrett"

"20110521-728c" "2011-05-21 16:02:49" "76.99.204.131" "krapf@aol.com" "Jean"
"Krapf" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nJean Krapf"

"20110521-42hd" "2011-05-21 16:27:15" "71.108.125.127"
"jorgenegrete1954@gmail.com" "Hector" "Pena" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nHector Pena"

"20110521-637a" "2011-05-21 17:00:05" "64.203.55.221" "ohhansook@gmail.com"
"hansook" "oh" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110521-3820" "2011-05-21 18:21:25" "76.94.57.143" "xxfreefall@yahoo.com"

"Kendal" "Blum" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110521-6a62" "2011-05-21 18:26:51" "99.154.21.145" "ch.canterbury@gmail.com"

"carolyn" "canterbury" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-467f" "2011-05-21 19:10:08" "70.104.148.142"

"natalie.avila.89@my.csuun.edu" "Natalie" "Avila" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-098b" "2011-05-21 19:36:16" "69.231.230.189" "khubert@gmail.com" "Karen"

"Hobert" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nKaren Hobert"

"20110521-1f5c" "2011-05-21 21:33:19" "216.80.89.146" "karabender@gmail.com" "Kara"

"Bender" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110521-dab7" "2011-05-21 22:16:23" "69.108.69.242" "jess.lira@gmail.com"

"Jessica" "Lira" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJessica Lira"

"20110522-6df4" "2011-05-22 02:30:39" "76.90.83.56" "mellowmouse@ca.rr.com"

"Michelle" "Wong" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nMichelle Wong"

"20110522-fe43" "2011-05-22 10:41:13" "173.10.86.94" "jz.jasz@gmail.com" "Jasmine"

"Zhang" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110522-aa61" "2011-05-22 13:23:22" "99.104.247.163" "djhernandez85@yahoo.com" "David" "Hernandez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110522-91dc" "2011-05-22 13:58:21" "99.166.140.177" "clairecg@lclark.edu" "Claire" "Goldstein" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110522-3339" "2011-05-22 15:24:07" "71.108.17.63" "growtips@gmail.com" "Florence" "Nishida" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110522-6d9a" "2011-05-22 18:00:58" "24.182.37.130" "jaime.reinoso.74@csu.edu" "Jaime" "Reinoso" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nJaime Dario Reinoso" "20110522-fdc3" "2011-05-22 21:10:13" "67.161.123.54" "ehow@u.washington.edu" "Eunice" "How" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110522-ab0c" "2011-05-22 21:32:20" "71.231.105.147" "anshika@uw.edu" "Anshika" "Kumar" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. Opportunities like this don't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAnshika Kumar" "20110522-4322" "2011-05-22 23:47:58" "99.22.226.13" "marilyn@sbcbglobal.net" "MarilynMac" "Fuss" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-4ed2" "2011-05-23 00:07:57" "184.100.141.186" "spatricio@uflw.org"

"Stephanie" "patricio" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-ad06" "2011-05-23 00:08:32" "128.208.44.165" "meganmao@yahoo.com"

"Megan" "Mac" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-7f24" "2011-05-23 00:16:32" "76.14.251.112"

"ignacio.patricio1516@gmail.com" "Francisco" "Patricio" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-d699" "2011-05-23 00:17:53" "65.182.227.210" "superchick820@yahoo.com"

"erica" "moreno" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nErica Moreno"

"20110523-aa7c" "2011-05-23 03:46:29" "66.133.221.204" "ogunther@mindspring.com"

"Carl" "Gunther" "I am writing to urge you to act now to restore the oasis in the middle of South L.A.'s food desert that was, and could be again, the South Central Farm.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-d817" "2011-05-23 12:46:03" "206.219.248.2" "tina.changl@gmail.com" "Tina"

"Chang" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-146c" "2011-05-23 13:11:20" "64.175.198.94" "megan.emiko.scott@gmail.com"

"Megan" "Scott" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-0c8b" "2011-05-23 13:55:10" "76.170.67.41" "sublime_sick@yahoo.com" "stennie" "cveyich" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-0e84" "2011-05-23 17:23:51" "99.41.1.27" "cristianalegria01@gmail.com" "Cristian" "Alegria" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nCristian Alegria"

"20110523-ea7a" "2011-05-23 17:40:37" "207.118.18.233" "thorofhuxr@hotmail.com" "brandy" "stone" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-79b9" "2011-05-23 20:19:34" "64.30.209.125" "drawdin@linkline.com" "Debra" "Fredricks" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-289b" "2011-05-23 22:02:46" "76.90.201.235" "andrak@compuserve.com" "Andre" "Kohler" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-417c" "2011-05-23 22:23:45" "76.170.74.91" "max6hoiland@gmail.com" "Max" "Hoiland" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110523-c753" "2011-05-23 23:29:11" "76.170.149.196" "robinsonalix@yahoo.com"

"alexandra" "robinson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-a52c" "2011-05-24 03:57:02" "71.105.93.16" "vslevin@gmail.com" "Vince" "Slevin" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-ca1a" "2011-05-24 09:49:31" "65.200.56.46" "shyduh@hotmail.com" "Shaida" "Ulloa" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-565f" "2011-05-24 14:13:54" "149.142.201.284" "salahbit@gmail.com" "selah" "levine" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-47cd" "2011-05-24 17:06:13" "71.104.93.105" "caramcb@gmail.com" "Cara" "Finken" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-4783" "2011-05-24 17:49:46" "76.93.23.141" "chitownladym77@gmail.com" "molly" "hale" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-ea7f" "2011-05-24 19:21:13" "76.90.122.68" "allie.skye27@gmail.com" "Allie" "R" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-1e52" "2011-05-24 19:37:30" "166.205.141.20" "laurenjuliarock@gmail.com"
 "Lauren" "Rogers" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-0ef4" "2011-05-24 21:38:28" "76.93.52.19" "hazyrouge@yahoo.com"
 "Kimberly" "Shields" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110524-3d90" "2011-05-24 22:53:48" "75.56.205.62" "vrbajaja@gmail.com" "Vincent"
 "Rabaja" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110525-4d49" "2011-05-25 12:54:09" "64.220.124.162" "qahaylee@hotmail.com"
 "Haylee" "Morse-Miller" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nHaylee Morse-Miller"

"20110525-9b08" "2011-05-25 22:44:12" "72.197.88.10" "jdashe@mac.com" "Julia"
 "dashe" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110526-5e82" "2011-05-26 11:57:41" "64.119.147.106" "brpeats@gmail.com"

 "Brittany" "Peats" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110526-29aa" "2011-05-26 17:59:18" "98.224.72.65" "blanca.porras@yahoo.com"

 "Blanca" "Porras" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110528-255a" "2011-05-28 18:52:01" "74.82.64.18" "percle23@yahoo.com" "Sarah" "Percle" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Sarah Percle"

"20110528-44c6" "2011-05-28 22:55:48" "71.93.101.4" "puitubtim@aol.com" "Hataya" "Tubtim" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110529-8790" "2011-05-29 00:37:03" "98.112.173.11" "otro-yo@live.com" "Gerardo" "Cornejo" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110529-5f7a" "2011-05-29 04:29:19" "71.227.93.19" "jhainaut@comcast.net" "Judith" "Hainaut" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110529-5ad5" "2011-05-29 11:40:55" "66.29.183.54" "kristindobbin@gmail.com" "Kristin" "Dobbin" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Kristin Dobbin"

"20110529-5416" "2011-05-29 19:49:44" "70.136.158.198" "munz@mindspring.com" "Michael" "Simmons" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110529-fe7e" "2011-05-29 20:28:47" "71.181.126.101" "suereel@editide.us" "Sue and John" "Morris" "Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110529-faae" "2011-05-29 21:34:04" "76.218.76.221" "janienilsson@mac.com" "JANET" "NILSSON" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJanet Nilsson"

