

CF #11-1524
EM NO (18) Item #18

Bruce Campbell

November 14, 2011

Bruce Campbell
3520 Overland Ave. # A 149
Los Angeles, CA 90034

Los Angeles City Council
L.A. City Hall
200 No. Spring Street
Los Angeles, CA 90012

Re: ITEM No. (18) "11-1524 CD 9 ADMINISTRATIVE EXEMPTION, BUDGET AND FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT and ORDINANCE FIRST CONSIDERATION relative to amending an agreement with Libaw-Horowitz Investment Company concerning the Lancer Property (41st and Alameda) and establishing a trust fund for receipt and disbursement of funds."

To the Members of the Los Angeles City Council:

I hereby state my opposition to the currently proposed in lieu amendment which would alter conditions set forth by the duly-voted settlement reached by the City of Los Angeles and Libaw-Horowitz back in 2003 in regards to the site at 41st and Alameda Streets in South Central Los Angeles.

IT IS IMPROPER TO SEEK AN ADMINISTRATIVE EXEMPTION from a MORE THOROUGH CEQA ANALYSIS of IMPACTS of the ASSOCIATED ACTIONS under ITEM NO. (18)

First, let us examine the wording pertaining to this agenda item. Note that "ITEM NO.(18) 11-1524" seeks an "ADMINISTRATIVE EXEMPTION" in order to not thoroughly analyze this proposal under the backbone of California environmental laws which is the California Environmental Quality Act. I contend that adopting such an amendment and exemption is improper.

Clearly, the proposed amendment clearly involves a series of actions which have real on-the-ground and in-the-air impacts on and near the 41st and Alameda site. Thus, the action is not merely administrative, so it should not qualify for this proposed skirting of a more thorough analysis of the impacts of all portions of this proposal under the California Environmental Policy Act.

The claim is that the establishment of the "Lancer Site Recreational Improvements Trust Fund" is considered "an administrative activity" and is claimed to be "exempt from the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) in accordance with Article II, Section 2(f), of the Los Angeles City CEQA Guidelines." Let us examine the wording under Article II, Section 2(f). "f." reads: Continuing administrative, maintenance and personnel-related activities." Seeing that a new recreational improvements trust fund proposal is new, thus it is not "continuing." While one can contend that the mere establishment of a trust fund is an administrative function, but the associated actions related to Item 18 certainly goes beyond merely administrative bureaucratic functions -- and thus need a more thorough analysis under CEQA.

Thus, I have pointed out how some of the associated actions under Item No. (18) cannot be allowed to be claimed to be merely administrative/bureaucratic. Next, let us look further into the wording under Los Angeles City CEQA Exemptions. Besides administrative, it also says that "maintenance, and personnel-related activities" also qualify for exemption from a more thorough CEQA analysis. However if the fund is for new "recreational improvements", then actions related to this measure go well beyond mere maintenance of the current situations at some crowded fairly nearby parks in the general area of the 41st and Alameda site -- and thus claiming it is merely maintenance is disingenuous and the claim should be insufficient grounds for escaping a more thorough CEQA analysis of all repercussions of the actions being considered by the City Council and then Mayor of Los Angeles.

And while I imagine that some of the "recreational improvements" may involve paying staff and personnel, but it is certainly a stretch to seek an exemption from a more thorough CEQA analysis of associated actions being considered due to a claim that they are "personnel-related activities". Thus, none of the words under Los Angeles City CEQA Guidelines Article II, Section 2(f) apply to the series of actions being considered by the City Council. Various changes related to action being considered are new and thus not "continuing", while there are substantial changes to land use and worsening of air quality (and related health impacts) relating to the abandonment of the duly-voted City agreement with Libaw-Horowitz back in 2003, and thus the actions go far beyond what one could argue is the administrative function of merely setting up a recreational improvements trust fund. And, as pointed out already, new recreational improvements by definition goes beyond mere maintenance (and thus maintenance is inapplicable), while spending money from the recreation improvements trust fund on anything besides paid staff and personnel goes beyond "personnel-related activities" and thus no word of the regulation claimed to justify the abandonment of a more thorough CEQA analysis of the various impacts of the changes in the project at the 41st and Alameda site is applicable in this case.

One more thing seeing that language is being carefully evaluated here. Not only have I made the argument that the various actions associated with the Council vote should not qualify as an exemption since it is alleged to be a mere administrative activity, but let us also examine the wording of the name of the trust fund.

This action proposes the setting up of "the Lancer Site Recreational Improvements Trust Fund." Why is this called the Lancer site? The LANCER municipal waste incinerator was never built. People were doing urban farming at the 41st and Alameda site for about 14 years, so why is a proposal defeated 26 years ago get its name used for the site, and not what was mostly occurring on the site since the L.A. civil disturbances of 1992?

So, at least we know that the 41st and Alameda site is being referred to as the Lancer site -- can we agree on that?? Certainly, the vote regarding Item (18) impacts what will occur on the approximately 14 acres of the South Central Farm / LANCER / 41st and Alameda site. However, why call it the "Lancer Site Recreational Improvements Trust Fund"? Certainly, there are serious implications in regards to what will occur on the 41st and Alameda site from the vote on Item No. (18). Seeing that the main plan is to escape from the earlier municipal agreement in order to allow development of the entire 41st and Alameda site -- rather than allow a soccer field or other community green space to be part of the landscape on part of this site, so one contend that the vote on Item No. (18) certainly impacts the Lancer Site. However, seeing that the words "Recreational Improvements Trust" occur immediately after "Lancer Site" in regards to the trust fund seeking to be established as one of the actions under Item No. (18), since an affirmative vote on Item No. (18) would allow the development of the entire 41st and Alameda site, thus it is apparent that NO RECREATIONAL IMPROVEMENTS WOULD OCCUR at the Lancer Site / 41st and Alameda site / South Central Farm site. Thus, the name of the trust fund makes no sense because none of the funds for recreational improvements would occur at the site from which the trust fund received its name.

PERTAINING to AUTHORIZING and DIRECTING the EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR of the BOARD of HARBOR COMMISSIONERS

Can the Los Angeles City Council direct the Harbor Department, Harbor Commission, or any of its officers to do things? Can you point to legal statutes which could justify this?

And a more theoretical question. I have heard repeatedly that there are independent departments and commissions such as related to the Harbor and the Airports. But, if the LA City Council can direct the Executive Director of the Board of Harbor Commissioners to do things related to this case, could the LA City Council also direct these commissions and departments to send some of their funds to the budget-strapped City General Fund?? If not, why not? And if not, why can they get away with ordering the Executive Director of the Board of Harbor Commissioners to do things in the case of the 41st and Alameda site and related actions under Item No. (18)?

Faint, illegible text covering the upper half of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Faint, illegible text covering the lower half of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

EMERGING TOXIC LEGACY of 41st and ALAMEDA SITE

New info has emerged in regards to contamination at the 41st and Alameda site. While many South Central Farmers realized that the soil at the South Central Farm site was not immaculate, I believe that some new information has emerged in regards to the 41st and Alameda site. Councilwoman Jan Perry spoke at the Council committee hearing in regards to this site last month, and noted that the 41st and Alameda site is contaminated by toxic material -- including with Hexavalent Chromium. I am unaware that any farmers of the site or even their spokespeople had heard that the site was especially contaminated -- including by Hexavalent Chromium.

When did the City of Los Angeles realize that the 41st and Alameda site was especially contaminated, and did they tell anyone about such findings? When did the City of Los Angeles know that there was Hexavalent Chromium contamination on the 41st and Alameda site, and did they tell anyone about such findings?

Seeing that Councilwoman Jan Perry has admitted on the record that there is notable contamination at the 41st and Alameda site (including Hexavalent Chromium contamination), when did this Ms. Perry learn of the contamination of the site in general, and when did she learn about the Hexavalent Chromium contamination of the site?

Please release all documents (both paperwork and electronically-stored info) related to any Los Angeles City official or staff who may have known about serious contamination of the 41st and Alameda site -- including contamination with Hexavalent Chromium.

It appears that Ms. Perry is a latecomer to publicly noting contamination of the 41st and Alameda. But, it is now on the record that this site is especially contaminated. Seeing that this is the case (if we are to believe Ms. Perry's pronouncements at the Council committee hearing last month), are there any plans for insisting on especially thorough cleanup of the 41st and Alameda site before any buildings are built, or perhaps even before a transfer of property title to the site? Why or why not?

When did Jan Perry first hear about the toxic contamination at the 41st and Alameda site? Was it when she worked for Councilman Gilbert Lindsay, during her own Council tenure, or at another time?

And speaking of farmers and toxic situations, Councilwoman Perry and others point to how nice the City was to allow some to farm beneath powerlines near 111th and Avalon. So, allow farming on an especially contaminated site without telling them, and then try to split the farmers by letting some farm under powerlines if they will break with the bulk of farmers who wanted to stay at the 41st and Alameda site. This is essentially continuing abuse mostly of indigenous / Latino people, and is truly disgraceful!

Main Reason Given for Inadequacy of the 41st and Alameda site for a Soccer Field / Open Space is that Recreation is Inappropriate on the Site due to Diesel Emissions

While Councilwoman Perry's admission in regards to the especially contaminated 41st and Alameda site is one argument used to keep out the community and instead build on the entire site, the main reason which has been emphasized is that diesel emissions are too high in and around the 41st and Alameda site to healthily accommodate such activities.

The last proposal for the 41st and Alameda site was the Forever 21 proposal for a large warehouse and distribution center which would result in an additional 2581 diesel truck trips a day to the neighborhood. This statistic was in the paperwork when the landowner/developer tried to avoid a more thorough CEQA analysis in regards to cumulative impacts relating to the project by applying to sneak through on a "Mitigated Negative Declaration".

Let's see here. If a project to construct garment industry-related buildings on all but 2.6 acres of the 14th and Alameda site would bring 2581 additional truck trips a day to the site, thus, if Item No. (18) passes (which would get the City and developer out of the agreement for a soccer field or other open space at the 41st and Alameda site), then how many additional diesel truck trips a day would come to the 41st and Alameda site. Using basic logic here -- if building on all but 2.6 acres would bring 2581 additional diesel truck trips, then if that remaining acreage was also built upon, wouldn't it be likely that the project will generate at least 2581 additional truck trips a day, and perhaps approach the 3000 mark?

Ross Snyder Park is about two blocks from the 41st and Long Beach Ave. intersection which borders the 41st and Alameda site. This crowded park is said to be eligible for "recreational improvements". Does Councilwoman Perry believe that adding thousands of additional diesel truck trips a day to the 41st and Alameda site just two blocks away would impact people engaging in recreational activity at Ross Snyder Park? Why or why not?

I also want to point out that the Los Angeles City General Plan calls for more park space in such impacted communities as in the Alameda / Central area of South Central L.A. Do Councilmembers believe it is fine to promise more park space for park-deprived areas, and then use the excuse of temporary economic strains to then develop the area being eyed for the park instead of providing additional recreational opportunities for locals.

In summary, please reject Agenda Item No. (18). There are many ground-related, air quality-related, and health impacts relating to this project, and the wording of the LA City CEQA Guidelines should not permit this range of actions or even just the establishment of the so-called "Lancer Site Recreational Improvements Trust Fund" which is claimed to be merely administrative to continue to seek to avoid more thorough environmental analyses of the 41st and Alameda site.

Sincerely yours,

Bruce Campbell
Bruce Campbell

Now for my final points. I call for a thorough CEQA analysis done in a manner which would comparatively consider the air quality at and around the 41st and Alameda site. Such an analysis should examine the impact to air quality if the garment industry builds on the entire site, if there are no buildings built on the 41st and Alameda site, and if a soccer field and/or other green space is restored at the site. Trees and other vegetation produce oxygen and absorb carbon and some toxic air contaminants, while the garment-related buildings would bring much more carcinogenic diesel emissions to the area -- as admitted by documents regarding the proposed Forever 21 warehouse/distribution center proposal.

Also, note that Forever 21 proposal sought an exemption in order to ignore requirements for landscaping, setbacks from sidewalks, and other even marginal benefits for the community. Will such exemptions from normal procedures and requirements be sought in this newer somewhat-related also garment industry building proposal?

Also, please consider the cumulative impacts on community health in the Alameda/Central Ave. area (from Vernoy Avenue on the south to Olympic Blvd. to the north) from diesel emissions relating to at least these 3 projects: 1. the garment industry buildings proposed at the 41st and Alameda site; 2. the demolition and removal, and construction (as well as use) of the proposed NFL stadium near the Harbor Freeway -- associated slowdowns on freeways and other transportation arteries during construction and use phases must be considered; 3. the demolition and removal, and construction phase as well as use phase of the proposed skyscraper on the hotel site at ~~the~~ Wilshire and Figueroa.

Dear Honorable Los Angeles City Council Members:

On behalf of the organizations and members named here, we ask you to support the City Council's 2003 promise to build soccer fields for the residents of South Central Los Angeles at the site of the South Central Farm. The proposed in lieu amendment to the settlement between the City of Los Angeles and Libaw-Horowitz ignores the long-term, quality-of-life issues facing the area's residents. Providing the promised soccer fields begins to rehabilitate the industrial incursion into South Central.

The existing 2003 agreement included a pledge from Mr. Horowitz to transfer 2.6 acres of the former "Lancer" site in South Central Los Angeles to the Department of Recreation and Parks for development of soccer fields. The proposed amendment sponsored by Councilmember Perry would release Mr. Horowitz from that pledge and would instead allow him to pay $3.6 million in in lieu fees to be used for park improvement purposes in the surrounding vicinity, adding those 2.6 acres to the adjacent approximate 11.5 acres of zoned industrial land.

The current, short-term economic pressures on city revenues do not justify a long term policy that sells planned park land in beleaguered neighborhoods to generate a short term cash flow for the City. This policy is particularly problematic when, under Ms. Perry's request, the planned park will likely end up being developed for industrial purposes in a neighborhood that is severely under-served, park-poor, and lacking in green open space, while also having a great demand for more soccer fields. Green L.A. must extend to the Central-Alameda neighborhood.

Ms. Perry argues myopically that the site is not healthy for park space due to its industrial zoning and location along the heavy-traffic Alameda corridor. She completely ignores the hundreds of families already living just yards away from these industrial factories and warehouses that emit pollution and unbearable noise, and generate heavy traffic. We hereby submit photos of the area on behalf of the residents to illustrate the environmental injustice that families have been living with everyday for years!

Additionally, there is no guarantee that the jobs generated will be living wage jobs. In fact, if recent history is any indication, just the opposite will be true.

According to a Nov. 2011 Business Management Daily Article, 42 citations were issued to garment manufacturers in L.A. and Orange Counties. According to California's Economic Employment Enforcement Coalition Director David Dorame, "Many of these garment manufacturers failed to comply with the law, as we found multiple labor law violations at many locations."

We believe that the City has a moral and legal obligation to ensure that workers are treated fairly within the labor law. This means the Council Members must thoroughly analyze what kind of jobs Ms. Perry and the PIMA Developers are promising to bring and must provide proof of such analysis. Without a proof of labor benefits analysis that can clearly show the actual benefits that will go towards the community, the City Council will be committing a grave mistake that will put hundreds of families' health at risk for years to come.

Park creation requires a long-term vision that transcends the annual budget cycle, particularly in harsh economic times. We urge you protect our most valuable community assets from today's economic cycles. Once that land is built upon, it will be lost to the community.

The 2003 City Council's provision of the settlement agreement calling for soccer fields specifically addressed the community's desire, expressed for a decade and more since the protests against the Lancer Incinerator project, for such. To forfeit that promise and neighborhood benefit in the wake of the current financial downturn would, for short-term purposes, subvert the community's long-term goal of increasing access to park land and create a precedent that will inevitably inure to the detriment of the City as a whole and its residents.

The 2003 agreement gave 11.5 acres of the community's green space to more industrial development and destroyed the neighborhood's renowned South Central Farm. We do not see that the neighborhood is advantaged by voiding the Council's 2003 agreement with the residents and selling off the vestige of green space that was granted to them in the original agreement. Further, we support the South Central Farmers community in fighting to keep the former South Central Farm land for public use in ways that will benefit the community, including both the 2.6 acres in question, as well as restoring the adjacent 11.5 acres to its higher purpose as an urban farm. The South Central Farm was one of the largest urban farms in the United States before the 350 families were evicted pursuant to the land's controversial sale. The Farm raised the quality of life for those 350 families and the surrounding neighborhood by providing a consistent source of fresh food in the heart of a food desert. To date, the entire 14 acres remains fallow and empty.

The awful irony is that if the City Council accepts Ms. Perry's argument that the proposed soccer field land is hopelessly contaminated and allows the sale, the Council opens the door for even more air and noise pollution to the blighted neighborhood. If any or all of the 14 acre site is developed for industrial warehouse or factory purposes, it will further diminish the quality of life for the surrounding residents and increase the cumulative impacts of already excessively high levels of air pollution. The exhaust emissions of truck trips to and from the site would add to the already existing health risks to the surrounding sensitive receptors. A 2006 Environmental Impact Report for a project on the site similar to the one proposed anticipated horrendous additional contamination for the neighborhood. Park land and a restored urban farm would, on the other hand, mitigate these impacts.