"20110529-dcd36" "2011-05-29 22:12:14" "71.103.79.254" "lucieh@verizon.net" "Lucie" "Hollingsworth" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110529-00eb" "2011-05-29 22:27:55" "76.194.215.151" "ghloecatkins@yahoo.com" "Christine" "Murphy" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nChristine Murphy Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-28a4" "2011-05-30 01:16:34" "2.54.254.4" "niritcat@yahoo.com" "nirit" "libal" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-da59" "2011-05-30 02:33:26" "75.18.182.210" "lyannee3@yahoo.com" "Lyanne" "r" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-6738" "2011-05-30 06:33:21" "24.248.57.167" "mork.the.delayer@gmail.com" "Adam" "Graffunder" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-f6e2" "2011-05-30 07:58:23" "76.219.180.145" "dianefrench@earthlink.net" "Diane" "French" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDiane French"

"20110530-368f" "2011-05-30 09:22:46" "173.85.174.130" "michel@earthlink.net" "Patti" "Sheaffer" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nI am a research scientist under contract to the Air Force and believe wholeheartedly in what these folks are doing.\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-a080" "2011-05-30 10:45:41" "98.154.125.217" "arturoharker@gmail.com" "Arturo" "Harker" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110530-d2b8" "2011-05-30 13:12:19" "71.108.8.27" "hsmarshall@earthlink.net" "Hillary" "Marshall" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-5468" "2011-05-30 17:13:59" "75.85.51.65" "carola_ly@hotmail.com" "Carole" "Ly" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-0dd2" "2011-05-30 20:54:41" "64.203.52.170" "jellerman723@gmail.com" "jessica" "ellerman" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110530-6041" "2011-05-30 21:06:37" "50.11.84.248" "ej_andrus@yahoo.com" "Erica" "Andrus" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-6d5f" "2011-05-31 01:33:15" "97.115.53.108" "jennifermorrisbeads@gmail.com" "jennifer" "morris" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-ccc5" "2011-05-31 09:55:23" "99.7.8.63" "Wilgrily@yahoo.com" "Kate" "Ruiz" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-2e74" "2011-05-31 12:36:44" "204.140.10.110" "thearoom@mac.com" "Tim" "Warner" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-d7c8" "2011-05-31 15:26:59" "74.196.25.75" "elenamor13@yahoo.com" "Elena" "L'Annunziata de Monge" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nElena L'Annunziata"

"20110531-3133" "2011-05-31 17:31:10" "99.96.70.214" "veganzem@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-addc" "2011-05-31 19:39:40" "128.114.246.193" "bbbarba@uosc.edu" "Brittaney" "Barba" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nBrittaney Barba\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-2dcf" "2011-05-31 21:29:16" "71.231.194.12" "rahul.sairam@gmail.com" "Rahul" "Devanarayanan" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110531-be3c" "2011-05-31 22:43:18" "70.57.55.233" "constance.ge@gmail.com" "Connie" "Ge" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110601-9600" "2011-06-01 10:40:34" "76.171.96.64" "fleur@hervas.us" "Fleur" "Hervas" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAracelia Alvarez\r\n Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAracelia Alvarez" "20110602-ed02" "2011-06-02 11:46:13" "75.50.186.39" "mujrmyz@yahoo.com" "Felicia" "Montes" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110602-ce6f" "2011-06-02 12:14:01" "74.87.91.2" "orozco.rubi@gmail.com" "Rubi" "Orozco" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110602-2c5c" "2011-06-02 12:21:27" "198.228.208.121" "patat440@hotmail.com" "Patricia" "Asebez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110602-dfac" "2011-06-02 12:31:44" "97.65.40.46" "envisond2@gmail.com" "jacqueline" "barragan" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110602-7f4e" "2011-06-02 16:12:12" "69.152.61.108" "elpasocactive@gmail.com" "eric" "murillo" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110602-a02e" "2011-06-02 17:09:06" "71.42.197.230" "chextlo@gmail.com" "Ernesto" "Hernandez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110602-1092" "2011-06-02 18:43:09" "206.29.188.187" "marem83@hotmail.com" "Maria Eugenia" "Lopez Calleros" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110604-25bf" "2011-06-04 15:47:42" "128.208.35.177" "scott38@uw.edu" "Scott" "Davis" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110605-42ab" "2011-06-05 13:13:56" "74.61.4.73" "jmyuet@gmail.com" "Jacqueline" "Ma" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nJacqueline Ma" "20110606-1d54" "2011-06-06 13:55:51" "66.74.68.96" "laxmimama@yahoo.com" "Lakshmi" "Ricondo" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110606-ec25" "2011-06-06 13:56:29" "66.74.68.96" "johnayrac22@yahoo.com" "John" "Ricondo" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whathar Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110608-df18" "2011-06-08 20:52:33" "98.149.131.0" "luiza.quijano@gmail.com" "Luiza" "Quijano" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of

opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110608-9389" "2011-06-08 20:54:11" "98.149.131.0" "luiza.quijano@gmail.com" "Luiza" "Quijano" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110609-2512" "2011-06-09 00:26:25" "24.130.92.244" "mtanakit@yahoo.com" "Mary" "Tanakit" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110609-3176" "2011-06-09 01:41:38" "71.133.212.158" "d_delacruz92@att.net" "david" "de la cruz" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110610-4db1" "2011-06-10 02:34:05" "75.3.192.173" "mayra.amezcua.42@my.csun.edu" "Mayra" "Amescua" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110611-3834" "2011-06-11 08:53:04" "69.108.153.59" "robert.wilton@att.net" "robert" "wilton" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nRobert Wilton"

"20110611-ca37" "2011-06-11 08:58:30" "69.108.153.59" "mewalsh11@gmail.com" "maria" "walsh" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nMaria WalshDear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110616-36b3" "2011-06-16 22:34:43" "75.83.197.85" "fainaangel@aol.com" "Jessica" "Pavia" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110616-198d" "2011-06-16 22:47:30" "76.230.46.184" "luisaypsi_1@hotmail.com" "Luis" "Say" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110619-bb2f" "2011-06-19 12:20:42" "74.7.77.225" "jerryapieroe@yahoo.com" "Jerome" "Pierce" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110619-bae3" "2011-06-19 21:00:13" "67.160.85.246" "devinmyers@hotmail.com" "Devin" "Myers" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nDevin Myers" "20110621-645f" "2011-06-21 09:09:07" "74.126.234.251" "LylacWynd@gmail.com" "Sara" "Castro" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this

doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110630-d5b5" "2011-06-30 14:53:07" "66.122.67.171" "jlehr@calpoly.edu" "Jane" "Lehr" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110701-145b" "2011-07-01 01:35:57" "99.146.14.119" "mvax13@hotmail.com" "Allegra" "Padilla" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAllegra Padilla"

"20110702-604a" "2011-07-02 22:13:24" "24.113.77.187" "sing8clt@uw.edu" "Kim" "Sing" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110703-2062" "2011-07-03 13:13:20" "76.166.196.243" "yoltoc23@hotmail.com" "Veta" "Gashgai" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110703-58e7" "2011-07-03 16:26:56" "71.93.175.91" "etizc001@ucr.edu" "Elizabeth" "Tizcareno" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110703-3521" "2011-07-03 21:57:26" "76.171.11.140" "leslie.estrada@gmail.com" "Leslie" "Estrada" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110703-3521" "2011-07-03 21:57:26" "76.171.11.140" "leslie.estrada@gmail.com" "Leslie" "Estrada" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110704-7e99" "2011-07-04 00:17:06" "71.37.61.18" "roscitobandito@yahoo.com" "Rosco" "Kickingstone" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110704-e723" "2011-07-04 18:05:05" "98.165.120.124" "elziav@gmail.com" "Elizabeth" "Venable" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110705-9a45" "2011-07-05 00:41:42" "99.176.10.153" "evoluxion777@yahoo.com" "Iris" "De Anda" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110705-998c" "2011-07-05 10:45:04" "96.229.133.220" "bvhi982@gmail.com" "Bernadette" "Halili" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nMs. Bernadette Halili"

"20110705-e581" "2011-07-05 11:21:00" "75.83.44.58" "anirak77@att.net" "Karina" "Cruz" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110705-f900" "2011-07-05 11:29:38" "50.47.15.191" "devinmyers@hotmail.com" "Devin" "Myers" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDevin Myers"

"20110705-d377" "2011-07-05 19:44:00" "75.38.75.112" "hungrycoyote_12@yahoo.com" "Ramon" "Galvan" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nRamon Galvan Jr."

"20110706-23d1" "2011-07-06 11:01:58" "63.193.188.138" "estevez_1289@hotmail.com"

"Francine" "Estevez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110707-c547" "2011-07-07 16:52:13" "75.38.75.112" "Francine.galvan@yahoo.com"

"Francine" "Galvan" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nFrancine Galvan"

"20110707-3e97" "2011-07-07 17:36:31" "75.247.97.94" "debbyry@hotmail.com"

"Deborah" "Yashar" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDeborah Yashar"

"20110707-bce6" "2011-07-07 17:43:16" "99.191.143.80" "ara.kim@gmail.com" "Ara"

"Kim" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAra Kim"

"20110707-f2cd" "2011-07-07 18:18:34" "166.205.138.215" "Jrands@earthlink.net"

"Jane" "Rands" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110707-9bfb" "2011-07-07 23:18:22" "173.60.85.137" "joannaxe@earthlink.net"

"Joanna" "Moore" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110707-05a8" "2011-07-07 23:36:40" "98.151.15.155" "au760@lafn.org" "Frank"

"Hill" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110708-02f5" "2011-07-08 11:26:45" "72.129.80.201" "helenav27@hotmail.com" "Helena" "Villarino" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110714-af8e" "2011-07-14 11:18:16" "151.190.254.108" "gdroemer907@msn.com" "Gary" "Droemer" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110715-7bbc" "2011-07-15 01:46:40" "98.151.15.155" "au760@lafn.org" "Frank" "Hill" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110715-1996" "2011-07-15 12:59:56" "72.57.165.62" "kacypal@gmail.com" "Kay" "Palmer" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nKPalmerDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110716-d023" "2011-07-16 12:00:47" "76.219.188.103" "janetmeadows@hotmail.com" "Janet" "Meadows" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110716-b75a" "2011-07-16 15:15:34" "64.183.42.25" "futuremg@yahoo.com" "Paula" "Kleihauser" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110716-715c" "2011-07-16 16:40:18" "207.200.116.136" "anightowl1@aol.com" "Teresa" "Belardes" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110717-70df" "2011-07-17 16:46:08" "99.119.252.199" "bizouz2@yahoo.com" "zoubeida" "sajac" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110718-3337" "2011-07-18 17:33:09" "207.151.229.158" "cmontana@usc.edu" "Corrine" "Montana" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110719-8c23" "2011-07-19 14:55:31" "75.83.154.80" "sarabeth561@yahoo.com" "Sara" "Duman" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110719-0744" "2011-07-19 15:32:16" "68.5.83.244" "gus.avilal2@gmail.com" "gus" "avila" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Remember, We put you in office we can take you out of office.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110720-e7d5" "2011-07-20 16:15:46" "108.65.42.112" "mirrihne@yahoo.com" "Margot" "Gardeazabal" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"
 "20110720-d6bd" "2011-07-20 18:16:35" "71.130.214.102" "t_anderson45@yahoo.com"
 "Tonya" "Anderson" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nTonya Anderson"
 "20110721-8b00" "2011-07-21 18:14:39" "66.215.16.169" "gmooring@gmail.com"
 "giovanni" "mooring" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nGiovanni Mooring"
 "20110728-f257" "2011-07-28 00:44:19" "69.235.130.114" "jinxandme@yahoo.com"
 "Lamar" "Pittman" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nPlease do the right thing by the people who elected you to office. Please support the South Central L.A. Farm that is needed by the people who live in Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nLamar Pittman\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"
 "20110728-0468" "2011-07-28 09:07:19" "75.82.184.97" "inspmorsecode@earthlink.net"
 "Elisabeth" "Edwards" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMrs. Elisabeth Adwin Edwards"
 "20110729-e39e" "2011-07-29 10:33:02" "12.236.108.130" "blitz_blatz@hotmail.com"
 "Liliana" "Lopez" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nLiliana Lopez"
 "20110730-968b" "2011-07-30 03:07:41" "174.65.112.32" "mymark@gmail.com" "Mark E."
 "Smith" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nHere in San Diego our City Council just voted unanimously to legalize urban gardens. They may be planted by anyone without any need for permits or fees, on any unused piece of land regardless of zoning. Those who plant gardens have the right to sell their produce on site. Previously they approved sports stadiums they couldn't afford, development projects that brought no increased income to the city, and condominiums that sit empty as homeless people sleep on the streets, all resulting in severe budget deficits and cuts to essential services. This is the first time that they've done something constructive for the City of San Diego that doesn't cost the taxpayers a dime and will benefit everyone.

\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as an elected representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that you respect your low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of California.

\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nMark E. Smith

"20110730-03f2" "2011-07-30 07:25:09" "71.107.142.237" "stevamarine@gmail.com"

"Steve" "Marine" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110730-bed6" "2011-07-30 12:22:05" "206.29.182.168" "gegeyer@gmail.com"

"Graciela" "Geyer" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110730-443a" "2011-07-30 13:33:01" "166.250.76.234" "hozwe@yahoo.com" "Josue"

"Bustos" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110730-236b" "2011-07-30 20:20:51" "66.41.11.29" "katarcher5@yahoo.com"

"Katherine" "archer" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110730-88e5" "2011-07-30 21:03:16" "67.177.185.203" "quakerite@comcast.net"

"margie" "davis" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nmargie davis"

"20110731-6088" "2011-07-31 17:48:49" "76.169.16.11" "vvarma@ucla.edu" "Vanita"

"varma" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110801-a701" "2011-08-01 18:37:35" "76.173.102.89" "elianamann@gmail.com" "Elana" "Mann" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110801-fb5f" "2011-08-01 20:11:35" "98.176.75.244" "indianadrogers@gmail.com" "Indiana" "Rogers" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110801-a511" "2011-08-01 20:55:12" "76.169.195.62" "Conniedlou@gmail.com" "Connie" "DePaepe-Layton" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110801-b971" "2011-08-01 21:51:22" "173.54.255.202" "Loni.leiva@gmail.com"

"Loni" "Leiva" "Dear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nLoni Leiva- Rich"

"20110802-6f3b" "2011-08-02 00:31:36" "173.55.1.170" "tezosmoc@hotmail.com" "Mr" "Tezosmoc" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\""

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-f70a" "2011-08-02 11:49:28" "134.69.38.57" "13carrots@gmail.com" "Rosa" "Romero" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110802-6673" "2011-08-02 11:51:06" "98.112.35.90" "kharasolan@aol.com" "Sarah" "Nolan" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-0ffe" "2011-08-02 12:16:18" "76.168.152.212" "wemoonwitch@earthlink.net" "Tanya" "Salig" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-308f" "2011-08-02 13:24:57" "41.140.9.250" "mouniaoneal@gmail.com" "Mounia" "O'Neal" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last