We ask that you support Los Angeles' commitment to environmental justice, to the long-term quality of life of all its residents, and to a vision that transcends economic cycles, and that you uphold the promise made by this body in 2003. We ask that you, the Los Angeles City Council, respect the existing agreement to allot the 2.6 acres of the land for a community park and soccer field as per the wishes of the community.

Thank you for your consideration of the young children, youth and families living in the Central-Alameda neighborhood.

In solidarity,

Acequia Institute of San Luis Colorado
Acequia Association
American Indian Movement (AIM Southern California)
Bus Riders Union
Center on Race, Poverty and the Environment (CRPE)
Corazon del Pueblo
Cumberland Countians for Peace & Justice
Community Alliance for Global Justice (CAGJ)
Communities for a Better Environment (CBE)
Community Services Unlimited, Inc. (CSU Inc)
De Comunidad a Comunidad: Community to Community Bellingham Washinton
El Puente Hacia la Esperanza (Anti-Mall: People b4 Profit)
Enlace
Foodchain Workers Alliance

Garment Worker Center (GWC)
Green Party of Los Angeles County
Guerilla Food Not Bomb
Center on Race, Poverty & the Environment
Gihan Perera, Executive Director, Miami Workers Center Hunger Action LA
I.C.U. LOVE|LIVE
Koreatown Immigrant Workers Alliance (KIWA)
Labor Community Strategy Center
Latino Diabetes Association
Long Beach Immigrant Rights Coalition
Mississippi Association of Cooperatives
Movimiento Estudiantil Chicana y Chicano de Aztlan de California State University Northridge (MEChA de CSUN)
Network for Environmental & Economic Responsibility of United Church of Christ
Pesticide Action Network North America
Project Great Futures
Revolutionary Autonomous Communities (RAC)
Restaurant Opportunities Center LA (ROC-LA)
Ron Kaye www.ronkayela.com
Sarah Cantril, Executive Director, Huerto de la Familia
Southern CA Immigration Coalition
Stone House Retreat Center Mebane, NC
Tierra Negra Farm Mebane, NC
Topanga Peace Alliance
Women Organizing Resources, Knowledge and Services (WORKS)
WhyHunger
Youth for Environmental Justice (Youth EJ)

Gabriel Gutierrez
Director, Center for the Study of the Peoples of the Americas (CESPA), Professor, Department of Chicano/a Studies CSUN; and/or former Host "The Morning Review with Gabriel Gutierrez," KPFK 90.7FM.

Lupe Hernandez
Garment Worker
Featured in the Documentary Made in LA

Sasha Costanza-Chock
Assistant Professor of Civic Media
Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Kristin Reynolds, Ph.D.
The New School for Public Engagement
New York, NY

Monica Woodworth
People's Grocery, full-time intern
University of California Santa Cruz, undergraduate student

Max Hoiland
Sandra Luna
Sergio Rodriguez
Sheila Goldner
Tracy Weber, Local Produce Forager for Chefs in Southern California
Z. E. Masongsong, M.S.
(Additional names of individuals and organizations to follow)
Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Tezozomoc

Vice-President and CFO, South Central Farmers' Health and Education Fund
Manager, South Central Farmers Cooperative
Board Member, Acequia Institute

P. O. Box 50451
Los Angeles, CA 90050
1-800-249-5240
tezozomoc@hotmail.com

RECEIVED
NOV 16 2014
SDB

Plan
#18

Draw # 18

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

RECEIVED
 NOV 15 2011
 BY SRB

Petition summary and background.	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Natasha Bowers		NY, NY		8/7/11
Joe Tronastetsin		Nashville, TN
Carolyn Cosgrove		Olympia, WA		11/2/11
Dionne Dettmer		Brisbane, CA		11/7/11
Elena Gilis		Florida, D.H.		11/7/11
Brandon Born		Seattle, WA		11/7/11
Kelly Watters		ucson, AZ		11/8/11
Theresa Snow		Morrisville Vermont		11/8/11
Manuel Johnson		Boston, MA		11/8/11

6

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Julia Baker		4720 E. Hvenema Rd Oxnard CA 93033		11/8/11
Kiran Ponada		13 Elmview Avenue Staten Island NY 10310		11/8/11
Alexandra Payne		175 Stockholm St Brooklyn NY 11222		11/8/11
Rhianna Stanish		3307 Libby Rd. NE Olympia, WA 98506		11/8/11
Brandy Brooks		32 Columbus Ave Somerville MA 02143	Start valuing food production as a land use!	8 Nov 2011
Rebica Saliz		817 E Adelaide Dr Tucson, AZ 85714		11/8/11
Lindsay Wazster		10900 Butler Crk Millsville, NC 27805		11/8/11
Nathan Ballentine		226 W. 4th Ave Tallahassee, FL 32303	these folks are the leaders you ought to follow	11/8/2011
Christian Schiavoni		125 Seaman Ave, SE NY, NY 10034	Food sovereignty now!	11/8/2011

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Antonio Roman-Alcala		68 Arnold Ave SF CA 94110		11-8-11
Emily Lecuyer		528 Troost Ave #A KC MO 64110		11-8-11
Emily Collet		920 Gushing Ct. NW, Olympia WA 98502
Lily Smith		2042 Bethel St NE Olympia, WA 98506		11-8-11
John Peck		414 37th St Oakland, CA		11/8/11
John Peck		812 Jennifer St. Madison WI 53703		11/8/11
ALONSO GONZALEZ GARCIA		MARQUES DE URQUIJO, 24, 4701 33203 BILBAO, ASTURIAS, SPAIN		11/8/11
Liz Chavez		1210 Spence Ave CA 94110	Save the Farm	11/8/11
Cynthia Butler		7907 Crowndale Ave Whittier CA 90606		11/8/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Rhonda Keiston	Rhonda Keiston	107 Cooper St. Union Spgs AZ	Keep up the good work	11/8/11
Nancy Wong	Nancy Wong	1937 SE Harrison 97214 Portland OR		11/8/11
Zack Reidman	Zack Reidman	P.O. Box 2907 Berkeley, CA 94702	The people deserve this right!	11/8/11
Matt Canfield	Matt Canfield	231 DEKALB AVENUE BROOKLYN, NY 11205		11/8/11
Brook Bernini	Brook Bernini	870 W Alameda St Tucson AZ 85745		11/8/11
Rosalva Tumbos	Rosalva Tumbos	5255 S Park Ave N 21 Tucson AZ 85706	rosalvatumbos@yahoo.com	11/8/11
Olga Alvarado	Olga Alvarado	472 Van Buren, Bklyn NY	Blessings to the movement	11/8/11
Claire Hermann	Claire Hermann	201 Alabama Ave, Curboro, NC 27510 5 th generation Angeleno + Scripps Ranch	Please protect our homelands historical right to land	11/8/11
9 Maria M. Aguilar	Maria M. Aguilar	1147 131st St, EAST BRADENTON, FL 34212	Palante!	11/8/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Courtney Hendrix		3066 Kansas City	I ♥ SC Farm	11.02.11
Daniel Hendrix		3066 Kansas City St, Alameda, CA		11.02.11
Zaneta Clarke	Zaneta Clarke	27 Washington St Oakland		11.06.11

3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Maya Crooks		235 E. Hamilton St Jackson, MS		11/12/11
Benjamin		1717 E. Beverly Hills Shorewood CA 95244		11/6/11
Kaj Tate		612 Cambridge St SF, CA 94107		11/6/11

3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Derrida News	D News	Tulsa OK 2020 East 56th St N		11/6/11
Hannah Wallace	Hannah Wallace	923 SE 32nd Ave.	Hannah Wallace	11/6/11
Tanya Selig	Tanya Selig	9724 Orcas Ave. Sunland, Ca. 91040	Save the Farm!	11/6/11
Susina Martinez	Susina Martinez	412 E. 124th St. Los Angeles, CA 90061		11/06/11
Neelam Shama	Neelam Shama	1394 1/2 W. M.L King Blvd. LA, CA 90037		11
Jean Chen	J Chen	21600 Rainbow Dr. Cupertino CA		11/6/11
Debs Gooder	Debs Gooder	642 Central Ave #4 San Francisco, CA 94117	Great work!	11/6/11
Ursula Curran	Ursula Curran	577 Biam St Apt 3D 10034		11/6/11
9 Dominica Navaro	D Navaro	841 Lulland Dr. Diamond Bar CA 91765		11/6/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Yolanda Gonzalez	Yolanda Gonzalez	3114 W. Ellis Avenue Mineola, NY 11501		11/6/11
Susan
Sudia McCaleb	Sudia McCaleb	3046 Fulton St Berkeley, CA 94705	ore tho	11/6/11
David Zebky	David Zebky	605 Geary Street, #207 San Francisco, CA 94102
Bill Maynard	Bill Maynard	3601 Bolinas Blvd Sausalito, CA 94965	Save the Garden!	11/6/11
Wires	Wires	1004 Emerson St Palo Alto, CA 94301	Save	11/6/11
Brendy Biddle	Brendy Biddle	165 Waterman Ave Dummerston, VT 05846
7 Chelsea Eickert	CE	13157 39th Ave NE Seattle, WA 98125		11/6/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Chris Ibarra		173. N.W. 5th - 102		10/05/11
Liz Karabnakis		44 Ferguson Road, Dryden NY 13053		11/6/11
Dannel Wynston		233 E HAMILTON STREET JACKSON, MS 39202	I AGREE	11/6/11
Alison Cohen		505 84th Ave 2/03 NY NY 10018		11/6/11

4

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Robert Andrews		19329 San Leandro Dr, Newhall CA 91321		11/6/11
Paula Beal		275 Lee St #11 Oakland, Ca. 94610		11/5/11
Kathleen Bonfield		25 Rockland St Canton MA 02021		11/6/11
Daniel Rodriguez		786 Fifth St Berkeley CA 94710		11/6/11
SZA Hoss		228 W 17th St NY NY 10011		11/6/11
Janet Wright		1424 Wake Forest Dr #230 Davis, CA 95616		11/6/11
Yue He Moore		18 Harrison St New Brunswick, NJ 08901
Wendy Saravasey		1327 Narellie St Alameda, CA 94530
1 9 Twilight Greenway		10156th Street, Oakland CA 94608		11/6/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Mikael Petrich		445 Ave 23 Chatsworth		11/6/11
Clicia Nichols		2156 JEFFERSON AVE Berkeley 94703		11/6/11
Rick Coorharter		PO Box 428205 San Francisco CA 94112		11-6-11
Eccatrina Burt		1703 Santa Barbara #18 San Luis obispo, CA 93401		11/6/11
Courtney Melblom		827a Webster St. Palo Alto, CA 94301		11/6/11
Meredith Palmer		403-25th Ave Seattle WA 98112		11/6/11
Heather Day

7

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Edgour Flores		3606 Griffin Ave 90031		6-NOV ✓
Luis Herrera		221 W. Sahara St 85705		6-Nov ✓
Rozzell Medina		6125 NE MALLORY AVE		11/6/11
Patricia Crouch		1264 Meldrum 40207
KRABACH		88 Foster New Haven, Ct 06511		11/6/11
KATELYN HALE		254 DAYTONA DR COLETA, CA 92317		6-NOV-11
DOUG BURCK		260 Mission Mill Valley, CA 94041		✓
ELIZABETH MEBRANO		2106 COLORADO BLVD LA 7 CA 90041 →		6/11/2011
SARA MEROLA		240 Heath St #412 Boston, MA 02130		6-NOV 2011

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South-Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Maria Cortinas		607 1/2 W. 41st St		10/30/11
Rana Subeh		18901 Valley View Apt D Huntington Beach, CA 92646		10/30/11
Sierra Haase				10/30/11
Michelle Belton				10/31
Sonia Mori				10/30
Ruth Jaime				10/30/11
Maria Miranda
Marilyn Lopez		158 E 11th St LA CA	MariLopez07@hotmail.com	10/30/11
9 Rebeca Salmeron		6203 Converse Avenue	bcasalmeron@yahoo.com

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Rudy Carrasco		7208 Serrano, 90666	Let them farm	10/30/11
Ricky Z		7018 MORSE AVE	NOLLO 9/10/05	10/30
Laura Ramse		727 W. 38 th St, ^{San Pedro} 90731	9/10/05	10/30
NISHA PAREKH		1021 S. Orange Grove Ave ^{Pasadena, CA} 91105	9/28/05	10/30
Dan Yohasz		2439 Three Bar Lane Norco	need you to move into the Chino Basin, near Pomona	10/30

5

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Megan Ross		3980-A Inglewood Blvd LA 90066		10/30/11
Chris Cadurdek		4448 Lincoln Hwy Hemet, CA		10/30/11
Lani Luo		1 LMU Dr MS-5 6018 Los Angeles, CA 90045	Watched the Garden	10/30/11
Kimberly Tamirich		1 LMU Dr MSB777 Los Angeles CA 90045
Ana Lopez		1 LMU Dr MSB 4018 Los Angeles CA 90045	You Rock!	10/30/11
Mara Luevano		1 LMU Dr MSB0008 Los Angeles CA 90045
Claudia Mendoza		2228 W 15th St 90006		10/30/11
SHARON HUCK		404 15th Street LONG BEACH 90802		10/30/11
GREGORY ROSEL		4359 McLAUGHLIN AVE LOS ANGELES 90066		10/30/11

signic #

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Lane Gold		5116 Hartwick St LA CA 90041	save the farm!	10-30-11
Sherry Brown		1837 GARFIELD P LA CA 90028	Yay So. Central farmers	10-30-11
Dwkins Crawford		5654 Alameda Trl 929034 CA		10-30-11
Florence Benjamin		746 S Los Angeles #403 LOS ANGELES CA 90014
Ullery				10-30-11
Joy GRACE Harmony		18630 BORDENK #212 PASADENA CA 91100
Julie Kraft		6211 Pasadena, CA 91106		10/30/11
Sophie Weiss		1057 Stannage Ave Albany, CA 94706	☺ ☺ ♥	10/30/11
9 Christopher Cunningham		268 Pleasant St #8 Pasadena, CA 91101	Farms for Student Education	10/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jerome Yoscovits		160 W. Ave Palizada	San Clemente CA 92672	10-30-11
Amber Arevalos		160 W. Ave Palizada	San Clemente CA 92672	10-30-11
Chiyuki Reyes		Torrance CA 90503 19305 Entradas Ave		10-30-11
Jose Renteria		635 Elwood Ave #340 Glendora CA 91740		10-30-11
Jesus Diaz Ceja		1315 Casa Vista Dr Pomona, CA 91768		10/30/11
TRUCESIA SAEETS		29346 HARTFORD DR MENIFEE CA 92584		10/30/11
Angie Lopez		6811 Sepulveda Blvd 319 Van Nuys Ca 91405		10/30/11
EDUARDO FELIX		6834 HUMP AVE N. Hollywood Ca 91605		10-30-11
9 STEPHANIE BOSS		POB 423 91021		10/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011.
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Teresa Fedman		6231 N. 6th St. LA CA 90048	CD5	10/29/11
Lamarck Bran		10860 BURNWOOD RIVERSIDE CA		10/29/11
LAIMA M MATULIONIS		2422 McCREADY AVE		10/30/11
Isaac Hazzan		Encinitas CA		10/30/11
Naomi Snyder		220 San Vicente Blvd. Santa Monica, CA 90402	Apt. 514	10/30/11
Tom Kimball		2450 N. Pacific Blvd SANTA ANA CA 92706		10/30/11
Hilda Peralt		1030 N. Proserpio Ave COVINA CA 91722		10/30/11
Samantha Cano		1161 Virginia Ave SOUTHWEST CA 90280		10/30/11
9 claudia Cano		8161 Virginia Ave SE 90280	SAVE THE FARM !!	10/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Carolina Morales		12109 Graystone North		10/30/11
Yvonne Zoro		801 W Dunbar St Bellflower		10/30/2011
GRACE MARTIN		15734 California Ave Paramount		10/30/11
FRANCESCA D'ANNONNI		3373 Rowena 90027 Ave #3 LA
Rachel Vermeulen		1 LMU Drive MS 7863 Los Angeles CA 90045		10/30/11
Carol Song		4274 Canyon Ave, CA 90068		10/30/11
Erik Sparks		8243 S. Palms Ave CA 90044		10/30/11
Mike Miazza		2960 Malaga Ave Beverly Hills CA 90210		10/30/11
9 Martha Renteria		2550 Ohio Ave. South Gate, CA 90280		10/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
DOMINICA PIZANO	D.P.	1711 1/8 S. BONNIE BRK	Es un muy Buen Proyecto el que estan tratando de promover.
TOPANZA BIRD	Topanza Bird	2039 N Las Palmas LA 90062
Petra Vargas	Petra Vargas	856 S. St. Andrews pl #201 L.A. CA 90005
Elizabeth Bernier	Elizabeth Bernier	4354 McLaughlin Ave #105 CA 90066	Yes to restoring the South-Central Farm!!!	10/30/11
Leila Salazar	Leila Salazar	2894 23rd ST SE CA 94110	Thank you! Si se puede!	10/30/11
Kelly Archibald	KA	7866 Ring st. L.A. CA 90808		10/30/11
Marilyn Furst	Marilyn Furst	4006 Camero Ave. L.A., CA 90027	I will demonstrate with you again.	10/30/11
Ryan Jackson	Ryan Jackson	5482 Wilshire Blvd Los Angeles CA 90026		10/30/11
Vangelis Velazquez	Vangelis Velazquez	2009 E 74th St Los Angeles CA 90001		10/30/11