25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-80f3" "2011-08-02 15:17:24" "174.127.35.94" "drizwald@gmail.com" "Erik" "Andreasen" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-e71b" "2011-08-02 15:25:43" "12.175.182.2" "huertadesalud@gmail.com" "Gloria" "Flores Huerta" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nBelieve me, this is important to communities such as the one where the South central farm is located. Loosing this site will hurt in ways you cannot imagine. Our young people, our old people, all of our people need this land for the Farm. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nGloria Huerta"

"20110802-4261" "2011-08-02 15:30:22" "24.43.17.210" "rik.gaijin@mac.com" "rik" "boguss" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,

Petition summary:

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for:

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally,

There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110802-81f1" "2011-08-02 17:08:41" "74.82.64.20" "leslie@radiojustice.net"

"Leslie" "Radford" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,

Petition summary:

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for:

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally,

There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,

Petition summary:

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for:

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally,

There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110802-f5bf" "2011-08-02 17:09:49" "74.82.64.15" "leslie@radiojustice.net"

"Leslie" "Radford" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,

Petition summary:

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden

spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from

make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110802-0a8d" "2011-08-02 17:16:01" "75.31.106.185" "alice.mcfarland@gmail.com"
"Alice" "McFarland" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAlice McFarland"
"20110802-c6f3" "2011-08-02 17:33:05" "76.90.192.252" "queenkt@yahoo.com"
"Kathryn" "Queen" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-330c" "2011-08-02 17:52:48" "64.134.225.130" "uhmused@yahoo.com" "mike" "chamness" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110802-cd99" "2011-08-02 18:17:50" "76.168.4.241" "andreadunlop@yahoo.com" "Andrea" "Dunlop" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting

on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-9d62" "2011-08-02 20:23:33" "99.91.139.70" "mialauredoba@aol.com" "Mia" "Marano" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-137d" "2011-08-02 21:28:34" "76.168.168.22" "mandyschutt@yahoo.com" "aamanda" "schutt" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-a262" "2011-08-02 21:48:30" "69.235.218.154" "purplelili@rocketmail.com" "Liliana" "Reyes" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110803-571d" "2011-08-03 00:11:53" "75.3.244.101" "jdkalish@earthlink.net" "JD" "Kalish" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110803-c7d9" "2011-08-03 13:06:05" "98.154.98.12" "igalvez@ucla.edu" "Isabel Galvez" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThank You. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nIsabel Galvez"

"20110803-2364" "2011-08-03 13:35:21" "98.149.113.52" "ceja.karina@gmail.com" "karina" "ceja" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "

"20110803-430a" "2011-08-03 13:42:43" "76.175.171.139" "sophiazcheng@gmail.com" "sophia" "cheng" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, " the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110803-76be" "2011-08-03 17:00:32" "207.8.125.210" "bhadsell@hadsellstormer.com"

"Barbara" "Hadsell" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110803-1f0d" "2011-08-03 17:34:52" "76.240.183.126" "COSMA/DANIELA27@YAHOO.COM"

"DANIELA" "COSMA" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110803-69c5" "2011-08-03 17:38:32" "76.170.45.41" "brooke.jonte@gmail.com"

"Brooke" "Jonte" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Brooke Jonte"

"20110803-bed1" "2011-08-03 17:42:22" "67.58.128.253" "sma.walsh@gmail.com" "Sarah"

"Walsh" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110803-ec90" "2011-08-03 18:00:18" "76.175.238.139" "zbutler@oxy.edu"

"Roxanne" "Butler" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110803-3b1b" "2011-08-03 18:07:51" "38.101.117.114" "emily.zietlow@gmail.com"

"Emily" "Zietlow" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor
Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nEmily Zietlow"

"20110803-6a97" "2011-08-03 18:26:27" "76.208.188.147" "elisabeth.elin@gmail.com"

"Elisabeth" "Gustafson" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green

25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-c892" "2011-08-04 00:59:34" "75.83.150.101" "sarabeth581@yahoo.com" "Sara Duman" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-89fd" "2011-08-04 01:12:24" "75.62.146.82" "mrnimis@yahoo.com" "sharon tomlin" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition

summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-1cc4" "2011-08-04 01:13:24" "75.62.146.82" "mike.manzoori@soletechnology.com" "michael" "manzoori" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nKatherine Stewart"

"20110804-bfd4" "2011-08-04 11:53:57" "68.121.86.124" "vopezex16@yahoo.com"

"Victor" "Perez" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-0769" "2011-08-04 12:08:12" "76.89.225.174" "mgalvarez@pasadena.edu"

"Melva" "Alvarez" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South

Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-7487" "2011-08-04 12:49:26" "76.93.42.9" "john@ft.ucla.edu" "John"

"Caldwell" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\n"20110804-146e" "2011-08-04 20:12:15" "174.124.105.171" "wendyolney@yahoo.com" "Wendy" "Olney-Rattal" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\n"20110804-380d" "2011-08-04 20:50:39" "76.173.218.76" "cciwasaki@ucla.edu" "Clara" "Iwasaki" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\n"20110804-8a3f" "2011-08-04 21:37:20" "24.205.185.0" "cmbowers08@gmail.com"

"Christine" "Bowers" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nChristine Bowers"

"20110804-a36c" "2011-08-04 21:39:14" "24.205.185.0" "trpt8ball@me.com" "Steven" "Bowers" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nSteven Bowers"

"20110804-6bc6" "2011-08-04 21:45:33" "75.22.79.193" "huanikeo1@yahoo.com" "Jimmy" "Zavala" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJimmy Zavala"

"20110804-2343" "2011-08-04 21:56:31" "76.212.103.169" "arizonie314@gmail.com" "Danielle" "Young" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110804-foc0" "2011-08-04 22:31:27" "76.170.65.41" "sglcommercial@ca.rr.com" "stephanie" "little" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110805-3e10" "2011-08-05 01:17:24" "67.191.90.74" "tracygoes@hotmail.com" "tracy" "goestenkors" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last

25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110805-f01e" "2011-08-05 11:52:50" "128.125.13.26" "jairo.delgado@gmail.com" "Jairo" "Delgado" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJairo Delgado

"20110805-0f1e" "2011-08-05 19:33:21" "75.1.240.84" "bribri8000@yahoo.com" "Briana" "Ahl" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor

Commissioners, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \"20110805-64fa\" \"2011-08-05 21:02:33\" \"76.172.61.255\" \"Ritzprod@aol.com\" \"Heidi\" \"Burton\" \"Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \"20110806-b4e9\" \"2011-08-06 10:25:54\" \"76.90.177.101\" \"marlene0105@yahoo.com\" \"Marlene\" \"Buenrostro\" \"Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \"20110806-ad04\" \"2011-08-06 16:23:21\" \"98.149.143.245\" \"bernicequinones@rocketmail.com\" \"Berenice\" \"Quinones\" \"Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\"\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that

Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\n Jennifer Hudson" "20110808-e86b" "2011-08-08 18:21:21" "67.127.100.210" "stephanyelias@aol.com" "Nancy" "Campero" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110809-f232" "2011-08-09 15:33:01" "64.183.63.11" "mackhowe@apu.edu" "Mackenzie" "Howe" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110809-036a" "2011-08-09 16:23:24" "99.91.219.168" "angela_johnson_meszaros@yahoo.com" "Angela" "Johnson Meszaros" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-830c" "2011-08-09 16:29:03" "64.175.99.126" "rachelmarielamb@gmail.com"
"Rachel" "Lamb" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-6a26" "2011-08-09 16:29:44" "64.175.99.126" "buddhagirl311@gmail.com"

"Rachel" "Lamb" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-9c1a" "2011-08-09 16:31:23" "67.180.11.58" "wendy@mutantfactory.com"
"Wendy" "Bardsley" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-adc8" "2011-08-09 16:38:39" "76.87.93.247" "tdmworks@gmail.com" "T."

"Myer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-2894" "2011-08-09 16:47:55" "216.34.207.225" "tammy@subverge.net"

"Tammy" "McKean" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-050a" "2011-08-09 16:48:17" "99.162.208.132" "cybellina@mac.com"

"cybelle" "sato" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-9897" "2011-08-09 16:49:52" "76.168.78.222" "justlyseditions@gmail.com" "Justin" "Royse" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-9d7b" "2011-08-09 17:04:20" "24.43.17.210" "rik.gaijin@mac.com" "rik" "bogusz" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-76ff" "2011-08-09 17:05:30" "76.167.181.194" "kwbroom@gmail.com" "Kyle" "Broom" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-d48b" "2011-08-09 17:11:08" "71.142.94.109" "michellems3@gmail.com"
"Michelle" "Mascarenhas" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMichelle Mascarenhas"
"20110809-f88c" "2011-08-09 17:11:09" "71.94.154.35" "shashu_23@yahoo.com" "S"
"Raina" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110809-d171" "2011-08-09 17:12:20" "63.199.102.245" "karchhold@yahoo.com"

"Kelly" "Archbold" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nKelly Archbold"
"20110809-2dc6" "2011-08-09 17:14:20" "128.125.224.128" "smurfie251@hotmail.com"
"Annie" "Yu" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-429d" "2011-08-09 17:16:45" "96.251.99.94" "abhoyer@yahoo.com" "Andrew" "Hoyer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-af5d" "2011-08-09 17:17:51" "96.251.99.94" "abhoyer@yahoo.com" "Andrew" "Hoyer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-afce" "2011-08-09 17:22:08" "149.142.103.49" "khleblanc@gmail.com" "Kim" "LeBlanc" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110809-6412" "2011-08-09 17:39:43" "74.62.204.34" "rardeneta@gmail.com"

robert" "zardeneta" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110809-7804" "2011-08-09 17:44:05" "207.47.110.94" "caitlin.chadwick@gmail.com"

Caitlin" "Williams" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-5df7" "2011-08-09 17:50:35" "75.49.205.6" "aleciafoster@hotmail.com"
"Alecia" "Foster" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nAlecia Foster"

"20110809-33fa" "2011-08-09 18:02:32" "72.245.7.33" "jamiecatino@gmail.com" "Jamie"
"Catino" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-81e2" "2011-08-09 18:26:51" "38.106.61.199" "palbertson@stompweb.com"
"Paul" "Albertson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-24c0" "2011-08-09 18:56:02" "108.203.56.6" "annamuraco@gmail.com" "Anna" "Muraco" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-2dec" "2011-08-09 19:02:32" "174.127.35.94" "drizwald@gmail.com" "Erik" "Andreasen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-66d9" "2011-08-09 19:16:03" "99.146.40.227" "mirrihne@yahoo.com" "Daisy" "Giron" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-6bf7" "2011-08-09 19:31:52" "174.74.15.16" "Colleen@miss-info.net"
 "Colleen" "Cavanaugh Anthony" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110809-fb4b" "2011-08-09 19:38:40" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"
 "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

 "20110809-5739" "2011-08-09 19:53:29" "70.36.178.173" "nancy@sisterschoice.com"
 "Nancy" "Schimmel" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110809-7207" "2011-08-09 20:14:53" "108.80.50.181" "kgarrison@usc.edu" "katie"
 "garrison" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-8c7e" "2011-08-09 20:33:08" "66.92.33.243" "yvonne.sone@gmail.com" "Yvonne" "Sone" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-8c7e" "2011-08-09 20:35:31" "66.92.33.243" "yvonne.sone@gmail.com" "Yvonne" "Sone" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, "20110809-4dc1" "2011-08-09 21:19:35" "169.232.137.138" "sop@uclalummi.net" "Sophia" "Tsai" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nSophia"

"20110809-1c91" "2011-08-09 21:35:39" "75.62.146.82" "mrsnims@yahoo.com" "sharon"

"tomlin" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-2ab3" "2011-08-09 21:36:31" "75.62.146.82" "mike.manzoori@soletechnology.com" "michael" "manzoori" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-4da0" "2011-08-09 21:56:28" "76.168.173.107" "mandyschutt@yahoo.com"

"amanda" "schutt" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-ac93" "2011-08-09 22:01:10" "76.168.207.17" "daniellaliber@gmail.com"

"Daniella" "Liber" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-6d16" "2011-08-09 22:07:27" "75.50.188.124" "airezapatista@hotmail.com"

"john" "martinez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110809-7c85" "2011-08-09 22:09:06" "99.103.247.52" "betabethany@gmail.com" "Bethany" "Malmgren" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110809-76b0" "2011-08-09 22:10:53" "207.151.76.48" "eseiter@me.com" "Ellem" "Seiter" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110809-b26e" "2011-08-09 22:15:03" "76.90.177.101" "marlene0105@yahoo.com" "Marlene" "Buenrostro" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, "20110809-fe88" "2011-08-09 22:16:45" "75.50.188.124" "airezapatista@hotmail.com" "john" "martinez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-6acc" "2011-08-09 23:23:11" "75.4.209.212" "brednjami@yahoo.com" "bret" "polish" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-fa91" "2011-08-09 23:24:06" "99.97.16.96" "kristen.penalosa@gmail.com" "kristen" "penalosa" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nKristen Penalosa"

"20110809-9dd6" "2011-08-09 23:34:28" "66.214.138.206" "amaeklein@yahoo.com" "audrey" "klein" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110809-aea7" "2011-08-09 23:53:26" "76.194.226.204" "leslie@radiojustice.net"
"Leslie" "Radford" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-a250" "2011-08-10 00:07:11" "98.154.54.103" "iamtara@msn.com" "Tara"

"Nearman" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nTara Nearman"

"20110810-dld8" "2011-08-10 00:22:03" "200.121.205.190" "ramonesx@hotmail.com"
"jaguar" "rokoto" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-207d" "2011-08-10 01:16:30" "82.11.1.83" "akdavis@berkeley.edu"

"Andrea" "Davis" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.5 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-ffb9" "2011-08-10 08:26:36" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com"

"Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com"

"Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of

Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-29ad" "2011-08-10 09:04:59" "76.218.76.221" "janienilsson@mac.com" "Janet"

"Nilsson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nJanet Nilsson"

"20110810-d663" "2011-08-10 09:07:55" "76.173.97.78" "susubird@gmail.com" "aimee"

"peterson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-2785" "2011-08-10 09:08:32" "76.173.97.78" "susubird@gmail.com" "aimee"

"peterson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-3587" "2011-08-10 09:45:24" "24.17.244.143" "standby4zane@gmail.com"

"Zane" "Muthamia" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-55e0" "2011-08-10 09:45:56" "76.90.9.45" "crossfade88@yahoo.com" "Evan"

"Lasry" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-0f8c" "2011-08-10 09:51:32" "75.84.122.95" "sjtower@gmail.com" "Sarah"
"Tower" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-626d" "2011-08-10 10:04:37" "184.214.95.93" "pemodog@sbcglobal.net"

"Cynthia" "Babich" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-3b23" "2011-08-10 10:19:23" "67.223.166.173" "sitaluna8@yahoo.com"

"Therese" "Cooney" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nTherese-Marie Cooney"

"20110810-cbe2" "2011-08-10 10:23:33" "98.154.58.210" "lfinfante@ucdavis.edu" "Louis"
"Infante" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-0ae2" "2011-08-10 10:57:04" "71.189.187.70" "sir_angel_224@yahoo.com" "Angelina" "Carrasco" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-6487" "2011-08-10 11:11:07" "71.142.69.92" "syhsjsu@gmail.com" "sandra" "huerta" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS""

become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-094b" "2011-08-10 11:16:56" "76.79.219.34" "anaalicia.thompson@yahoo.com" "Ana" "Thompson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nBlanca A. Samano \r\n\r\nCalifornia State University, Northridge