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
JOE MCLAUGHLIN		2400 ECHO PARK AVE LA CA 90028		10/30/11
Suzi Orozco-Neu		3458 LEE ST LA CA 90023		10/30/11
Anani Luca		8255 W 145th #101 Los Angeles 90006
ANDREA HARTER		5450 SLAYSON AV CULVER CITY 90230		10/30/11
Michael Kanno		1050A Harley Ave Downey, CA 90241		10/30/11
Kelly Decker		1910 Magnolia Ave LA, CA 90007		10/30/11
Jacquelyne		332 12th St Inglewood, CA 90740		10/30/11
Gabriela Sosa		1900 Dra con Pl #1 90027		10/30/11
9 Manoj Jayagoda		950 W. Linden St. Riverside, CA #255		10/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Madusina		611 S. Seminars Ave West Covina, CA 91792
Lindely Winger		908 E Orion Ave Fullerton, CA 92831
JOSE L. JAME		406 Francis Ave Chino, CA 91710
Jayne Lavigne		117 Benning #119 LA, CA 90004
Eliana Olvera		123 S. Figueroa St. Apt 933 Los Angeles, CA 90012
Mike Ramroz		11709 Magnolia St. El Monte, CA 91732
Sarah Epstein		608 N. Hollywood Ave. #10 Los Angeles, CA 90018
Valentines		2993 Euclid Ave LA, CA 90031
? Marla Bernstein		4167 S. Normandie LA CA. 90037

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
OLYMPIA CAMERON	[Signature]	113 Fleet St, Marina		10-30-11
LORY KERRER	[Signature]	13516 Duffield St. Sylmar
Maria Guadalupe Perez	[Signature]			10-30-11
Norma Alvarado	[Signature]	517 S. Fillmore Ave. Rialto, CA		10/30/11
GORDON CLINT	[Signature]	4102 GREENWOOD ST. T.O		10/30/11
Barbara Leighton	[Signature]	4102 Greenwood St. Newbury Park		10/30/11
Colette Walczak	[Signature]	1023 Ashland Ave Santa Monica CA
Oly Magallon	[Signature]	5712 Kester Ave #6 Van Nuys, CA 91411	angostura.1819@aol.com
Maribel Mingura	[Signature]	1627 Firestone Blvd. LACA 90001		10-30-11

Rescued from Farm 9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action requested for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Adriana Diaz	Adriana Diaz	601 W 82 nd #2		8-25-11
Anahi Salgado	Anahi Salgado	601 W 82 #12		8-25-11
Elizabeth Lopez	Elizabeth Lopez	1222 W 98th St	lizgarcia1995@gmail	8-25-11
Gerson Monje	Gerson Monje	1124 1/2 W 45th St LA CA 90011	gersonmonje@yahoo.es	8-25-11
Regina Garcia	Regina Garcia	661 Adams Blvd #4
Del Garcia	Del Garcia	475 James M Wood		8/25/11
Damaris G.	Damaris G.	1723 W James M Wood		8/25/11
Grace Lung	Grace Lung	4041 S. Margantia		8/25/11
Tia Dahi	Tia Dahi	8850 cattaraugus #7 LA, CA 90034		8/25/11

9 Tia Dahi

LA, CA 90034

Tia Dahi

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jackie Gonzalez		3641 Hammel St LA CA 90063		8/8/11
Lanny Tate		570 GRANITE ST RIVERSIDE CA	STAY THE COURSE!	8/8/11
Carolynn Romona		4444 " "		8/8/11
Doris by		1215 Victoria
Chanelle Ignant		4215 Victoria Ave		8/8/11
SANDERS ANDERSON		245 LINCOLN AVE, #2235 PDX, OR	GIVE THE LAND BACK!	8/8/11
Frank Usumi		PO Box 65143, LA CA 90065	We Vote - We Watch!	8/8/11
Hazel Morales		3129 Canyon West Drive Eureka CA apt #14d	Tierra y Justicia	8/8/11
9 Jasmine Barba		3129 Canyon West Drive Riverside CA apt #14d		8/8/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

CRAIGSMALZ@GPHOO.COM Joe Garv

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Carlos Sanchez		443 E 94th St Los Angeles		8/24/11
Mubia Alvarado		994 Anzick Ave Los Angeles		8/25/11
Ciro Armas		1199 E 51st St LA CA 90011
Sandra Santiago		1541 E 35th St
Camelia C
Maria Perotomaria Dorotea
Rafael Saucedo
Gabriel Salgado		601 W 82 St #12 2nd Fl LA 90044
Yanet Jimenez		601 W 82th St 90044		8-25-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Lucia Duran	Lucia Duran	4317 Long Beach Ave		8-16-11
Marlene Estrada	Marlene Estrada	1236 W 2 nd Vernon Ave		8/16/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
ANNA SIMONSE		1674 VIRGINIA RD LA CA 90019	Everyone deserves to have equal rights to bare urban rights	8/8/11
Miriam Valenzuela		5559 Mesquite
Keo-sha Burnell		1622 E. 37th St Wt 14 ⁹⁰¹¹	Everyone have rights	8-16-11
Kevin Munn		Sum-e	↑	8-16-11
Julio Cesar		1305 Hoper St		8/16/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011"
Action performed for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Maria	Maria Perez	1427 E Vernon Av		8/9/11
Ana Bernardino	Rubi	5322 Hooper Ave	res-late@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Danya Pardo	Danya Pardo	15716 Vernon Ave		8/9/11
Tanya Sanchez	Tanya Sanchez	1459 E Vernon Ave	csamoramilos@hotmail.com	8-9-11
Angelica Vasquez	Angelica Vasquez	1147 1/2 E 34th St		8-9-11
Alexander Hernandez	Alexander Hernandez	1623 Marko Luther King		8/9/11
Carlos Palma	Carlos Palma	4163 Hooper av.		8/9/11
Ignacio Montiel	Ignacio M	1665 E. Martin Luther King 90011		8-9-11
Zenaida ARROYO	Zenaida Arroyo	4160 Dorsey St. 2, A 90011		8-9-11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
08/11	08/11	1233 S TE Los Angeles		8/9/2011
Domenico Vel	Domenico Vel	1609 E Merritt Luthen King		8/9/2011
Jorge Valverde	Jorge Valverde	1609 E Martin Luther King		8/9/11
Humberto Lopez	Humberto Lopez	1616 E Martin Luther King		8/9/11
Luz E Rosales	Luz E Rosales	1301 91st Los Angeles CA 90011		8/9/11
Alicia Martinez	Alicia Martinez	1323 E 42nd Pl LA CA 90011		8/9/11
Lisa Vosper	Lisa Vosper	1715 Vernon Ave	LA Calif 90004	8/9/11
Paulina Mesa	Paulina Mesa	5123 1/2 S San Pedro St LA CA 90011		8/9/11
Amelito Gonzalez	Amelito Gonzalez	3708 Newmarket CA		8-9-11
CLAYD BAKER	CLAYD BAKER	1155 E State Lodi CA	Alebaranz@yahoo.com	8-9-11
Manuel Noyera	Manuel Noyera	4193 Compton Ave LA CA 90011	manuelnoyera@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Raquel Najera	Raquel Najera	3713 Compton Ave LA CA 90011		8/9/11
Amelia Hernandez	Amelia Hernandez	15811/1/1	L.A. 90058	8/9/11
Amelia Espinoza	Amelia Espinoza	4029 Mingan Ave	despinosa81@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Robert Fuente	Robert Fuente	6725 41st		08/09/11
Eder Vera	Eder Vera	206 E 73rd st LA		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -L.A. Times Editorial "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
ANTONIA R	AR	1405 E 41 ST P		8/9/11
IK Van Gucht	I.C.	315 E 98 th ST CA 90006		8/9/11
Norman		1125 47th	Normanbarrow@gmail.com	8/9/11
Diana		716 S Harwin Ave	mendocaci@earthlink.net
Jode		4335 Main St		8/9/11
Juan	Juan Pacheco	1615 E 32 ST		8-9-11
Margaret Carbajal		4100 Va Azcof Ave
Karen Carbajal	Karen Carbajal	4100 Va Azcof Ave	Karen_Carbajal15@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Marlo Lopez	Espe Marlo	4151 Zamora st.		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." - LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Jeronica Aguirre	[Signature]	1263 W 55th St LA CA 90037		8-9-11
Marcela Vazquez	[Signature]	1201 W 58th St LA CA 90037		8-9-11
Rosa Amozawa	[Signature]	1201 W 58th St LA CA 90037		8-9-11
Iliana Diaz	[Signature]	South Gate		8-9-11
Ivan Vazquez	[Signature]	Stavson & Bullon		8-9-11
Armando Sanchez	[Signature]	Stavson/Normandie		8-9-11
JOSE SANDOZ	[Signature]	1021 W 15th GARDENA		8-9-11
RICARDO MOTA	[Signature]	1015 E. 50th St. LA		8-9-11
Luis Diaz	[Signature]	204 E. 79th St. LA CA 90005		8-9-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Walter Lopez		910 N. Serrano Ave #4		8/9/11
Mysha Hester		1517 E Martin Luther King		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Ana mi Pena	Ana mi Pena	3815 Baldwin ave #79 El Monte, Ca 91731		8-9-11
Marta Aza	Marta Aza	2001 Foothill Blvd Lake View Terrace CA 91342		8/9/11
Dani Avila	Dani Avila	12001 Foothill Blvd Lake View Terrace CA 91342		8/9/11
Manuel Perlas	Manuel Perlas	160 98 53 ST L A CA
Vera Baucom	Vera Baucom	940 Midvale Ave #2, 90024	hanielbae@gmail.com	8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: 'A South-Central garden spot again?' May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Elvin Rodriguez		172 w 42 LA CA 90037		08-09-11
ALEJANDRO VILLAS		172 w. 42 LA CA 90037		9-09-11
Ruth Diaz		115 N 3010 St LA CA 90053		8-9-11
Walter Colon		3885 Potomac Ave #18 LA CA 90008		8-9-11
Nataly Villalobos		3885 Potomac Ave #18 LA CA 90008
Mayra Urbazquez		10306 Felton Ave Apt #116		8-9-11
Sarai Zepeda		3885 Potomac Ave #18 LA CA 90008		8-9-11
Josée Cobitis		13311 Willowbrook Compton CA 90222		8/09/11
Carlos Bejarano		2040 Piru St. Compton CA 90222		8/09/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCP Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Benjamin F.	[Signature]	6215 Bear Ave
Gluster F.	[Signature]	705 E Vernon Ave
Nahon	[Signature]	620 Hardin St
Angel R.	[Signature]	742 E 33 St
Julio Aldaro	[Signature]	4035 Adair St
Ramon	[Signature]	4035 Adair St
Ivan	[Signature]	1003 E 41st St
Brian	[Signature]	1001 42nd St
Rodrigo M.	[Signature]	718 E 107th St

9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
LEPC Heredia	[Signature]	905 E BRETHER ST
Luis Rodriguez	[Signature]	8621 HOOPER AV
Antibetty Lopez	[Signature]	1367 HOOPER AV
Jennifer Orellana	[Signature]	1261 W 54TH ST	jenniferorellana19@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Mandy Corona	[Signature]	222 E 102nd ST 90003	welbut06@hotmail.com	8-9-11
Gerardo Lopez	[Signature]	1806 S GRAMERCY PT # 2 L.A. CA	90019
Carmen Villegas	[Signature]	4439 Santa Ana St Cudahy CA 90201		8-9-11
Imelda MFC	[Signature]	4411 1/2 Santa Ana St Cudahy

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Nelson Buevara		406 Judicantill Blvd Pasadena CA 91767		8/8/11
Alexis Stora		76 Yorkst Pasadena California		8/8/11
Barnie White		1687 Glenrose Alhambra CA 91001		8/8/11
Kyle CLAY		1148 Wokkyns Dr Pasadena CA		8/8/11
Humberto Méndez		2405 Coronadolet St # 2 L.A. 90052		8/8/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Alejandro Meza	Alex Meza	5012 Gafford St		8/8/11
Claudia Maguire	Claudia Maguire	5012 Gafford St		8/8/11
USA FELIX	Felix	1955 COLE ST #103		8/8/11
Wendolynne Maldonado	Wendolynne Maldonado	786 N. EVANWOOD CA 91744		8/8/11
Felipe Maldonado	Felipe Maldonado	786 N. EVANWOOD LA Puente		8/8/11
MAR TUDOR	MAR TUDOR	1626 N. Wilcox Ave #703		8/8/11
Markene Walker	Markene Walker	10736 Jefferson Blvd #702		8/8/11
Felix Soriano	Felix Soriano	918 W. COLLIER
9 Joe Worthington	Joe Worthington	20 Amiens St, Gladesville NAIN		" "

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Adrian Holguin		13022 S. Pennsylv Ave Compton CA
Jackie Heather		436 Fairview Ave Arcadia CA 91007		8/8/11
Crystal Jones		658 S. McBride Ave LA CA 90022		8/8/11
RYAN CARLELLA		1271 N. EVERGREEN SUNLAND, CA		8/8/11
FRANK VELASQUEZ		437 n. Bonnie Brea CALIF		8/8/11
Cristina Hernandez		1630 Micheltorens CA 91007		8/8/11
Stacey Rose		10960 Rose Ave #8 LA 91034		8/8/11
Martha Hernandez		14339 Madris Ave Norwalk CA 90650		8/8/11
Edwin Morales		SOME	FACEBOOK/ ELNATECACHOPEQUENO.COM	8/8/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Marice (du) [unclear]	[Signature]	4742 W 100 th St Lawndale CA 90260		6/8
Nancy Paderno	[Signature]	16237 Fern St Cerritos CA 90703		6/5
Rochel Galvan	[Signature]	621 1/2 N. Summit Ave LA CA 90004		6/9
Luis [unclear]	[Signature]	621 1/2 N. Summit Ave LA CA 90004		6/9
Judy Santagloba	[Signature]	409 E. Cedar Ave		6/8
Anthony [unclear]	[Signature]	8442 Blackburn Ave		6/8
Sheila Calderon	[Signature]	928 N Oxford Ave Apr 2003 CA CA		6/8
[unclear]	[Signature]	514 3/4 S Burlington	I agree	6/8
9 Kristine Cluff	[Signature]	504 B. North Hyberta Ave Redondo Beach CA 90277	Keep on keepin'	8/5

Thank you!!
ON 8/5

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
RICARDO RAMIREZ		P.O. Box 4270 CHICO, CA 95927	VIVA LA HUERTA !	8/8
Maria Fullman		1111 3rd 3251 Oakland, CA 94612		8/8
Rebeca Calderon		9468 Danby Ave, CA 90670		8/8
Olivia Gonzalez		11613 Pantheron St 90650 NORWALK		8/8
BONNIE GONZALES		15312 RYAN AVE BELLFLOWER CA 90706		8/8
Dawn Jara		1731 N SUGMORE LOS ANGELES 90088
PAUL CAMPANERIA		2424 2423 PAUTA 91355		8/8
Eva Perez		5462 Beethoven St. LA 90066		8/8
ANJIE MULLINS		5145 W 134th Pl Hawthorne, CA

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
RITA BASTIAN
DORISE SANDRA		13507 TADENBURY DR. WILHITTE CA 90602
JoAnna Wilbaray		566 South San Pedro CA 90013		8/8/2011
Vanessa Conte		" " " "		8/10/2011
John Quindel		8272 COLORADO BLVD #300 EAGLE ROCK, CA 90011		8/7/2011
Sant Rogers		11225 McDonald St. Culver City, CA 90230		8/7/2011
Joseph Rogers		11225 McDonald St. Culver City, CA 90230		8/7/11
Sue Gil		11032 Crestbrook St Norwalk CA 90650		8/7/11
9 Carlo Viteri		16003 Formby dr. La Mirada, CA 90638		8/7/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MAYLOR NORRIS		1035 N. BROADWAY, LA, CA
JERAMIN MAREX		1035 N. BROADWAY, CT
DAVID SCHWARTZ		1220 N. Brand Glendale
SALLY RUSH		1500 ECHO PARK BLVD L.A. CA
Leah Johnson		11444 W Olympic Blvd LA 90064
Aaron Johnson		11444 W Olympic Blvd LA 90064
Jessica Rubin		11444 W Olympic Blvd LA 90064
Louise Young		3103 Oneida PAS	91107
9 Pedro Redles			91103