"20110810-5da4" "2011-08-10 11:26:39" "76.87.24.114" "aschlage@alumni.uci.edu"
"Ariel" "Schlager" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, "
"20110810-9a6e" "2011-08-10 11:43:49" "69.111.72.229" "mewalsh1@gmail.com" "Maria Elena" "Walsh" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-21e9" "2011-08-10 11:56:34" "69.142.110.62" "centauress6@live.com"

"Denise" "Lytle" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-1313" "2011-08-10 12:04:36" "184.98.87.56" "dhindery@uoregon.edu"

"Derrick" "Hindery" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-df74" "2011-08-10 12:19:47" "108.81.247.193" "jeanette_bagg@hotmail.com"

"Jeanette" "carlin" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nJeanette Carlin"

"20110810-0a17" "2011-08-10 12:50:15" "68.186.59.237" "robert.j.garcia21@gmail.com" "robert" "garcia" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-ff1c" "2011-08-10 12:51:23" "68.186.59.237" "robert.j.garcia21@gmail.com" "r" "g" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nRobert Garcia"

"20110810-8db3" "2011-08-10 12:57:08" "75.51.68.218" "tellislv@yahoo.com" "Ed" "Tellis" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-95dc" "2011-08-10 14:47:00" "75.85.51.65" "carole_ly@hotmail.com" "Carole" "Ly" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-174b" "2011-08-10 15:18:47" "68.69.166.159" "gulmer@mcn.org" "Gene" "Ulmer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-bc43" "2011-08-10 15:20:19" "68.69.166.159" "gulmer@mcn.org" "Gene" "Ulmer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-306a" "2011-08-10 15:55:31" "76.89.129.63" "fivestarkarin@aol.com" "Karin" "Anderson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-7df6" "2011-08-10 15:57:26" "75.62.146.82"

"mike.manzoori@soletechnology.com" "michael" "manzoori" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-bcc9" "2011-08-10 19:48:47" "75.22.77.194" "eddietechnical@yahoo.com" "Eddie" "Sabbathian" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110810-4df7" "2011-08-10 21:32:40" "75.50.179.79" "zypympl@yahoo.com" "zulma"

"perez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110810-4F9a" "2011-08-10 22:38:36" "96.251.16.198" "laropa@verizon.net" "lainy" "parry" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-ab34" "2011-08-11 00:01:30" "98.119.155.86" "vicentejr.juan@gmail.com" "Juan" "Vicente" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJuan F. Vicente Jr.\r\n\r\nP.S. Jan Perry's concerns regarding current potentially hazardous emissions could be resolved by the South Central Farmers agricultural efforts. An additional industrial complex might lower the unemployment percentage while compounding Jan Perry's emissions concerns to a state of certainty. The restoration of the South Central Farm would not only lower unemployment it would also be a natural solution to Jan Perry's air quality concerns. Remember the 4-H motto; Head, Heart, Hands, and Health."

"20110811-c165" "2011-08-11 00:25:43" "71.108.35.165" "vicki_joma@yahoo.com" "Vicki"

"Vigil" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-c220" "2011-08-11 07:52:54" "174.124.64.45" "wendyolney@yahoo.com" "Wendy" "Olney-Rattel" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-lecc" "2011-08-11 08:44:33" "76.169.34.43" "arianewhite@yahoo.com" "Ariane" "White" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-bf38" "2011-08-11 09:06:22" "75.73.91.182" "ljpcoluha@gmail.com" "Lauren" "Poluha" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm." "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110811-6e98" "2011-08-11 14:33:59" "99.91.216.134" "roleeg752@yahoo.com" "Robert" "Gomez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm." "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110811-5588" "2011-08-11 15:14:45" "71.133.220.130" "rh2578georgetown.edu" "Rocio" "Hernandez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm." "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110811-e45b" "2011-08-11 15:51:41" "64.60.9.46" "andrew_altamirano@yahoo.com" "Andrew" "Altamirano" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm." "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-8b81" "2011-08-11 17:25:52" "71.130.84.40" "pshaw55@sbcbglobal.net" "Pam" "Hall" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-4237" "2011-08-11 18:39:51" "99.91.219.168" "angela.johnson_meszaros@yahoo.com" "Angela" "Johnson Meszaros" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110811-e5f2" "2011-08-11 18:43:33" "76.87.81.33" "david@soulliorganic.com" "David" "Weinstein" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110811-87ac" "2011-08-11 19:26:52" "186.69.121.141" "ariel.climer@gmail.com" "Ariel" "Climer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110811-d647" "2011-08-11 20:07:52" "24.130.37.243" "fassalit@hotmail.com" "Florence" "Assalit" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110812-a4ba" "2011-08-12 00:00:11" "75.50.117.121" "opinsbyrne@gmail.com" "Casey" "Marsh" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-2b6b" "2011-08-12 00:32:23" "96.251.99.94" "abhoyer@yahoo.com" "Andrew" "Hoyer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-876d" "2011-08-12 08:47:03" "64.132.0.250" "patrick.lewis@wholefoods.com"

"Patrick" "Lewis" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-94cb" "2011-08-12 08:56:38" "71.130.216.216" "sanluna01@hotmail.com"

"Sandra" "Luna" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-9aae" "2011-08-12 12:04:24" "75.30.123.140" "mcbethany@gmail.com"

"Bethany" "McKinney" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nBethany McKinney\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-c328" "2011-08-12 12:10:18" "70.162.220.101" "rshman407@yahoo.com"

"ruth" "roman" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-002e" "2011-08-12 12:33:48" "24.43.81.18" "DerickDressel@gmail.com"

"derick" "dressel" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

"20110812-3f48" "2011-08-12 12:40:01" "166.205.140.183" "salinger83@me.com" "Heather" "Ashby" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

"20110812-3e82" "2011-08-12 12:52:15" "75.82.181.84" "mkuhn@usc.edu" "Mary" "Kuhn" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nMary Kuh"

"20110812-0fd8" "2011-08-12 12:52:51" "75.84.195.168" "rclim@att.net" "Roger" "Lim" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-207e" "2011-08-12 13:00:17" "64.183.63.11" "rachel3022@gmail.com"

"Rachel" "Torres" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of

Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-6406" "2011-08-12 13:06:16" "64.60.206.228" "jrhautzinger@gmail.com"

"John" "Hautzinger" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-62ba" "2011-08-12 13:08:27" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"

"Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110812-697b" "2011-08-12 13:09:45" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"

"Eoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110812-b385" "2011-08-12 13:37:12" "68.5.83.244" "gus.avila@gmail.com" "gus"

"avila" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Jan Perrie is a criminal! Sincerely,

"20110812-d27a" "2011-08-12 14:06:03" "173.55.106.89" "melaniekayla@gmail.com"

"Melanie" "Dosen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110812-0a3e" "2011-08-12 14:16:01" "12.173.114.34" "sassysally5@hotmail.com" "Sally" "LaPorte" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110812-79c7" "2011-08-12 14:44:58" "67.191.90.74" "tracygoes@hotmail.com" "Tracy" "Goestenkors" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110812-a836" "2011-08-12 14:44:58" "151.190.0.1" "jan.perry@lacity.org" "Jan"
 "Perry" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-615f" "2011-08-12 15:06:30" "128.97.222.127" "trac@college.ucla.edu"
 "Tracay" "Martin" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

 "20110812-14c5" "2011-08-12 15:06:30" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"
 "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-7d5b" "2011-08-12 15:07:56" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"
 "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-031b" "2011-08-12 15:14:48" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com"
 "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-3434" "2011-08-12 15:18:08" "76.169.65.141" "arturoharker@gmail.com"
 "Arturo" "Harker Roa" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-71df" "2011-08-12 15:21:40" "98.149.142.107" "ughangtplastic@gmail.com"