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background:	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Charlotte	[Signature]	1421 Trowers LA 907819	—	8/7/11
Karen Kleinfeld	[Signature]	2121 Las Palmas Dr. La Habra Heights, CA 90631	—	8/7/11
ED MURPHY	[Signature]	6500 1/2 Aba Ln 9084	—	8/7/11
Noha Shah	[Signature]	757 S Ogden Dr LA 90026	—	8/7/11
AETHA MASHAKA	[Signature]			8/7/11
N. McDowell	[Signature]	6288 Long Branch Covina, CA 92880		8/7/11
Evelyn Arias	[Signature]	2410 W. J. Carson Blvd. LA, CA 90210		8/7/11
Matthew Bertom	[Signature]	1911 Butler Ave		8/7/11
9 Noby Bertom	[Signature]	1911 Butler Ave		8/7/11

Shatto light

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Al Coimbra		556 82nd St.		8/7
Shatto Light		Shatto313@gmail.com
Josman Wong		1075 Macall VENICE
KATH KIM		2590 SACROSSO DR POMONA HI 5, CA 91768	I SUPPORT!	8/7
YVONNE SITHUM		6548 CORDOBA RD.		8/7
sarah park		8763 grand oak view chow chow		8/7
Sarah Lee		212 REMBER PLACE PLACENTIA, CA 92870		8/7
Judy Huang		7030 TRIGGER LN.		8/7
9 Patti Davado		LA. CA 90027 1200 N. ALVARADO ST.		8/7

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
JAMILA DEAN		130 MONTEREY RD 307 S. PASADENA, 91035	ORANGE TREE 626 921 6215	8/7/11
JOHN BROWNWOOD		1904 E. LINDA VISTA W. COVINA, CA. 91791	☺	8/7/11
Rogelio Lara		6253 Pine Crest Dr. LOS ANGELES CA 90042	HELL YEAH!	8/7/11
DAN COUNOR		550 N. F. QUERA #309 LACA 90012		8.7.11
Jan Hanes		1349 ELM AVE F SAN GABRIEL CA, 91785	Im down!	8/7/11
LEAH WREZ		249 ELM AVE F SAN GABRIEL CA 91785	323 919 1964	8/7/11
Diego Gonzalez		1660 SMITH ST, PERRONA CA 91760	GO GREEN!	08/07/11
Omar Gonzalez		1717 S. CEDAR #B SANTA ANA, CA 92707		8/7/11
MAUZICU LUERO		25422 MAXIMUS ST MISSION VIEJO CA 92691	CAPTAIN'S FRESH	8/7/11

STOP FEEDING KIDS CRAP! HEALTHY!

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ricky Houston		1151 est 67 st Inglewood CA		8/7/2011
Neima Patterson		622 W. Precourt St #6 Inglewood CA		8/7/11
Shalandrea Houchen		2206 W. 76 th St. Inglewood CA		8/7/11
STAVE JAMES		17252 Euclid St Van Nuys J. Franklin		8/7/11
Monica Caballero		1216 W 37 th Pl, Los Angeles, CA		8/7/11
Aislinn Glennon		1217 N. Edgemont St 90029		8/7/11
Brittany Horvath		3050 Nooy Pl. 95035		8/8/11
EVAN ROUSTON		5405 Tipton Way 90042		8/7/11
9 Cesar Tinoco		3006 The Mall St 90023		8/7/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
NARDA ROSALES		1359 W. 36th St LA 90007		8/7/11
Jessica Braganza		145 S. Aspen Ave AZ 85001 CA 91702		8/7/11
MAURO CEPEDA		1351 E 1st St LBCA 90116		8/7/11
MELISSA TRAPER		P.O. BOX 141653 SPokane Valley, WA 99045		8/7/11
Tiffany Aguirre		580 S. Wilshire Ave 114 W 10030		8/7/11
Josh Brantly		3072 2034th St Lynnwood WA 98036		8/7/11
Jazmine Orozco		985 West Kensington Ave LA 90026		8/7/11
Paulina Infante		8615 Balboa Blvd Northridge CA 91325		8/7/11
9 Daniel Ramos		19037 Napa St. Northridge, 91324		8/7/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background:	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Calvin Robinson		232 N. Brande St LA, CA 90002		8/8
Akira Bradley		370 W. ML King Jr		8/8
Daniel Acenas		9215 Hunt Ave South Gate CA 90280	cat_world88@yahoo.com	8/8
Jonathan Petrossa		7072 State St Huntington Park CA		8/8
Alexander Nappin		25558 S. Normandie MOLANA VILLY, 900551		8/8
WURA OKUOSANYA		12813 Frederick St MD CA 92553		8/8
Sean Gunn		1412 Cannes Thousand Oaks		8/8
ROBERTO SANJAN		2449 CENTINELA CA	Right on!	8/8
MIKE FONTANA		4131 LEWIS	GO	8/8

LOS ANGELES

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Rachelle Torres		120 Paloma Ave Venice 90791		8/7/11
Jaime Peddiron		1022 Pacific St th C Santa Monica, CA 90405		8/7/11
Erika Enggren		10 26TH AVE VENICE CA
AMY Kraft		4124 Ohio St. San Diego		8/7/11
Suzanne		" " "		" "
Julian Kho		1037 Rolling Hills Drive Fullerton CA 92835
Nicholas Fernando		12403 Patricia Drive #12		8/7/11
Aron Williams		249 W. Alameda		8/7/11
9 Juan Del Rio		7817 Vineland #33		8/7/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jesus Ramirez		DOWNEY, CA 90241 10844 LITTLE LANE		8-6-11
Rafael		S/18/80		"
Orlando Cervi		220 COLUMBIA AVE		"
Carlos Uceda		1183 CO. EXPOSITION BLVD. 90007		"
Jorge Camacho		90250		"
Salvador		756 VIA ALTAMIRA MONTEBELLO CA 90069		"
Jannae Bruce		210 E. AVENUE R3 PALMDALE CA 93550	Please provide safer play areas for other children	8/6/2011
CAUDIN NUNEZ		2720 WILSON BLVD SOUTH GATE CA 90260		8/6/11
LAURANT WOSTEN		9809 S. 2ND AVE Inglewood, CA 90305		" ms60003744-yob000.com

Tree

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.

The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCP Farm.

"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011

We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Name	Address	Date
Rickun...	620 Slocum Cir	8-11-11
Juquira Gu...	1147 Martin St	8-11-11
Oscar G...	618 S. Locust Cir	8-11-11
Pedro Martinez	145 W. Union Ave Apt 7
CAMILLO G L	1617 E 33 ST
Albino Marcos	1617 E 33 ST
Norchen n	533 N 114
Luis Sandoval	583 W 114
Martoni Orellana	1744 W 41st 90062	8-11-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
OSCAR MONCADA	Oscar Moncada	856 W. 42 nd St #2 L.A. - CA 90037		7/30/11
Oscar Umata	Oscar Umata	1807 W. 36 th Pl L.A. CA 90008		7/30/11
Keppatto Moroduy	Keppatto Moroduy	3582 S 8 th Ave L.A.		7/30/11
Jann Rodruigo	Jann Rodruigo	2901 Cogswell Almonte CA		7/30/11
Jose Marodiaga	Jose Marodiaga	3534 S. 8 th Ave L.A. Co 90008		7/30/11
JOSE SANTIQUANA	Jose Santiquana	(323) 677-6482		7/30/11
Pedro A. Diaz	Pedro A. Diaz	(626) 319-8723		7-30-11
OSCAR PALMERON	Oscar Palmeron	1388 38 St		7.30.11
Jose A. Velasquez	Jose A. Velasquez	818-314-4602		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Nelson LAINEZ		4133 S. Compton 90011	KEEP YOUR PROMISE DO NOT WANT THE SOCCER FIELD	7/30/11
Fabio DeAngelo		3032 CONVERSE 90032	KEEP YOUR PROMISE WE WANT THE SOCCER FIELD	7/30/11
David Macariegas		39 ST WISCONSIN	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7/30/11
Rafael Duran		5310 S. Haver ST 90051	Keep your promise	7/30/11
Mencia		3512 NCH 90008	Keep your promise	7/30/11
Jacqueline		7749 Reseda CA 91335	Keep your promise	7-30-11
XXXXXXXXXX	XXXXXXXXXX	9118 S. Avalon 90003	Keep your promise	7/30/11
Jessica		9118 S Avalon 90003	Keep your promise	7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Todd Allen		5376 Inglewood Blvd Culver City, CA 90230	Todd.Allen@CFTR.com EMAIL ME	7/31/2011
Ernesto Cabera		137 S. Lacombe pk		7/31/11
Roger Monroy		916 S. Manhattan Pl		7-31-11
Oscar Palma		916 S. Manhattan Pl		7/31/11
Eduardo Villarreal		1801/2 S Manhattan Pl		7/31/11
Carlos Ernesto	CANUTO TRANS	4037 MORAGA AVE	MAY BEEN PROYECTO C:TRANSVIA@velnet.com	7/31/11
Ricardo Castro		807 1/2 E 25 ST	EXCELLENTE PROYECTO	7/31/11
Co's Angel		2700 S San Pedro		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ramon Ruiz
Maria Ortega		1735 E 105 th ST L.A.C.A	we want more parks	7/31/11
Patty Contreras		102 W 73RD ST	we want more parks	7/31/11
Manuel Castro		12149 Eastbrook		7/31/11
Reve D Moral		8912 Socenbush ave		7/31-11
JAD		2922 S bolton		7/21-11
CARLOS ROMERO	CARLOS A ROMERO	4323 HAMMOC ST.		07/31/11
Trecardo H		323, 935-4267		07-31-11
ROBERTO CHAVEZ		(213) 309-85-91		07-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Donna Castaneda		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/30/11
Marisol Anaya		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/30/11
Jessica		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/20/11
[Signature]		4517 Wilshire Ave LA CA 90024		7/30/11
Doogios		1702 E 41st LA CA 90058		7/30/11
ANA HURTADO		1916 38th ST 90037		7/30/11
Esai Acunado		1702 E. 41st St. 90058		7/30/11
Ernie Vasquez		1702 E. 41st LA CA		7/30/11
Severino Roman

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jaime Valle	Jaime Valle	1518 E 41 st 500 th		7-31-11
Yolanda Ara	Yolanda Ara	1520 E 41 st 500 th		7-31-11
Edwin Serrano	Edwin Serrano	CA, CA		7-31-11
HUGO TORRES	Hugo Torres	1510 41 st		7-31-11
Nelson Lopez	Nelson Lopez	1510 41 st		7-31-11
NELSON	Nelson	1510 41 st		7-31-11
Pedro Gonzalez	Pedro Gonzalez	1510 41 st		7-31-11
ERIC MONTAÑA	Eric Montaña	LA, CA		7-31-11
Emiliano C	Emiliano C	510 41 st		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Santana		1058 Copeland ⁹⁰⁰⁵⁸	we need the park	7/30/11
MARVIN DEL CERRO		COMPTON	WE NEED THE PARK	7/30/11
Emilio TOBAR		COMPTON	WE NEED THE PARK	7/31/11
Miguel Rojas		COMPTON	we need the park	7/31/11
Luis M. Vde		Los Angeles 90057	We need the park	7/31/11
Luis M. Vde		LA, CA	we need the	7-31-11
Oscar Alatorre		Los Angeles 90057	we need the park	7-31-11
Elsa de Leon		2910 Colwood ⁹⁰⁰⁵⁷	we need the park	7/31/11
Luis Avelar		8802 Graham N.V.	We need the park	7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Randy Gonzalez		3721 Waring St 90011 Mountain View, CA		7/31
Byron Lassi		10150 Paulsen Ave. 91763		7/31
FRANK G.		301 S. VERMONT ST. CA		7/31
Jesus Hernandez		9060.6		7/31
VICTOR MANRIQ		90019 PICO BLVD-LA		7/31
CESAR		LA CA		7/31
JOSE CLEMENTE		93535		7/31
Eduardo Nolas		91605		7/31
Alvaro Barrios		LA CA		7/31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose' Corio		8229 S. 90097.		7/31
ALEXANDRIA		1702 E. 41 CA 90038		7/31
	Franco	9195 Manhattan		7/31
Carlos Toledo		133 S. Lafayette Park.		7/31
KEINAGLE		9105. Manhattan PL		7/31
Ramon O.		2827. Norford Ave.		7/31
Oswal		6421 S. Grammer		7/31
Marilyn.		Sun Antonio		7/31
Gabriel		" "		7/31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Victor Hernandez		6622 W 94 St		07-31-11
Luis S		6635 W 94 St		7-31-11
Rafael de la Cruz		2809 W 81 St LA		7-31-11
Rafael de la Cruz		2809 W 81 St LA		7/31/11
Teresa Gutierrez		2040 Magnolia Ave		7/31/11
Erick Clemente		Lancaster CA 93535		7/31/11
Dioniso Martinez		2121 W 74 St		7/31/11
Aracelis Barrios		9273 129 TR		7/21/12
Oscar Plata		1742 E 71 St LA CA 90011		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ramiro Cesallos	[Signature]	1012 Clarend St. # 2	WE NEED A LARGER GARDEN IN THIS SPACE	7/30/11
Nely Rodriguez	[Signature]	4178 Decora St #21, San Diego	Agreed ↑	7/30/11
JAIMES ALVARO	[Signature]	267 S. WASHINGTON AV. #504 LA	↑	7-30-11
Judith Garcia	[Signature]	1604 1/2 Scott Ave LA CA 90024		7-30-11
JESUS BUSTOS	JBN	4116 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
MARCOS	C.D	4116 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
Miguel Hernandez	Miguel Hernandez	849 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
Jorge Reyes	Jorge Reyes	845 ASCOT. AVE	LA 90011	7-30-11
Brenda Caceres	Brenda Caceres	849 ASCOT AVE	LA 90011	7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
[Signature]	[Signature]	1722 E 61st		8/3/11
Orlando Ruiz	[Signature]	621 Romulo		8/3/11
JORGE JUAREZ	[Signature]	1526 E 41 ST	323-234-4069	8-03-11
Gloranda Ruiz	[Signature]	11	323 921 0451	8-03-11
Jesus Alcantara	[Signature]	11	323 952 0457	8-03-11
MIRIAM OCHOA	[Signature]	1526 E 41 ST	323 234 0771	8-3-11
Gerardo Garcia	[Signature]	1526 E 41 ST		8-3-11
GORMAN	[Signature]	1526 E 41 ST	323 283 7651	8-3-11
Alfredo Gomez	[Signature]	1307 E. 28th ST.	(323) 232-8577	8-3-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jaime ALVAREZ		734-84-PL-PH-1 ^{LOS ANGELES CA 90001}	Keep your promise	8-3-2011
SALVADOR VALDIVIA		1575 E. 23 rd ST L.A. CA	keep your promise	8-3-11
Salvador V. Jr		545 E. 23 rd ST L.A. CA	keep your promise	8-3-11
Ricardo Lucas		1398 E 41 st ST ^{LOS ANGELES}	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Ricardo Iglesias		1368 E 23 rd ST ^{LOS ANGELES, CA 90011}	Keep your promise	8-3-11
RENE DUELAS		252-9. JONAS AND 10	Promise -	8-3-11
Dufoz Rene		1944 HOOPER AVE LOS ANGELES CA 90011		8-3-11
OSCAR SORIO		1942 HOOPER AVE	KYP	8-3-11
JASON SORIO		1942 Hooper AVE	Ky P	8-3-11

723 →
829
6021

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Susan		1308 ⁵⁵¹		8.3.11
Josefina Hdez		1330 1/2 41 PL		8.3.
Bryan Acosta		1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
JAZER Lomas		1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
Mike Lewis		1944 Hooper Ave		8.3
Mario Hernandez		4110 Ascut Ave LAL	Keep your promise	8.3
MARTIN GROS		1407 RE PL	Keep your promise	8.3
Miguel		1261 E 25-ST	Keep your promise	8.3
Miguel		524. Hooper VA	Keep your promise	8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Misael Calafino	Misael	4171 E wood lawn		7/31/11
Jesus S. Cono	Jesus S. Cono	10411 Morgan Ave		7/31/11
EDDY Pineda	Eddy	3520 Inglewood Ca	KEEP YOUR PROMISE
Alderson DeLaCruz	Alderson	501 E 49th St	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Hugo Solis	Hugo	8632 Barbara St LA	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Carlos Florio	Carlos	1666 41st St LA	" " "	8.3.11
MARION CHAVEZ	Marion	1534 E 22nd St LA	Keep your promise	08-3-11
PRUDENCE	Prudence	22035 GRIFFITH	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	8-3-11
Mauro Ruiz	Mauro	230 1/2 E 82ND PL 90003	Keep your promise	8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MARY Hampton		1445 E 41st Pl L.A. CA		7/31/11
Howard Sandra		41061 Dorsey St LA	We need a Football Park	7/31/11
Julia MARTINEZ			Soccer field a Park	7/31/11
Martin martinez		841st Pl L.A. CA		7/31/11
Brenda Martina		1601 E 41st Pl L.A. CA		7-31-11
Maria Cervantes		2818 1/2 E 2nd St	Keep your promise!!!	8/3/11
De-Ann Rosales		2818 1/2 E 2nd St	Keep your Promise	8/17/11
Andy U		22118 E 2d St	Keep your promise	8/17/11
Fernando Acub		3835 1/2 E 31 st St 90011	Keep your Promise	8/17/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Carlos		5050 S. W. 11th		7/31/11
Rogelio Perez		2408 W. Bullis Rd.		7/31/11
Linda G. Pugh		1933 AVE H 105		7/31/11
Carlos Rodas		1095 S. Edmore Av. #205		7/31/11
Cordero Alvarez		5246 La. Horsemanship		7/31/11
ARMANDO MONROE		447 E. 111TH ST. LA.		7/31/11
Luis Palacios		4417 S. Budlong LA		7/31/11
Domino Munoz		22772 Broadway		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Amalio Aguirre	[Signature]	1245 E 34 St		8.3
Oswaldo Valencia	[Signature]	1702 E 41 St		8.3
Eduardo Samoniego	[Signature]	1702 E 41 St		8.3
Eliisa Hernandez	[Signature]	1354 41 E ST PL		8.3
Leticia Lomas	[Signature]	1357 - 41 E PL		8.3
RyTanya Woods	[Signature]	1605 E 41 PL		8.3
MARGARITA GARCIA	[Signature]	905 E 210 Pl	905 E 210 Pl	8.3
JESSICA MARTINEZ	[Signature]	1194 1/2 W 45 St	Keep your promise	8-3-11
Maria E Gonzalez	[Signature]	1203 Holmwood

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Maria E Clemente	Maria E Clemente	1702 E. 41 st St L.A. CA 90058		07-31-2011
Karen Mendez	Karen Mendez	9636 Truba Ave 90280		8-3-11
Jose S Paredes	Jose S Paredes	3002 S Cascade Ave 90018		8-3/11
Yera Chato	Yera Chato	9636 Truba Ave 90280		8-3/11
Marcos Ramirez	Marcos Ramirez	1143 E 25 th St Los Angeles	A goal/keep your promise	8.3.11
Eduardo Dominguez	Eduardo Dominguez	1143 E 25 th St LA	for the youth	8.3
[Signature]	Eduardo			8.3
[Signature]	Oswaldo	1119 E 41 st St		8/03/11
Luis Angel Paredes	[Signature]	2709 S San Pedro		8/03/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Angel Juarez	Angel Juarez	1330 E 41 st Pl		8.3.11
Luis Almaraz	Luis Almaraz	330 E 41 st Pl		8.3
Ernesto Leon	Ernesto Leon	9401 s normandie	Don't break promises!	8.3
Juan Cruz	Juan Cruz	4213 Naomi		8.3
Karl Gonzalez	Karl Gonzalez	335A melgan	I'll be there	8.3.11
Juan Leon	Juan Leon	1055 us 90 th s normandie	N/A	8.3.11
Lizette Hernandez	Lizette Hernandez	168 E 43rd Pl.	Don't break promises	8.3.11
monique Johnson	monique Johnson	4212 Naomi	N/A	8.3.11
Destiny Lara	Destiny Lara	9804 Normandie Ave	Please make it	8.3.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ed Hernandez	Ed Hernandez	1622 E 1/2 33 rd st		8-3-11
Erick Gonzalez	Erick Gonzalez	1545 E 1/2 42nd st		8-3-11
Alejandro Salame	Alejandro Salame	1622 E 1/2 33rd st		8-3
Antonio Hernandez	Antonio Hernandez	1541 E 42nd st		8-3-11
Yolanda Sanchez	Yolanda Sanchez	1719 1/4 E 45 st		8/3/11
Toed Melendez	Toed Melendez	1226 E 42 st		8/3/11
Teofilo	Teofilo	1331 - E 42 ST		8/3/11
Jose	Jose	(323) 2-33-7172		8-3
Oscar	Oscar	(323) 252-5937	GOOD!!	8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Mendez		918 E.M.L King Blvd		8/3
OMAR GARCIA		919 E. 40TH PL		8/3
Stephanie Alfaro		1328 E 42nd St		8/3
JOSE ESPINOSA		918 E.M.L King Blvd		8/3
Diego Garcia		159 W 111th st		8/3
Maribel Torres		211 W 52nd St.		8/3
Bryan Ramos		155 Stone st		8/3
FERNANDO V	FERNANDO V	159 W - 111 ST		8/3
LUDON Garcia		919 E 40 TH PL		8/3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Ortiz	Jose Ortiz	4214 Compton av	we want a park	8/3/11
Jose Ponce	Jose Ponce	4156 S Compton Ave	We want Park soccer	8/3/11
JESUS PONCE	Jesus Ponce	4156 Compton Ave	We want soccer field	8/3/11
Jordan Ortiz	JORDAN ORTIZ	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8/3/11
ISAIAS GOMEZ	Isaias Gomez	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8/3/11
Ramiro Padilla	Ramiro Padilla	4214 Compton	Soccer field	8.3
KIMOTIK	Kimotik	9180 F4117		8.3
Francisco Carbajal	Francisco Carbajal	4214 Compton Los Angeles		8.3
Emmanuel Carballo	Emmanuel Carballo	9719 Compton Ave Los Angeles		8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Presumably		774 4th St Los Angeles	Soccer field	8.3.11
Krisal Garcia		2040 Firestone Blvd SA		8.3
OSCAR GIRON		10316 McKinley ave		8.3
Omar Garcia		914 E 40th Pl	SOUTH	8.3
Maria	Galvan	1620 E M. L. K Blvd	L.A. needs a GARDEN.	8.3
Laura	Galvan	1620 E Martin Luther King Blvd	My Dad had a garden there	8.3
Joanne	Lara	1620 E Martin Luther King Blvd	Had a garden there	8.3
Javier	Lara	1620 E M. L. K	FIGHT ON	8.3
Melody	Melody	4325 Lima st	fight on	8.3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
PARK		1620 1/2	Ivan Williams	8/3/11
Nathaly Maldonado		1442 E 22nd St		8-3-11
Melissa Maldonado				8-3-11
Samantha		1442 E 22nd St		8-3-11
Regelio		1175 E 46th	blackmetalist92@yahoo	8-3-11
Ayesha		1547 E MLK blv		8-3-11
Christina		479 Park Front Walk		8-3-11
Joanna
Nidia C.		54th & Fig.		8/3

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MARIO SEGONDA		4394 WALTON AVE		7/31/11
Javier Cardo		5300 S. 7th 90043		7-31-2011
JOSE CANIZ		3218 41ST PL		7-31-2011
Jose Pineda		323 354-5949		7.31.11
Jose Andrade		323/326-3329		7.31.11
Edgardo Zaldia		323 212 7496		7.31.11
Ricardo Rivera		(213) 249-1386		7/31/11
Rigoberto		12827 CLAVIS AVE LA		7.31.11
Fernanda Carr		(213) 245-9125		7.31.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Julio Perez		1256 Bromming Blvd		7-31-11
Edgar Arac		3448 west Blvd		7-31-11
Edwin Fajardo		14316 Vernon Ave		7-31-11
Eduardo Ramirez		1618 E 27th St LA, CA		7-26-11
R. de la Cruz		LA, CA		7-31-11
Miguel Martinez		1256 Bromming Blvd		7-31-11
Justin Jiscan		2011 Pomerooy Ave.		7-31-11
Leo Ortiz		N/A		7-31-11
Wilmer Cruz		4344 WALTON AV		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Allen Rivera	Allen Rivera	LA, CA		7.31.11
Andy Rivera	[Signature]	LA, CA		7.31.11
Jeffrey Rivera	Jeffrey Rivera	LA, CA		7.31.11
GERARD RIVERA	G. Rivera	1563 E 46th St		7.31.11
PRECILLIANO GAZDARA	P. Gazdara	1369 1/2 VERNON		7.31
LUCA	Luca	3475 104.5		7.31
PEDRO	Pedro	90 - VERNON 1030		7.31
SANTIAGO	[Signature]	LA, CA		7.31
E. Iberto	[Signature]	LA, CA		7.31

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
ALFONSO ALFONSO		437 Gaylen Ave LA, CA 90024		8/3/11
Julia Perez		9618 S Ash Ave Temple Hill CA 90284		8/3/11
Daniel Muñoz		3926 Olive St CA 90255	Huntington Park dannerstar@janos.com	8/3/11
Luis Rosales	Luis Rosales	3926 Olive St. H.P. CA 90255	ALFONSO ALFONSO@Yahoo.com	8-3-11
Kathy Quiroz		615 N. Howard Ave		8/7/11
Imelda Aguirre		172 N. Rose Ave		8/3/11
Rick Rieger		5021 Sierra Way W.A. 91362		8/3/11
ROSA MARTINEZ		1628 E. M. King		8/3/11
Jesse Hernandez		1025 E 42nd St LA CA 90011		8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MELVIN HANSON	Melvin Hanson	1244 E 60st	LET'S KEEP IT GREEN IN LA	8.3.11
Noel Lopez	Noel Lopez	7800 Peacemaker	Keep the Park	"
Joseph Danson	Joseph Danson	1314 E 53st		"
SHANNON SMITH	Shannon Smith	974 E 48th		"
Jose Zuniga	Jose Zuniga	1602 E 47th St.		"
Rodolfo Zuniga	Rodolfo Zuniga	1602 E 47th St		"
Francisco Delgado	Francisco Delgado	1531 E 41 Pl		"
Christian Pacheco	Christian Pacheco	2818 E 29th St		"
ANGELICA ALVARO	Angelica Alvaro	1571 E M.L. KING BLVD		9

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ana Pineda		16634 Marilla St North Hills		8/3
Sally Gadi		74 Allston Way San Francisco CA 94127		Aug 3 2011
JHR Gibson		5116 Serrano Ave Chumbly 90230		8/3/11
Julio Mata		845 W 112 nd St LA 90044		8/3/2011
Angela Rodriguez		110 S Waterbury Ave 91922 Corona		8/3/11
Rosenta Martinez		1708 N Alameda Ave		8/3/11
Miriam Elena Chavez		9819 Calzada Ave Whittier CA		8/3/11
Rosalee Rodriguez		9814 Calzada Ave Whittier 90605		8/3/11
Nicholas Santillan		5943 Carlton Way 90028		8/3/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Michael Kuehnert		3985 Maple St #52 LA 90066		8/3/11
Jasmin Kuehnert		↓ ↓ ↓	↓	8/3/11
BRENDA ALVAREZ		2737 W. 15 th ST LA 90066		8/3/11
RODIO MARTINEZ		Same as above		8/3/11
LINDSEY BIXLER		11911 MAGNOLIA BLVD VALLEY VILLAGE	LINZBIX@GMAIL	8/3/11
Devin Galloway		11911 Magnolia Blvd		8/3/11
Stephanie Larson		7411 Ramona Street		8/3/11
Robyn Placencia		6010 W. Central Ave		8/3/11
Heather Placencia		↓ ↓ PHX AZ 85012		8/3/11

LINZ

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Eduardo R.		1526 E 41st St LA 90011		2-8-11
ADRIANA G.		ADRIANA GONZALEZ 1526 E 41ST LA 90011		08-02-11
Jonathan Gutierrez		1526 E 41st LA 90011		8-2-11
Teodoro Garcia		3821 5th St B.G. CA 90020		08-02-11
Jose M. Torres		2926 Glenn Ave.		08-2-11
P. Flores		424 S. W. Angton Ave 90057		8-2-11
J. M. M.		3557 MAYWOOD		8-3-11
Carmelita Rosales		338 S. VERNON AVE Los Angeles CA 90011		8-3-11
Javier		3547 BRENTON AVE APT # 6		8-3-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
P
Netzpacori	Netzpacori	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Alex Flores	Alexandra Flores	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Maya Baniels	Maya Baniels	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Ramona Alarza	Ramona Alarza	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
MONICA MacGilligan	Monica MacGilligan	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
CRISTINA TACATA	Cristina Tacata	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Ingrid Maros	Ingrid Maros	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11
Rebeca Olvera	Rebeca Olvera	LA, CA 90058		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ricardo Grijalva		221 E. Winfield St		7-30-11
Selena Terrazos		LA, CA		7-30-11
Janet Velazquez		1676 W 19th St		7-30-11
Ricardo Molinet		1455 W. 29th St Los Angeles, CA 90007		7-30-11
CHRIS SILVA		331 San Francisco Ave Pasadena 91767		7/30/11
HERI PEREZ		323-503-8168		7.30.11
Marco Martinez		(805) 628-6915		7.30.11
TERESA ZARAGOZA		1155 LANGELL ST NORWALK, CA 90650		7-30-11
SELENA ROSALEZ		LA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Conna Rosales		LA, CA		7.30.11
Patricia Acosta		1359 E Bennett St. Compton, CA 90221		7.30.11
Tenoch Martinez		LA, CA		7.30.11
Elsa Acosta		1359 E Bennett St. Compton		7.30.11
Amans Holguin		LA, CA		7.30.11
Christina N.		253C Duke St #142		7.30.11
Ema		LA, CA		7.30.11
Cruz Flores		370 Farnsworth Ave		7.30.11
		LA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Tachhi R. Nava		LA, CA		7.30.11
Dolores Bilbao		LA, CA		7.30.11
Jaguel Dominguez		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Cesla Dominguez		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Justina Mejia		351 E 23rd St		7.30.11
Maria Caspar		1676 1/2 25th St		7.30.11
Xiomara Moya		4066 Coco Ave		7.30.11
E. Nathaniel		253 E Baker St		7.30.11
Sergio Pereda		LA, CA		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Janet Walle		Azusa, CA 91702 540 N. Barbara Ave.		7/30/11
Ruben Macias		540 N. Barbara Ave. Azusa, CA 91702		7/30/11
Maria Sinson		13535 Eckford St. La Puente Ca. 91746		7.30.11
Josefina Navarro		13535 Eckford St. La Puente, Ca. 91746		7.30.11
Jose Sinson		13535 Eckford St. La Puente, CA. 91746		7.30.11
Eduardo Ayala		5719 Mayo Dr. LA CA 90042		7.30.11
Diana Teller		2939 Gneiss Ave. Downey, CA 90242		7/30/11
SIDRONUNEZ		7116 Fisher Street Los Angeles CA 90032		7/30/11
Ixchel	Ixchel Gallegos	222 south ave 64		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
BOB S. BROWN		1421 MERRILL AVE LA PUENTE, CA 91750		7/30/11
FREDERICK MERCADO		6596 SUNDOWN DR RIVERSIDE, CA		7/30/11
LUIZ CAVALCANTE		234 N RIO BRAVO RIO BRIO, AZ		7/30/11
JULIETA MEDINA		121 E. 87th ST. LONG BEACH, CA 90803 L.A. CA		7/30/11
JOHN FLORES		1100 N GAGE AVE 90003		7/30/11
EDGAR FLORES		14703 HEDON AVE COMPTON CA		7.30.11
MICHAEL LEON		117 W. ELM ST. TUCSON AZ		7/30/11
MICHAEL LEON		117 W. ELM ST. TUCSON, AZ		7.30.11
WANDA KOPRA		10200 E 20TH ST.		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
CARLOS ROSAS		316 N. AVE W. ARTHE / LA CA 90042		7-30-11
Andrea Rojas		1023 W 57 th St Los Angeles CA 90044		7-30-11
Guilhermina Sierra		9323 Anzac Ave LA CA 90002		7-30-11
Clotia Mondragon		1351 E 22 nd St LA 90011		7-30-11
LINDA CHACON		826 S. MARGUERITA AVE ALHAMBRA CA 91803	Linda Chacon	7/30/11
Francisco Galva		9210 Park Ave		7/30/11
TANIA AM		51 N. WAUPE AVE		7/30/11
MARA GUERRA		1136 MITCHELL AVE		7/30/11
WENDY ESCAMILLA				7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Anna Lopez		1215 E. 35 th St		7-20-11
Janet Garcia P.		920 S. Hobart St		7-30-11
Marta Molina		420 S. Main St		7-30-11
Kunfuta B		901 S. Main St		7-30-11
Alex		901 S. Main St		7-30-11
Dries M.		422 Keenan Ave. L.A.		7-30-11
Edgardo masana		1779 W. 35 th St. L.A. CA.		7-30-11
✓ Silvia Duran		3507 Morgan Ave. LA		7-30-11
				=