 "Claudette" "Arreola" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-4d77" "2011-08-12 16:54:10" "69.232.38.173" "joey511@rocketmail.com"
"JOSE" "ASENCIO" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-aeda" "2011-08-12 17:04:13" "131.179.116.100" "israelhsu@gmail.com"

"Israel" "Hsu" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers

of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-2e52" "2011-08-12 17:27:36" "71.118.247.254" "nobodyslaw@yahoo.com"
"Ricky" "Grubb" "Dear Elected Representative, Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nRicky Grubb"

"20110812-1007" "2011-08-12 18:37:00" "75.27.189.129" "catcampion@yahoo.com"
"Catherine" "Campion" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-9bed" "2011-08-12 19:27:52" "72.130.112.205" "madmadamemim@yahoo.com"

"Kristin" "Brink" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110812-f843" "2011-08-12 21:25:32" "98.119.13.172" "pjcieslie@gmail.com"
"Joanne" "Leslie" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-6def" "2011-08-12 21:33:48" "99.194.173.164" "dougivafuc@aol.com"

 "Katie" "House" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110812-ec7e" "2011-08-12 23:28:28" "99.106.246.116" "Spy86d@yahoo.com" "maria"
 "sundeen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before

South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to

"20110813-eaf6" "2011-08-13 00:51:12" "76.90.201.235" "andre@compuserve.com" "Andre" "Kohler" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n" As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-6055" "2011-08-13 00:57:52" "75.50.109.32" "carolng38@yahoo.com" "Carol" "Ng" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n" As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-284f" "2011-08-13 02:31:57" "71.177.60.158" "ursa-1@verizon.net" "Bernie" "Eisenberg" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n" As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-6005" "2011-08-13 03:10:44" "70.95.48.12" "dcww@yahoo.com" "Donna" "Worden" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-9b19" "2011-08-13 03:12:33" "70.95.48.12" "dcwww@yahoo.com" "Donna"

"Worden" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central

Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-e51a" "2011-08-13 07:59:56" "66.241.75.42" "l_wale@yahoo.com" "Liisa"

"Wale" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110813-ce67" "2011-08-13 08:49:57" "69.228.1.132" "janehallaren@sbcglobal.net"

"jane" "hallarm" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, \"I do have their names, and I can grab them.\" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\" We request that these companies withdraw before their \"BRANDS\" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, \"I do have their names, and I can grab them.\" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\" We request that these companies withdraw before their \"BRANDS\" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

\"20110813-9035\" \"2011-08-13 09:21:13\" \"76.173.57.136\" \"josh@helemanu.com\" \"Josh\"

\"Cooper\" \"Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, \"I do have their names, and I can grab them.\" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.\" We request that these companies withdraw before their \"BRANDS\" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-b7b3" "2011-08-13 09:21:41" "66.189.37.189" "lark2@mindspring.com" "Tracy" "Larkins" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-9f02" "2011-08-13 09:25:24" "66.189.37.189" "lark2@mindspring.com" "Tracy" "Larkins" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-1166" "2011-08-13 09:50:23" "76.173.74.153" "jamiakim123@gmail.com" "Hyon" "Kim" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110813-f476" "2011-08-13 09:51:16" "76.173.74.153" "jamielim123@gmail.com" "hyon"

"Kim" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-72f9" "2011-08-13 10:47:06" "50.8.133.252" "shernagluck@gmail.com"
"Sherna" "Gluck" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-93fe" "2011-08-13 10:47:56" "96.251.152.143" "ckeen@apu.edu" "Craig"
"Keen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Craig Keen, Professor of Theology, Azusa Pacific University

"20110813-f05e" "2011-08-13 11:37:56" "72.207.106.117" "celticwomanwicklow@hotmail.com" "Mary Lou" "Finley" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110813-ca4a" "2011-08-13 11:58:25" "67.185.102.237" "bluefire242@yahoo.com" "Angela" "Coryell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110813-766f" "2011-08-13 12:00:44" "99.107.201.206" "rdsathene@sbcglobal.net" "Robert D." "Skeels" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-76b4" "2011-08-13 12:49:35" "159.83.182.130" "edgararriola33@yahoo.com" "edgar" "arriola" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-958b" "2011-08-13 12:58:12" "76.90.144.66" "antiracistaction_la@yahoo.com" "Michael" "Novick" "Dear Herb Wesson\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-6d67" "2011-08-13 14:02:19" "159.83.4.153" "savefolder99@hotmail.com" "RAUL" "OROZCO" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-8cf2" "2011-08-13 14:14:04" "76.254.17.58" "normaha@pacbell.net" "Norma J F" "Harrison" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nNorma J F Harrison, Berkeley, Ca. Working to let us become able to function for OUR benefit, opposite working for our Owners' benefit - whether we're employed or not."

"20110813-b881" "2011-08-13 15:47:35" "71.165.140.6" "palbertson@stompweb.com" "Paul" "Albertson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-9e53" "2011-08-13 17:38:01" "76.222.235.89" "kghasri@gmail.com" "Kamran" "Ghasri" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110813-90bd" "2011-08-13 18:41:40" "70.237.103.69" "mg_91203@yahoo.com" "Mike" "Gomez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry.\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110813-a18b" "2011-08-13 20:42:19" "68.49.236.20" "saritakoz@aol.com" "Sara" "Kozameh" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-3def" "2011-08-13 20:45:50" "68.49.236.20" "saritakoz@aol.com" "Sara" "Kozameh" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110813-cc23" "2011-08-13 21:55:54" "76.172.202.159" "jpnsmail@yahoo.co.jp" "Kota" "Inoue" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110813-e441" "2011-08-13 22:56:15" "99.44.61.158" "anaflore@earthlink.net"
 "Ana" "Gutierrez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los

Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110813-19c5" "2011-08-13 23:10:08" "76.94.174.26" "kalel@well.com" "Heatj"
 "Row" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith

by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110814-5e6e" "2011-08-14 08:35:21" "71.55.109.132" "onecaruso@yahoo.com" "victor" "caruso" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nVictor A. Caruso"

"20110814-b7c5" "2011-08-14 16:08:51" "76.171.77.52" "spike1979@earthlink.net" "Chris" "Devcich" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110814-a57d" "2011-08-14 19:24:34" "98.112.122.11" "jyudell@smc.edu" "j" "yudell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n" "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central "20110815-61f4" "2011-08-15 01:37:41" "71.189.187.70" "sir_angel_224@yahoo.com" "Angelina" "Carrasco" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110815-ec07" "2011-08-15 09:05:17" "76.90.79.202" "ckryder@ca.rr.com" "Tina" "Ryder" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,"

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nTina Ryder"

"20110815-863a" "2011-08-15 11:31:42" "71.165.14.188" "katerina.m.friesen@gmail.com" "Katerina" "Friesen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110815-a0f2" "2011-08-15 12:33:39" "75.82.182.180" "adambowers2001@yahoo.com" "Adam" "Bowers" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110815-f663" "2011-08-15 13:22:56" "64.183.44.130" "yudamaan@yahoo.com" "Yehuda" "Maayan" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110815-fc44" "2011-08-15 14:24:00" "216.73.216.111" "goodwork@igc.org" "Joseph" "Maizlish" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

"20110815-ad60" "2011-08-15 16:11:30" "38.64.72.180" "Shenayaa@gmail.com"

"Shenaya" "Archer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

"20110815-4c8b" "2011-08-15 19:47:01" "216.73.206.51" "motownlu2@yahoo.com" "Lu P."