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
[Handwritten Signature]	[Handwritten Signature]	[Handwritten Address]		31/7/11
[Handwritten Signature]	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7/31/2011
Rocio Hernandez	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7/31/11
Ju An	[Handwritten Signature]	CA, CA		7/31/2011
Jorec Holina	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7/31/2011
Edith Arzate	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7/31/11
Blanca Andrade	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7.31.11
Dora Puelas	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7.31.11
Fubi Rangel	[Handwritten Signature]	LA, CA		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Francisco Butierrez		1526 E 41 ST		31/7/11
Carmen Mor		1525 41 ST		31/7/11
Adrian		LA		7.31.11
Reisel de la Cruz		1524 North Wilshire		7/31/11
Mariana		LOS ANGELES	we want green space	7/31/11
Gerome		LA, CA		7.31.11
Stephanie		LA, CA		7.31.11
Chia		Los Angeles		7.31.11
Olivia Vazquez		1560 E. W. L. K.	green space	7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Delgado		1531 E 41st Pl # 3 90011		7-30-11
Evelia Hernandez		1831 E 41st Pl # 3 90011		7/30/11
Leticia Arriaga		4070 1/2 S. Sampedro St 90011		7/30/11
Osmin Albato		1124 1/2 E 28th St L.A. CAL 90011		07/30/11
Julio Cervantes		2431 CUSUMY ST H.P CA 90255		7-30-11
Martin Hernandez		1831 E 41st Pl # 2 90058		7-30-11
Ma. Elena G.	M E G.	1434 1/2 E 46th St 90011		7-30-11
Raul L.				7.30.11
Carlo Lh				7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Baltazar Ayala		1911 Euclid ST 3M		07-30-11
Krizna Arala		1937 1/2 17th St 5M		7.30.11
Baltazar Ayala		2007 E PROMA DRIVE		7/30/11
LUCAS DE LA TORRE		9714 EXPOSITION BLVD APT 6 LOS ANGELES CA 90034	Don't Do it!!	7/30/11
PAOLA IVETTE ZAVALA		9714 EXPOSITION BLVD APTS LOS ANGELES CA 90034	Don't build on green	7/30/11
Gabriela Capata		12217 Pacific Ave LA CA 90046	Tia hoi!	7/30/11
Josie Navarro	Josie Navarro	1439 N. Indiana ST #457	Don't build on green	7/30/11
Mahem Mejia		607 Calle Conquistador Apt 9 SC	Don't Do it!	7/30/11
PAULO SOLIS		1216 E. S 2ND ST, ALHAMBRA 91801		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Rafael Escoria		1375 Garces Ave Yunon Ca		7/30/11
Marcus Banks		1875 E Garces Ave Yunon Ca CA 91716		7/30/11
Gabriel Ritz		235 S. Firecreek St West Covina CA 91791		7/30/11
Luis Herrera		2637 W Monte Carlo Santa Ana Ca 92706		7/30/11
Oscar Olaguer		lennado_970@hotmail.com		7/30/11
Janet Mendez		1822 E. Palmira Ave Orange, CA 92866		7/30/11
Carlos G		tesca@att.net.com		7/30/11
Yahir Fernandez		2637 w monte Carlo Santa ana CA 92706		7/30/11
Ana Sanchez		342 N. Balle Ave LA CA 90033		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Marela Lopez		1521 Helen Ave Los Angeles		7/30/11
David Lopez				7/30/11
IRAZA NAVARRO		AZUSA CA 5502 W. ASPEN AVE		7/30/11
Patricia Rivas		3629 W. SAVANNAH ST 201 ANAHEIM CA		7/30/11
Victoria Bouson		1557 W. 2nd		7/30/11
Rida Alwadi		MN		7/30/11
Emi Almanza		MN		7/30/11
Sajana Vilal		MN		7/30/11
Jennifer Roman		4309 Alpha St. LA		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Anieha Roman	Anieha Roman	2832 Van 12, 110		7/20/11
Cruz Linares	Cruz Linares	2802 Alameda		7/30/11
Hector	Hector	2528 Howard St, LA, CA 90003		7/30/11
Janay Lopez	Janay Lopez	12411 Channing Ave, Compton, CA 90221		7/30/11
Paul	Paul	4400 Alameda Dr, Compton		7/30/11
Aloran Avelo	Aloran Avelo	2901 Curtis Ave Alhambra		7/30/11
SERGIO AVELLO	Sergio	222 E REEVE ST COMPTON		7/30/11
MARIA Avelo	Maria	222 E REEVE ST COMPTON		7/30/11
Guadalupe A.	Guadalupe	222 E. Reeve St. Compton		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Kimberly Corda	Kimberly Corda	10310 S. Lowman Ave LOS Angeles CA 90023		7/30/11
SANTOS RODRIGUEZ	Rodriguez	544 W 13 th ST LOS ANGELES, 90044		7-30-11
Edgar Arizmerdi	Edgar Arizmerdi	2602 Morced Ave El Monte CA 91733		7-30-11
Maribel Chas	Maribel Chas	1676 Wright St. Pomona CA		7-30-11
Dante Garcia	Dante Garcia	225 N. Boyleston St LA 90012		7-30-11
Gilbert Brown	Gilbert Brown	225 N. Boyleston St		7-30-11
NETA GASHQAI	Neta Gashqai	2233 Whittier Blvd LA CA 90023	GREEN OPEN SPACES YES FARM YES	7/30/11
Claudia Gomez	Claudia Gomez	385 N Avenue 52 LOS Angeles CA-90042		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LUIS FERRER		385 1418		7-30-11
Cynthia Pena		1015 WISCONSIN ST LA CA 90015		7/30/11
Claudia Silva		712 E. 27th St. 90011		7-30-11
Betty Navarro		8412 Rives Ave Dan 90240		7-30-11
Ulises Santana		14627 Ohio St Baldwin Park VAN NUYS CA 91411		7-30-11
Victoria Palma		7000 Hazeltine Ave		7-30-11
Ruben Palma		4		7-30-11
Kimberly Simon		12523 Eckerd St La Brea CA 91244		7-30-11
ALICIA V MACIAS RUBEN R MACIAS	 	3232 Marquon St Baldwin Park, Ca	Promises should be kept if we believe in giving to our community.	7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background:	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Eduardo Gomez		520 S. ACADEZ CAMPION	to have change of this they need more time	7/30/11
Teofil Garcia		8533 North St. Ventura		7/30/11
Servando Roballos		119 Cuspidaris St Apt A Salinas CA		7-30-11
Donna Rodriguez		1629 9th Ave Delano 93205		7-30-11
Raul Hernandez		4878 Woodside Ave #1160 CA 91331		7/30/11
David Hernandez		912 S. Orange Ave SOUTH ANGELES CA 90701		7/30/11
Juan Garcia		PO BOX 4781 PERRIS CA 91762		7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Cristina Boocaa		222 S. AVE. 64 LA CA 90042		7/30/11
* Francisco Cardillo		809 E 46th St LA CA 90011		7/30/11
Valeria Martinez		4914 NAVARRO ST LA CA - 90032		7/30/11
Jasmine S		8640 Millrose St APT # A12 Sunbnd, CA 90049		7/30/11
Madelme B				7/30/11
Maria M		4617 Country Club Dr #116		7/30/11
Eva Arteaga		540 S. Ferris Avenue L-A CA-90022		7/30/11
Adolfo Arteaga		540 S. Ferris Ave LA CA 90022		7/30/11
Tanawan Arteaga		540 S. Ferris Ave LA CA, 90022		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LARRY ELWIK		1855 W. 87 th St. #5 Los Angeles CA 90047	KEEP YOUR PROMISE	7.30.11
Jose Alfaro		5132 Live oak St. Los Angeles CA 90255	Keep your promise	7.30.11
EFRAIN MONTERO		1132 S KEEN AVE. L.A. CA 90002	your promise	7/30/11
Manuel Vazquez		4712 Elizabeth St. Los Angeles CA 90255	Antelope park camp	7.30.11
Alberto pascual		1508 E 51 st L.A. CA 90011	Keep you promise	7.30.11
gor		1367 24 th St L.A. CA 90007	Keep Promise	7.30.11
Silvia		252 E 59 th PL Los Angeles CA 90003	Keep your promise	7.30.11
CHRISTIAN A. VILLON		5732 Fountain Av. Los Angeles CA 90028	Keep your promises	7-30-11
Victor Villon		4160 Dorset Los Angeles CA 90011	Keep your promise	7-30-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Juan Orrellana	Juan Orrellana	4160 Dorsey St. ⁹⁰⁰¹¹	Keep your promise	7-30-11
Raymond Lopez	Raymond Lopez	4311 1/2 Crocker St. ⁹⁰⁰¹¹	Keep your promise	7-30-11
Colon CARD	Colon CARD	6414 10th Ave. LA ⁹⁰⁰¹³	Keep soccer alive	7/30/11
Red Ro	Red Ro	5036 ⁹⁰⁰⁴³	Loop	7/3/11
MARTIN PASTOR	M. Pastor	465 EAST 43rd Pl. LA ⁹⁰⁰¹¹		7/30/11
CHARLES HOGAN	Charles Hogan	516 W 109th St LA ⁹⁰⁰⁴⁴	Keep PROMISE	7/30/11
Carlos Mendez	Carlos Mendez	4301 W 159 St ⁹⁰²⁶⁰	Good.	7/30/11
TERRANCE EUSTACE	T. Eustace	45641 CORNIEZ LA.	Loop	7-30/11
LISTON TABON	Liston Tabon	1164 N. VAN Ness AVE. LA ⁹⁰⁰³⁸	Need more soccer field	7/30/11

Beize

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
JEROME ANDERSON	Jerome Anderson	1419 W 10 AVE 90015	Keep your promises	7-30-11
Matilde Colon	Matilde Colon	626-E-75 ST		7-30-11
Ana Morono	Ana Morono	1625 E 41 PL LA 90011	Soccer field	7-30-11
Gilberto	Gilberto	621 ISABE ST. 90065		7/30/11
Pedro Ayala	Pedro Ayala	2298 Wilkie Dr. 90011	we want the soccer field	7/30/11
Lourdes P.	Lourdes P.	3617 Sth an willshire 90018	SOCCER	7/30/11
Nilsen T	Nilsen T		SOCCER	7/30/11
Byron	Byron	3115 S. la Salle 90018	SOCCER	7/30/11
Aner M.	Aner M.			7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Diego Duban		2222 Barbours Ct. ⁹⁰⁷³¹ San Pedro		7.30.11
Javier Dubon		2222 Barbours Ct. ⁹⁰⁷³¹ S. Pedro		7.30.11
Arel Corona		1276 E 33 TH ST 90411		7.30.11
PATRICIOS BOSTIM		2 LA CA		7.30.11
Francisco		4419 S. MITCHELL PL. ⁹⁰⁰⁶²		7.30.11
JUAN TORRES		206 E 82 ND ST LA CA ⁹⁰⁰⁶³		7.30.11
Jose Ramirez		3407 NAMIAMI AVE ⁹⁰⁴¹¹		7.30.11
Alma Avila		1421 E 56 TH ST LA CA ⁹⁰⁰¹¹		7.30.11
Beverly Esquivel		4426 W 80 TH ST LA CA ⁹⁰⁰⁰⁸		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
coach* Frida Espinoza		442 w 40 st 90003		7.30.11
Daniel		947 33 st 90011		7.30.11
Silverio		11417 1/2 Berendo Ave 90044		7.30.11
Josmin Delgado		11417 1/2 Berendo Ave 90044		7.30.11
Marta		122 E 91 st L.A. 90003		7.30.11
Bestros & Buesano		3914 Columbus Blvd #11 91202		7.30.11
Roy Fajardo		1431 E. Vernon Ave #7 90011		7.30.11
Edgardo		631 w. 28 st L.A. CA 90007		7.30.11
Guillermo Barra		14005 Chedron Ave		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jose Vasquez	Jose Vasquez	841 W 112 ST 90044		7.30.11
Maria Vasquez	M. Vasquez	228 W. 82nd St. 90305		7.30.11
Juliana Vasquez	Juliana Vasquez	228 W 82nd St 90305		7.30.11
ROBERTO HERNAN	[Signature]	5854 2 nd AVE 90043		7.30.11
Jesus Ramirez	[Signature]	227 E 30TH ST 90011		7.30.11
Elena Ramirez	Elena Ramirez	445 E. 99th St 90003		7.30.11
Adriana Moreno	[Signature]	726 E 97th St. 90301		7.30.11
Maria Mata	[Signature]	LA CA		7.30.11
Maria Torres	[Signature]	620 E 88th St / LA Cal 90002		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Gricely Duarte	Gricely Duarte	346 E. 59th Pl LOS ANGELES CA 90003		7/20/11
FRANK PEÑA	[Signature]	826 W MORENO AVE		7.30.11
Claudia Lopez	Claudia L	618 W 74th St LA CA 90044		7.30.11
Rosa Lopez	Rosa Lopez	618 W 74th St LA CA 90044		7.30.11
Fernando Lopez	[Signature]	620 W 74th St LA CA 90044		7.30.11
Daddy Vozel	[Signature]	347 E. 59th Pl LA 90003		7.30.11
Stacey Garcia Valle	[Signature]	347 E 59th Pl LA 90003		7.30.11
Jose B Montiel	[Signature]	1602 E. 32nd St LA 90011		7.30.11
Jose Montiel	[Signature]	1602 E. 32nd St LA 90011		7.30.11

Kinetic

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Miguel Morales	MM	4512 S Figueroa	90037	7.30.11
Agustina de la Cruz		902 1/2 E 27th St LACAL		7.30.11
Lozoro Mendez		2108 S. MAPLE AVE.	90011	7.30.11
ARTEDELIA	FRANCISCO	LA, CA		7.30.11
Eulalia	mte	351 W 46 St	90037	7.30.11
Melissa Ch.	Melie Ch.	1149 E. 57th St.	90255	7.30.11
Guadalupe Ch.	Guadalupe	1149 E. 57th St.	90255	7.30.11
Sonia Leon		1149 E 57th St	90255	7.30.11
Maria Betancourt	Maria	1149 E 57th St.	90255	7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
ANTONIO C.		707 E. 40TH PL	NECESITAMOS ^{NAS} CAMPOS	7/30/11
Silvia P.		4420 Staunton Av.	" " " "	7/30/11
Roberto Cn		"	"	7/30/11
Raul		2107 ST. LA	" " " "	7-30-11
Raul Lopez		1434 1/2 E. 46TH ST L.A	90011	7.30.11
Juana Flores		1441 E 46 ST L.A	90011	7/30/11
JUAN MARTINEZ	J.E	9706 BEACH	" " "	7/30/11
David Rye	D.R	2110 HPCA 90255	"	7/30-11
Morcos		416 41 street 90011		7.30.11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Liliana Bahena		1615 E 32 nd St CA 90001	bahenalilian@yahoo.com	8/9/11
Margarita Parks Higuera		1035 W 163 rd St Gardena		8/9/11
Julie Medina		9422 S Budlong Ave.	JulieP@	8/9/11
Eli Acevedo		935 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Anahi Acevedo		935 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Jessica Flores		931 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Daisy Flores		931 W 47 th St		8/9/11
Janeth Amezcua		144 W 58 th		11/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of Company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Julio Franco		705 E Vernon LA CA 90011		8/9/11
Jose Moran		3076 Lynwood Rd, Lynwood CA 90262		8/9/11
Jasmin Nova		5123 1/2 S San Pedro, Los Angeles CA 90011		8/9/11
Luis Martin		273 E 43rd St Los Angeles CA 90000		8/9/11
Jose Ledezma		8029 E ST. L Los Angeles CA 90003		8/9/11
Edgar Sandoval		1187 E Adams Blvd Los Angeles, CA 90011		8/9/11
Miguel Cortez		5842 Bon Solto L.A. CA 90044		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Mar Sandra
Madelena		4200 1/2 Compton Ave		8-9-11
Jesus Soto		3307 Morgan Ave		8/9/11
Leonardo Isidro		4601 Compton Ave		"
Rosa J. Marty		6330 Arlington		8/9/11
Armando Lainez		850 E 31 ST		"
Jorge Hernandez		1151 E 74 ST		8/9/11
Norma Rojas				"
Roberto Cardenas		832 79th 9000/		8/9/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Jose Barboza		1321 W 106 th St L.A. Ca 90044	joelking86@gmail.com	8-9-11
Dorian Villalobos		499 E 111 th Dr 9059	BOBEMAN123@gmail.com	8-9-11
Omar Romero		260 E Vernon Ave	Omar.Romero@yahoo.com	"
James Gomez		422 St Central		"
Jesus Vargas	Jesus Vargas	144 West 58 th LA 90037		"
Victor Amecua	Victor Amecua	same		"
Jonathan C.		same		"
Raul Amecua		1207 W 58 th St CA		"
Jonathan Bustamante		6524 Malabar St		"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Carlos Aragon		6526 MALIBU ST		8.9.11
Gilbert Huerta		6343 Regis St		"
Das. e. Melendez		1417 3rd St		"
Marlon Fabris		616 N Hobart St		"
Daniel Leyva		1446 1/2 St 1 23		"
Miguel Nava		1446 1/2 E. 23rd st.		"
Jonathan		↑		"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ernesto Castro	Ernesto Castro	11329 BILWATER L.A.	NEED MORE SOCCER FIELDS SO THAT KIDS CAN PLAY.	8-13/11
Yana Gonzalez	Yana Gonzalez	3756 Arlington Ave		7
Cesar Ortiz	CO	LA		8/13/11
Miguel Gonzalez	Miguel	3756 Arlington Ave		8/13/11
Sonia Flores	Sonia Flores	4421 S. Morgan Ave L.A. Ca 90011		8/13/11
Guadalupe Vazquez	Guadalupe Vazquez	4426 Morgan Ave		8-13/11
Maria Estrada	Maria Estrada	1571 E. 33 rd st.		8/13/11
Alyra Rivera	Alyra Rivera	4116 Ascot Ave.		08/13/11
Margarita Anaco	Margarita Anaco	1368 E. 41st. Apt. 4		08/13/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Caroline Cabrera		10115 State St. Apt. 6, Lynwood, CA 90262	amaryllis.cb@gmail.com	8/15/11
Yvette Perez		10528 Hunt Ave South Gate CA 90280	perez_yvette19@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Cassandra Perez		10528 Hunt Ave, South Gate CA	perez.cassco@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Guerrero Jose		9545 Otis St South Gate CA	guerrero19.jose@yahoo.com	8/15/11
Fenessa Pineda		13502 Farnse Dr. La Mirada	fenessa@verizon.net	8-15-11
Olga Moedano		8992 San Gabriel Ave. #B South Gate CA	olgamoedano@gmail.com	8/15/11
Oscar Gutierrez		7102 1/2 Mountain View Ave. Hawthorne CA	Oscar993@gmail.com	8/15/11
Tiffany Medina		10234 Bryson Ave. South Gate CA 90280	tiffmedina@ymail.com	8-15-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Reason primary and secondary	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCP Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." - LA Times Editorial "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Reason secondary	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
KELVIN (C)				8-20-11
LUIS ESCOBEDO		Los Angeles CA 90033 1645 Clarence St 1417 Alameda Ave		8-20-11
Oscar Torres		8410 W. Vinces Ave Montebello CA		"
David Fuentes		7113 Birchleaf Pasadena CA 91106		"
Alfredo Lopez		8015 Whittier BL Arroyo		"
Enrique Marquez		4605 E. 9th St Los Angeles		"
Rose Manuel		1800 1/2 New England St. L.A. CA		"
Armando Cabique		Arleta Lora 9233 Col Della		"

Printed Name	Signature	Address	City	State
Javier Vargas A.	J.V.A	1508 46 St APT FLA.
LUIS ANAYA	AAA	10700 58th
OLIVER CAMPESANO	LA	8022 30th 96004
Paul Nira		5123 1/2 S Campesano St	LA	CA 90011
Javier Flores	Javier Flores	705 E. Vernon Ave	La Ca	90011
Eduardo Soria		5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	La Brea	90011
David Nolasco		705 EVERMORE AVE	LA	CA 90011
Jose Hernandez	Jose Hernandez	1535 E. Hellman St.	Long Beach	CA 90813
Maria E Lopez		022 E 21st St	Los Angeles	CA
David Ross		4307 S. Howard Ave	Los Angeles	CA 90062
JOSE ANTONIO CAMPESANO		915 W 58th St	LA	CA 90037
Guillermo A		7616 S. San Pedro St	LA	CA 90003
FRANCISCO C.			LA	CA 90003
Frederic Jones		3232 5th Ave	LA	CA 90037
Juan Carlos		195 W 56 St	LA	CA 90037

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Fatima				8.6.11
Juan Flores				"
Kevin Flores				"
One Perez	@ One Perez	1038 E. 42 nd Pl LA CA 90001	(323) 2325117	8.6.11
Silvia	Palmas	4420 Stanton Ave LA CA	(323) 253-12-18	08-06-11 - ✓
Silvia Casilla	Silvia Casilla	6020 Mayflower Maywood	(323) 560-2979	8-6-11
Rocio Huerta	"	1258 E. 77.	(323) 3517001	8-6-11
Cristina Canillo	Cristina Canillo	314 W 47 th ST. 90021		8-6-11

Silvia Palmas

o

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background:	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

	Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
	Elvira		4156 CAMPTON AVE		2.6.11
	Paulita		4168 CAMPTON AVE		"
A	Mario	Lopez Mario	4151 Naomi St. (323) 9654	(323) 387-5861	"
AO	Sandra	Sandra Galvan	391 9654		"
o	Jaqueline	Jaqueline D	323 382-3028	1560 E 32nd St LAC 90011	"
o	Leticia	Leticia Lopez	314 W 47th St	L.A CA	90037
o	Oscar H.	Oscar Hernandez	(323) 273-3312	1549 E 42 St LACA 90011	"
o	MELVIN JOHNSON	Melvin Johnson	323-4816467	ME190001@GMAIL.COM	"
	Fernando Lopez		12801 74 W. ST. LA.	323) 818-5224	"

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
	Guadalupe Rojas	1665 E W. Luther King		7/31/11
	Rosa Rojas	1669 E W L King		7-31-11
	Maria Salvo	1575 E W L King		7-31-11
	Urias Miranda	1551 1/4 E 52nd St		"
○	RAFAEL R.	Rafael A. Rodriguez	600 W Goth St LACA	323-846-0237	8-6-11
man ○	Andrew J	Andrew J. Dwyer	1532 East Vernon Ave	1323-392-2098	8-6-11
A ○	Janine Nunez	Janine Nunez	1657 E 43 St	(323) 399-5579	8-6-11
A ○	Selva V. Valdivia	Selva V. Valdivia	1506 E 43 St	(323) 234-7443	8-6-11
A ○	Sandra Ramirez	Sandra Ramirez	1657 East 43 St	213 247-0859	8/6/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow" -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Milton Acevedo		10238 10 th St, Los Angeles, CA		8-9-11
Jaime MARTINEZ		11371 41 ST LA		8-9-11
Billy Vasquez		1843 S. Granddary Pl #2		8-9-11
Mario Man Jimenez		15-37-633 ST. B AP. 2		8-9-11
MARTIN DIAZ		1019 E 78 ST		8-9-11
ROBERTO MORENO		6317 HOLMES AVE		8-9-11
Miguel Vasquez		4344 Arlington Ave		8-9-11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Javier Vargas A.	J.V.A	1508 46 th Apt Fl.A.
LUIS ANZUA	LU	10700 88 th
OLIVER CAMPORAL	LA	8022-50 th 9 th Blvd
David Nunez		5123 1/2 S. Campedro St	LA CA 90011
Javier Franco	Javier Franco	705 E. Warner Ave	La Ca 90011
Feladillo Serna		5123 ^{1/2} S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
Daniel Francis		705 E. Vernon Ave	LA CA 90011
Rita Anza		5123 1/2 S San Pedro St	LA CA 90011
Jose Hernandez	Jose Hernandez	705 E. Vernon Ave	LA CA 90011
Mario F. Lopez		1535 E. Hillman St.	Long Beach, CA 90813
David Reyes		822 E. 31 st St	Los Angeles CA
Juan Manuel Manzanilla		4320 S. Alhambra Blvd	Los Angeles, CA 90062
Gustavo A.		1213 W 50 th St	LA CA 90037
Emmanuel J.C.		7671 S. San Pedro St	L.A CA 90003
Peire Lopez		3732 SUC Center	L.A. CA
Manzanilla		143 W 56 th St LACA	90037

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCP Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Reynaldo Diaz	Reynaldo D	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Juan Lo Aguilar	Juan Lo A	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Leticia Diaz	Leticia Diaz	1434 1/2 E 20 th St		8/9/11
Luis Solis	Luis Solis	4118 Hooper Ave		8/9/11
Juan M.	Juan M.	2014 - E 73 St L.A.	90001	8/9/11
Alberto Castro	Alberto Castro	218 E 22 nd St	9001	"
Francisco	Francisco	5955 S MAIN	90003	"
EST		5955 S-MAIN	90011	"
Francisco

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Laura Almo		3280 Descanto Dr. LA, CA	lalmo@earthlink.net	8-19-11
Carrie DeBevoise		17850 Plumpkin Ct LA, CA	carried@ymail.com	8-19-11
Adam Granovnik		4325 Granada Ave LA, CA	GRANOVNIK@GMAIL.COM	8-19-11
Val Russo		4300 Alameda MIDWICK, CA	valrusso@gmail.com	8-19-11
Sunny Levine		4300 Alameda MIDWICK, CA	sun@leberhino.com	8-19-11
Beth Husnik		1409 Elevado St LA, CA	bethhusnik@yahoo.com	8-19-11
MARY PRENDERGAST		1803 N. Kenmore Ave LA, CA	cleamontfilds@gmail.com	8/19/11
George Brinson		17850 Plumpkin Ct LA, CA	gbrinson@gmail.com	8/19/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: "A South-Central garden spot again?" May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Donovan McLean		1443 Alamosa St L.A. CA 90026	sthtcxtm@gmail.com	8/19/11
ROTH LEVINE		1349 CHANTAVANT BLVD P.P. CA 90272	rothlevine@uicmac.com	8/19/2011
Doug Kieffer		1825 N. Whitley #403 LA 90008	buglegso@gmail	8/19/11
David Goldstein		216 Glen Dr Sausalito CA 94965	dijiji@gmail.com	8/19/11
Cory Brazeman		128 N. Swell Dr #304 CA 90048	cory@lanighbors.org	8/15/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Jerry DiRienzo		738 22nd St Los Angeles	hotpie music@gmail.com	8-19
CHRISTY SCHWAB		11	duchessmusic@verizon.net	5/9
Brian		11355 W. Olympic LA		8-15-11
Jan Sello		1832 Leitch Blvd Woodland Hills	SM 1000
Deborah Kaye		6519 Kuback Ave	dkkaye@aol.com	8/19/11
Julia Stein		819 NO. SEMA BONITA	julias@earthlink.net	8/19/2011
Justin Meadows		4445 CANTON ST Arc 7116 Toluca Lake, CA 91602	justinmeadows@earthlink.net	8/19/11
SANDY BROWN		10350 Wilshire	sandy10778@yahoo.com	8/19
Michael Galinsky		169 Hall St AK CA 11205	mgalinsky@yahoo.com	8/19

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies, are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
CLEMENTE FRANK		1295 SUNSET L.A. CA	CKRANKOY@HOTMAIL
BEN BENKOWITZ		4005 MAN ST #5A LA, CA 90013	INTO@BENZPIM.COM
JUDY MACHADO		835 Alameda AVE Pasadena, CA	YMSOLUTIONS@SBCGLOBAL.NET
Benny Madero		219 Ohio St #1 91106 Agoura Hills 91301	bennymadero@hotmail.com
ROSE TOPPIS		4079 York Ave 20820 Trabuco St Christworth, CA 91321	rosierora@gmail.com	8/20/11
JOSE KIRK		17435 San Fernando Mission Beach GRANVILLE CA 91344	jkirk@earthlink.net	8/20/11
JIM SUMMERS		17435 San Fernando Mission Beach GRANVILLE CA 91344	jimsummers@verizon.com	8/20/11
MARIA FISK		17421 Howe St Granada Hills CA 91344	MFISK@WIZEL.COM	8/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Elizabeth G. Zager	[Handwritten Signature]	937 Alameda Ave.	lizagerb@mac.com	8/20/11
Aaron Zober	[Handwritten Signature]	1836 N. New Hampshire Ave #306 LA 90034	azober@gmail.com	8/20/11
Jamm Land	[Handwritten Signature]	906 E Alameda LA 90034	jammiland@aol.com	8/20/11
Kimberly Thompson	[Handwritten Signature]	17345 Tennyson LA 91344	Kimthompson@socialm.com	8-20-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Josh Trachtenberg		407 Huntley Dr 90048	josh@trachtenberg.com	8/20/11
Audrey Prins		407 Huntley 90048	audrey@audacious.org	8/20/11
KEITH NAKATA		811 N. CROFT AVE ⁹⁰⁰⁶⁹ LA	keith.nakata@earthlink.net	8/20/11
Cynthia Neber		1979 Grace Ave Apt 2 ^{LA 90065} 90068	neber1@aol.com	8/20/11
Dwayne Wyatt		4419 SAN ANDREAS AV	CITYPRAXIS@gmail.com	8/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the garment companies are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Email	Date
Glen Fox		2011 N. NEWBRAND ST #111 SAN ANTONIO, TX 78209	glenfox47@hotmail.com	8/20/11
Chris Langton		11250 Phyllis ST #53 CULVER CITY, CA 90230	amdramwk@yahoo.com	8/20/11
MIKE Matthias		1869 Sunset St Culver City, CA 90230	mike.matthias@latina.com	8/20/11
Ashleigh Matthias		10867 Stevens St Culver City, CA 90230	ashleigh.matthias@gmail.com	8/20/11
Megan Culver		10860 Stevens St Culver City, CA 90230	megan.culver@gmail.com	8/20/11
Kid Culver		"	Kid.culver@fox.com	8/20/11
Stephanie Hubbard		3027 Vineyard Ave LA, CA 90016	huvanghu@gmail.com	8-20-11
REG SEROE		P.O. Box 1779 DR, CA 90209	6185@aol.com	8/20/11
Noemi Ramirez		12955 Sunset Blvd LA CA 90024	noemi63@gmail.com	8/20/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MAYRA ZANORA		928 WATSON AVE WILMINGTON 90744		7/30/11
Patrick Serrano		626 274 2499	Awesome Job Guys!	7/30/11
Joie Carrara		400 S Burnside Ave #85 LA CA 90056	Yah!	7/30/11
Linda Zielski		1228 Prestonway Venice CA 90291	Freedom for food!	7/30/11
Sergio Rudy		3108 Hammond St Daly City CA		7/30/11
Daniel Rodriguez		22 - 16 W FANNING 6611 Cedar St	Bring it back make that fruit last good	7/30/11
Jose Jacob Garcia		4245 N. Hazel Ave Fresno CA 93722		7/30/11
Brianna Corral		21303 Hidden Pines Dr		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Angel Jimenez		1907 Singingwood Ave	Romana Ct. 91707	7/30/11
Gabriel Pivers		1025 E S Stingf. Longbeach, CA 90805		7/30/11
Juan Gonzalez		12993 - Subwood St	Pacifica, CA 91031	7/30/11
Jorge Lopez		1456 S. Matthews St. Lt 90033		7/30/11
Paulo Duran		4495 Sunset Lakes	The Garden Mustang 713411
Benjamin Farmer
Yvonne Becerra		4294 San Bernardino St	Mantolair Ca 91767 7-30-11
Jennifer Rojas		1732 Bowman	rojas.jen.renee@gmail.com 7/30/11
Eyes Herrera		1208 W Kamehaha	veyeshe@ymail.com 7/30/11
John Miller		1378 N. Country Club	johnny.know@ymail.com 7/30/11
Yelena Figueroa			Yelena.Figueroa@gmail.com 7/30/11
Alma Rivera		232 Wilson Ave	Orlando FL 32814	7/30/11
WARRIOS		831 Santa St	MyStar 9200 Hottel 7/30/11

* 7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
CARLOS HERNANDEZ		(Pasadena, 91331) 12545 TERRA BELLA ST		7/31/11
MARK DIDIA		117 BIRMINI PL 90004		7/31/11
ALPHONSO MARTINEZ		4532 Catalpa St 90072		7-31-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Vincent Ralaja		Costa Mesa, CA 1412 W. Flant	SoCal needs more farms like this	7/30/11
Jose Chavez				7/30/11
Katherine C. Roberts		1709 N. 1st Ave Upland CA	Please Bring Back the FARM!	7/30/11
Matt Carter		139 Virginia El Segundo		7/30/11
PERMATT			El Toro @ All Moo
SPIN SANTIAGO		4123 E. BRAD ST. LONG BEACH, CA	EAT FRESH FOOD!	7/30/11
Mariana Bruno		Santa Ana, CA		7/30/11
Seray Aparanah		3041 Weldon Ave		7/30/11
Nicolas Lopez