"Cruz" "Dear Elected Representative\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\"

"20110816-16ad" "2011-08-16 05:55:57" "97.89.240.101" "dancurilla@yahoo.com"

"jackie" "curilla" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nJackie and Dan Curilla"

"20110816-c78f" "2011-08-16 09:19:39" "66.90.243.158" "dw45575@AggieNetwork.com"

"Dave" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDave Waugh"

"20110816-577b" "2011-08-16 22:47:05" "98.112.122.11" "jyudell@smc.edu" "j"

"yudell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110817-cb06" "2011-08-17 06:47:24" "208.54.39.129" "Cihuatldelsol@yahoo.com"

"Monique" "MacGregor" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110817-a8a2" "2011-08-17 14:24:15" "71.165.14.188" "marykateglenn@yahoo.com" "Marykate" "Glenn" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110817-9140" "2011-08-17 17:22:49" "108.192.90.244" "hungrycoyote_12@yahoo.com" "Ramon" "Galvan" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Ramon Galvan"

"20110818-0c56" "2011-08-18 19:06:19" "96.251.72.90" "brosie96@yahoo.com" "Bettina" "R" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110819-f976" "2011-08-19 19:29:27" "187.192.128.153" "bgblwhl@yahoo.com" "cynthia" "rodriguez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110820-788b" "2011-08-20 16:18:39" "76.87.37.81" "mtomaza@gmail.com" "Tomaza" "Morales" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS"

become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110822-4f21" "2011-08-22 10:48:31" "96.251.80.192" "jackneff01@yahoo.com" "Jack" "Neff" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\n\r\nJack Neff"

"20110822-7fa7" "2011-08-22 17:33:49" "76.90.87.219" "madidia@gmail.com" "mark" "didia" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nMark DiDia"

"20110822-b221" "2011-08-22 18:24:29" "76.166.96.174" "xmpmail@gmail.com" "DIANA" "CAMACHO" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110822-e079" "2011-08-22 23:43:35" "96.251.114.131" "tonyhoang1@gmail.com" "Tony" "Hoang" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nTony Hoang"

"20110823-647c" "2011-08-23 13:09:21" "206.211.208.83" "ashoulders84@gmail.com" "Adam" "Shoulders" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary:
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary:
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary:
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

Petition summary:
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110825-6F5e" "2011-08-25 12:33:19" "64.134.226.119" "lizzalvarado@gmail.com" "Elizabeth" "Alvarado" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110825-55f6" "2011-08-25 22:56:51" "76.169.136.211" "andreasitar@gmail.com" "Andrea" "Sitar" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already had deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110827-2a10" "2011-08-27 03:36:59" "76.255.239.238" "robmon@rocketmail.com"

"Robin" "Monteiro" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110828-d436" "2011-08-28 21:06:15" "71.105.92.158" "saraemcdonald@gmail.com"

"Sara" "McDonald" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

"20110830-443a" "2011-08-30 17:18:59" "199.184.238.132" "jlei2003@hotmail.com"

"Jenny" "Elsey" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central

Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Jenny Elsey"

"20110902-f8d2" "2011-09-02 18:17:32" "71.107.51.174" "baharmony@yahoo.com" "bahar" "badi" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, bahara"

"20110902-4c27" "2011-09-02 21:27:07" "72.197.56.13" "hijodechupacabra@yahoo.com" "Travis" "Corona" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110903-ad59" "2011-09-03 14:05:29" "71.189.24.231" "sanaa.amali@gmail.com" "sanaa" "amali" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

\r\n\r\nSincerely,\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110908-50db" "2011-09-08 10:25:13" "74.7.92.170" "lstepick@gmail.com" "Lina" "Stepick" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110908-c39f" "2011-09-08 13:01:00" "74.7.92.170" "rfukuda@elacc.org" "Reina" "Fukuda" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely," "20110908-ale9" "2011-09-08 13:11:34" "74.7.92.170" "mrarchi@msn.com" "Maury" "Ruano" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room

deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nMaury Ruano"

"20110908-85bc" "2011-09-08 13:11:55" "128.120.100.43" "beatriz0219@yahoo.com"

"Beatriz" "anguiano" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110908-3422" "2011-09-08 13:12:18" "64.162.170.194" "nadiasmom@care2.com"

"Christina" "Lin" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nDear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110908-8439" "2011-09-08 13:38:44" "74.7.92.170" "Legaspi28@hotmail.com" "Lupe" "Legaspi"
 "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."

She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of

Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110909-3045" "2011-09-09 11:37:40" "76.90.223.12" "eternalpulse@gmail.com" "Stewart" "Lopez"
 "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."

She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110909-867e" "2011-09-09 11:42:49" "69.230.177.250" "thamezenger@yahoo.com" "Rudy" "Villalobos"
 "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."

She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

-LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Luv the Mezenger"

"20110909-381a" "2011-09-09 13:20:08" "174.254.69.3" "Alicia.Ayala.90@gmail.com"

"Alicia" "Ayala" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110909-7833" "2011-09-09 14:34:28" "130.166.216.254" "emz87ha@yahoo.com"

"Eduardo" "Zamora" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110909-3E0d" "2011-09-09 18:24:05" "209.127.216.49" "marbbu184@yahoo.com"

"martha" "bueno" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12,

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
 Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110912-60a6" "2011-09-12 18:49:27" "205.175.122.65" "bellapazza@hotmail.com"
 "Amity" "Neumeister" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 Amity Neumeister
 Seattle WA
 "20110916-73d0" "2011-09-16 21:11:33" "24.205.20.66" "crystal.t.gonzalez@gmail.com"
 "Crystal" "Gonzalez" "Dear Elected Representative, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20110917-8a51" "2011-09-17 12:46:10" "76.168.10.155" "eyeoverlap@msn.com" "Fete"

"Borboa" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110919-efec" "2011-09-19 18:42:12" "75.85.11.172" "aaronbrounstein@mac.com" "aaron" "brounstein" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110925-fe0f" "2011-09-25 11:32:49" "98.200.216.73" "e;house629@gmail.com" "eric" "house" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, ""I do have their names, and I can grab them."" She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."" We request that these companies withdraw before their ""BRANDS"" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.\r\n""As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110926-ab3c" "2011-09-26 04:24:52" "71.45.13.49" "dcc6@aol.com" "Deanna" "Cummings" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20110930-6020" "2011-09-30 15:06:46" "75.65.100.217" "claudiagunetti@yahoo.com"
 "Claudia" "Gunetti" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20111003-de01" "2011-10-03 10:48:10" "170.108.109.15"
 "daniel_arreola@xtrematechnicalsolutions.com" "Daniel" "Arreola" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

"20111009-f7ad" "2011-10-09 19:43:12" "76.118.236.112" "mpidge84@hotmail.com"
 "Matthew" "Pidge" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,"

Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20111009-fd3b" "2011-10-09 19:47:30" "76.118.236.112" "jjwyland@gmail.com"
 "Jason" "Wyland" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of

Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20111010-a142" "2011-10-10 12:50:23" "66.75.67.250" "Jon93534@gmail.com"
 "Jonathan" "Larsen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,
 "20111013-c15c" "2011-10-13 12:36:05" "184.4.156.36" "sunnyshineyme@yahoo.com"
 "April" "HOWELL" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.

We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.

As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\n\r\nApril Howell...A resident of Florida who was using the gardens in L.A. as my inspiration to celebrate community, happiness, well-being, nutrition, and responsibility. What lesson are you giving to the children of your community by destroying what is dear to the hearts of their families? All for the love of money. The destruction of the gardens was a travesty and should be deemed shameful that ANYONE would prefer to have another ugly building instead of healthful green in that space. You can't grow an avocado in concrete, can you? Why doesn't the city use the monies they gained in sale of the property to set up another garden? Demolish and old, vacant, dangerous building? Give BACK to the community in lieu of taking away!!!!"

"20111016-0906" "2011-10-16 23:46:01" "69.120.210.83" "laware.tara@gmail.com" "Tara"
"LaWare" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already had deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\n\r\nSincerely,"