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Leonardo Velazquez	[Signature]	103 Shasta St, 91910		7/30/11
Maria Zavala	[Signature]	1419 E. 42nd St / LAC 9011		7/30/11
Salvador Foster	[Signature]	1419 E 42nd St / LAC 9011		7/30/11
Dana Bryons	[Signature]	849 Vanhorn Ave		7/20/11
Julie Leavelle	[Signature]	1108 Stokes Hwy 2030 S Beverly Ave LA, 90007	cost estimate	7-30-11
Beta Amemi	[Signature]	21303 Hildou Pines Dr Diermond Br, CA 91705		7-30-11
Joan Gonzalez	[Signature]
Walter Retalla	[Signature]			7/30/11
Jaime Esquivel	[Signature]	502 E Myrtle St Santa Ana CA 92701		7/30/11
PAUL GARCIA	[Signature]	10712 Norcott Pl.		7/30/11
Clay Stribel	[Signature]	US Army St.		7/30/11
Alex Hernandez	[Signature]	1511 Pico St. SAN FRANCISCO
Michael Thurman	[Signature]	740 Glen Street Norwalk Ca		7/30/11
David Bergdorf	[Signature]	1521 Church St. Santa Ana 92705		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
BLITHE AGUIAR		121 EAST WOOD DR. CAMPBELL, CA 95010		7/30/11
Jake Reich		6109 SW Nevada Ave. Portland, OR 97239		7/30/11
Nathaniel Clucas	Nathaniel Clucas	665 N Handy St Orange, CA		7/30/11
Nat Wisely		Collingswood, NJ 08100		7/30/11
Lillian Beane		ATMANTON NEW JERSEY	Save Open Space Now!	7/30/11
Chris Allen		Collingswood, NJ		7/30/11
FIDEL ARIAS		12808 Farnell St. Baldwin Park		7/30/11
KIERSTEN DELACRUZ		2052 DORRANCE AVE GAMES	GIMME LAND!	7/30/11
Carlos JANTA		1210 Linden Ave LBC		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Nancy Meza		5730 Hubbard St	awesome job!	July 30th
Dorey MORALES		1212 W. 38th	Dope!	7/30/11
Ambarayas		13112 Hudson St #209 Whittier
Jeslean Kohli		1511 Kendall Pl. CA		7/30/11
Trine Enzelsz		41622 Pl, CA 92886 Petersburg	I want to help!	7/30/2011
Eddie Flores		5265 Buchanan St CA CA 90042	Down with Growing Food	7/30/2011
Keri Minnick		529 Sadaalwood Pl #5 Escalante, CA 92027		7/30/11
Caleb Minnick		529 Sadaalwood		7/30/11
Amy Bell
Ernesto		2403 Pine Tree Rd Kingsville TX 75609

D

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jocelyn Gomez		9930 Club View Dr		7-30
Yamilet Villafraigo		1031 E 46th St LA		7-30-11
Priscilla Rye		6423 2nd Ave. LA 90013		7/30/11
Chris Villafraigo		1031 EAST 46th St LA 90011	Cool job keep it up	07/30/11
Maria Abrego		443 E 46th St LA CA 90011		7/30/11
Georgina Dorado		4600 E Rosecrans Ave		7-30-11
Cupid Hayes		5655 Sunset		7-30-11
Mike Rubeau		3344 Keystone Ave #		7-30-11
Esmeralda Lopez		1081 Victoria	!!	7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Vanessa Hurtado		11230 Patom Dr., 90230		7/30/11
Cameron Lindquist				7/30/11
Cassey Gumbel				7/30/11
Tatiana Garcia		1429 W. 60th St		7/30/11
Philip Coleman		7322 Bright Ave 90602		7/30/11
Alex Leon		929 W. Concord Ave 90640		7/30/11
Charles Tussell		120 E 23rd St, 85113		7/30/11
Rose Tossell		1205 23rd St 85113		7/30/11
Melissa Estrada		1716 STELLAMAR Road #107 ENCINITAS CA 92024		7/30/11
Victoria Alvarado		914 Newman Dr. Apt Mountain View CA 94045		7/30/11
Vicki Chavez		517 Baseline Rd La Verne		7/30/11
Neel Oshri		904 SARBON Ave, Torrance CA 90501		7/30/11
Dora Jurado		904 SARBON Ave Torrance, CA 90501		7/30/11
Albin Rangel		3076 Abel Drive Hudson Oaks CA 91367
Sean Smith		42717 Ringold Dr Lake Hughes, CA		7/30/11
NEELISHA DOLLA				7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Karina Carbajal		931 E Dayman ST LB CA 90806		7-30-11
Amy Post		8789 Wight Way Kville 94951		7-30-2011
Stephane Silva		1181 Reliance Dr. Riverside CA 92505		7/30/11
Vanira Martinez		104 N. BALLETT COPENA CA 92882		7/30/11
Brendan Hamme		11220 Paton Dr. Culver City, CA 90230		7/30/11
Michelle Gamba
Blanca Perez		909 1/2 W 40th PL LOS ANGELES, CA 90037		7/30/11
Carmela Perez		909 1/2 W 40th PL CA CA 90037		7/30/11
Coby Gonzalez		907 West 40th Pl. LOS ANGELES, CA 90037		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Sonia Gill		11311 HASKELL AVE		7/30/14
Lucy Lee		6009 Andersen Road		7/30/11
Monika Domini		9509 UNDERWOOD		7/30
DAVID DOMINI		9509 UNDERWOOD		7/30
Jose Domini		Dras BARRA CA		7/30
Mario Navarro				7/30
Southern				7/30
ARNOLD POWER				7/30
Wendy Inyger		P.O. Box 1925, Indio, CA		7/30
Monica Mendes		82969 Santa Ana Road Normal 04493		7/30/2011
Esther Williams		PO Box 555 Darien, CA 92222		7/30
Brian Hemels		6510 MOUND RD GOLD		7/30
Cassandra Metta		959 S. 50th ST #4 95107 14CA 90023
Noreyda Escobedo		1129 W. Cambridge Pl Hawthorne, CA
LISA HERNANDEZ		10014 KONTMERS ST LATHAM, CA 91744		7/30/11
Andrea Ortega		12435 Rush St El Monte, CA 91733

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Claudia Cano		8161 Virginia Ave South Gate CA 90280		7/29/2011
TIM MOSSBARGER		12525 WALCROFT ST LAKEWOOD 90715		30 JUL 11
CONNIE MOSSBARGER		12525 WALCROFT ST LAKEWOOD, 90715		30 JUL 11
Lia Andika		464 Lucas Ave LA 90017		30 JULY
Axel Caballero		345 5TH AVE VENICE, CA 90701		30 JUL 2011
ESS HERNANDEZ		1270 GARDEN AVE ST HELENA CA 94574		30 July 2011
Allison Dill		4456 Dogwood 90740		" "
William Flores		507 Archer St Anaheim CA 92801		7/30/11
Caroline O'Connor		1321 Pennsylvania Ave. Los Angeles, CA 90033		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Leage Bequede	Leage Bequede	532 5th Ave, Lubentol		07/30/11
Bartlett Koserer		15385 Avenida Ave. R. Hayward 94608		07/30/11
Kathryn Rodriguez	Kathryn Rodriguez	Box 1286, Tucson AZ 85752		7/30/11
Nicholas Sore	Nicholas Sore	625 N. Vermont Ave 40403
Ardea Potts	Ardea Potts	5257 SW Blvd. LA 90038		7/30/11
Michael Thumm	Michael Thumm	790 Glen Street CA 94553		7/30/11
Mico Smith-Kane	Mico Smith-Kane	2530 Myrtle St Oakland 94607
Daniel Corillo	Daniel Corillo	828 W. Washington Blvd WATMORE LA 90511	LA 90511
Laura Cambren	Laura Cambren	13532 LAFOREST ST		7/30/11
Karina Jimenez	Karina Jimenez	1111 W 41st LA, CA 90057
Gustavo Calderon	Gustavo Calderon	107 W 48th St Coccolina CA
Jonathan Rivera	Jonathan Rivera	52443 Semper way CA
William Warfield	William Warfield	7100 E Golf Links Apt 60	Tucson AZ	7-30-11
Julian Rodriguez	Julian Rodriguez	1614 S Orange Street		7/30/11
Quincy A. Ellis	Quincy A. Ellis	45963 Bucknell Ct CA		30/27/11
Gabriel Perez	Gabriel Perez	4510 Rancho Navarro LN Rancho Mirage CA 92279

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Andrew Chang		4830 Minden Pl, Los Angeles		7/30/11
Christine Hoang		^{Cornell} 63 Irvine Ct	Don't need more development	7/30/11
Mike Martine		10345 Encino Carnegie Hills CA		7/30/11
Rosemary Candela		1352 S Dunsmuir #2 ^{LA}	give them back the farm!	7/30/11
Juan C. Vargas		1140 Wilcox Pl. Los Angeles, CA 90038		7/30/11
JATYANE THOMPSON		611 289 St. SoCal 91816	GIVE PEOPLE THEIR LAND	7/30/11
Hannah Keene		1029 Valley Crest Dr		7/30/11
Grace Gray		200 SEMERALD DR		7/30/11
BARBARA GEGAN		33377 SHOCKEY TR TR CAMPO CA 91906	every acre counts!	7-30-11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Yessica Espang		8543 Calle del Rey		7/30/11
Robert Gomez		" "		7/30/11
Mariamuel Sison
Evan White		1270 Camino del Rey		7/30/11
Alexis Cooperman
Andres Figueroa Torres				7/30/11
John Forsyth		4623 Viro Rd La Canada CA		7/30
Zane White		415 Ranchitos rd Bosque Arroyo NM 87068
CAROLINE BROOKS				7/30
NICOLE SEAL		4516 CAVE LHO VANDERBILT APT 334		7/30
Eva Victoria Daniel		123 N. Kingsley Dr. Unit 4 LA CA 90004		7/30
Mrs McGinnis		414 W. Beaver Creek Blvd Avon, Co, 81620		7/30
MURSELO ROSALES		5616 VINDENIA ST.		7-30
Feruz Beal		10948 Ridge Ave.		7/30
Javier Jones		1814 N Los Rios Ave Pasadena		7/30
Jose Gonzalez		12636 Braden St Alhambra CA 91331		7/30

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
KAROL MURPHY		SPAIN BACH, CA		7/30/11
Denise Torres		9723 Keenan Ave Arleta Ca 91331		7/30/11
Jason Gonzalez		12636 Bracker St Pasadena CA 91331		7/30/11
Chris Torres		9723 Keenan Ave 91331 Arleta CA
Rudyr Quintana		760 Commercial 91711		7/30/11
Jessica Quintana		CORONA, CA		7-30-11
JESOS QUINTANA		1704 Manitoba Cir CORONA, CA 92882		7/30/11
Brittany Escobn		6843 Matilija Ave Van Nuys CA 91405
Bryan Gelband		-		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Andreas Austin	Andreas Austin			7/30/11
Nicholas Kauer	Nicholas Kauer			7/30/11
Patrik Douglas				7/30/11
Victor Mora				7/20/11
Kelany Hernandez				7/30/11
ROPER VINCENOS				7/31/11
JUDY THE ANTONIETTA				7/31/11
SPENCER, RONIS				7/30/11
OSCAR CESOS				7/30/11
Asstef Valencia				7/20/11
Eric Gomez
Arthur Gonzalez
Daniel Santos Hernandez
Hector Suarez				7/30/11
Duke Hayes				7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ryan Sandojas		Rock the 40 th @ 40th and 1st 3492 Green Ave	Real Food Real Route	NOW
Robert D. Salvan		Los Alamitos, 90720		07/30
John Faganin		6497 San Marcos Way Buena Park CA 90620		7/30
Gina Cimbrush		2614 E 29th St S.N Brndg CA 92346 Highland
Kevin Reims		7301 Columbia Drive		7/30
Kristian Garcia		8633 Walker Street Cypress, CA	We all need to eat	7/30
Marco Scatolod		6813 Stafford Ave H.P., CA 90255		7/30
Jennie Carrillo		6813 Stafford ave H.P. CA 90255		7/30
Israel Camyos		3423 1/2 Paloma St. Los Angeles CA 90011		7/30

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Miriam Alvarez-Arre		5056 San Julian Ave		7/30
Ruben Espinoza		3541 Jasmine Ave Los Angeles, CA 90034		7/20
Balthazar Hako		3541 Jasmine Ave Los Angeles, CA 90034
Jennifer Estrocha		4019 Brompton Ave Bell CA 90011		7/30
Raouel Munoz		4247 Eugene St.		7/30
Isaiah Masco		2324 Delwood Ave. Los Angeles, CA 90022		7/30
Frederic Pina		Po Box 17224 Mendocello CA 90063		7/30
Carlos Mejica		244 S Noble Ave		7/30
TERESA MARTINEZ		7914 Harbor Islander		7/30
Martin Vallejo		11831 Skunk Rd Camarillo, CA 90012		7/30
Brennana Pate		12341 Rose St Camarillo, CA 90013		7/30
Stanny Brown		3631 1/2 Mohr, LA 90034		7/30
Jeanette Regan		9172 Beechbee St. Pico Rivera CA 90660		7/30
ERICK ZAVERA		904 S Chester Ave Compton CA 90221		7/30
Daniel Alvarez		904 S Chester Ave Compton CA 90221		7/30
FATIMA MONTERO		1010 Kumpnat Pl. Oxnard CA 93030		7/30/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Ivana Castro		Downey CA 90242		7/29/11
Michael Avila		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
Diana Martinez		Downey CA 90242		7/29/11
Nathan Kong		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
Kristin Cornu		Downey CA 90241		7/29/11
MARIA QUIROZ		WHITTIER, CA 90606 8525 ALBUQUERQUE SU.

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Emilie Yanez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Melissa Agis		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Crystal Herrera		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Paulina Gomez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Isabella Lopez		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Jessica Sandoval		Downey CA 90242		8/2/11
Melissa Bassarelli		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Elsa D. Varquez		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11
Jenny Jovel		Downey CA 90241		8/2/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
MANA YRANA		14783 Cornuta	No Forever 21	8/2/11
Franklin De la Cruz		2057 Hill Rd. Downey 90241	No Forever 21	8/2/11
Denise Salinas		2119 Diackest. Downey CA		8/2/11
ADOLPH VILLASANTA		11445 216th St #12		8/2/11
Ruben Romo		P.O. Box 3792 Huntington Park, CA	No Forever 21	8-2-11
Andy Techyca		8225 ALDRICH ST PICO RIVER CA 90660	Forever 21 - Leave it Alone WE NEED MORE GARDENS & LESS STORES!	8-2-11
SANDRA DEKAY		8337 HOWE ST PARAMOUNT, CA		2 Aug 11
Monique Arnold		530 LOS VADOS DR LATHROP CA 90031		8-2-11
RAMIREZ FERNANDEZ		9554 GLENVIEW DR. ROSELAND CA 90660	No Forever 21 please	8/2/11
MIKE AMEZOS		2111 W. 17th St. Santa Ana, Ca. 92706	No Forever 21	8/2/11
MIGUEL BENDIMIER		17221 Holmes Cir Cerritos, Ca, 90703	No Forever 21	8/2/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jerry Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
D.K		2375 W. Crescent Ave Arcadia Ca 92801		8/2/11
RAJAPAKSE JOSE GIVAREZ		4725 MYRON ST PICO RIVERA CA 90660	PLEASE BRING IT BACK CHICOLS	8-2-11
DAN CABALLERO		3922 CARMEN KINO ST LAKELAND CA 90712	Think "GREEN"	8-2-11
Andrew Coffee		11317 1/2 Mirada Blue #9 Whittier, CA 90604		8-2-11
TONY LAMARCA		11266 MANANA TR MANANA VALLEY CA 92228	WE WANT A BIKE	8-2-11
JOSIE BERNAL		7635 MANZANA QUE PICO RIVERA CA 90660	Think "(Green)"	8-2-11
Quintiliano B. Montes		10136 Fallon Ave. Santa Fe Springs CA 90670		8/2/11
Catalina Zelaya		121517 Old River School Rd.	Neighborhood Resource	8/2/11
DEAN ENDO		14873 CARMENITA RD		8-2-11
Augustine M Diaz		7512 Lindsey Ave Pico Rivera, CA 90666	help the community!	8-2-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Lorena Roman		Galante Ave. 6245 N. Alameda AZUSA, CA 91702		7/30/2011
Anne Hernandez		12728 Torolu St Baldwin Park CA 91706		7/30/2011
Luis Guerra		609 E 9th St San Bernardino CA 92410		7/30/11
Miguel Ascencio		872 W 2nd St Pasadena CA 91766		7/30/11
Sandy Ruelas		83 1/2 W. 77th St. L.A. CA, 90044		7/30/2011
Alex Techarvez		928 Sandpiper West Covina 91791		7/30/11
Christian Villegas		3535 Vineland Ave. Baldwin Park CA		7/30/11
Alfred Navarrete		13614 Roxwood Ave Baldwin Park CA 91706		7/30/11
Ruben Barrera	Ruben Barrera	Boyle Heights		7/30/11

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Pedro Lopez-Soto		681 Victoria St	Good Luck!!!	7/30/11
SMART HUERTA		2530 Hill St - LA 90257		7/30/11
Adan Casillas		1311 Haskell Ave	Power to the People	7/30/11
Wendy Lebron		8215 W 110 St - Inglewood	Q (B) ?	9/30/11
Ingrid Mena		2611D West 113 Street Inglewood	WTF more Food for a people	8/12/11
Alexander		1354 S 10th Place AZ CASA GRANDE		7/30/11
Nick Aguirre		609 Anderson Rd Apt 259 Pasadena, CA		7/30/11
Sepamie Casim		4111 Comcast St San Diego 92102	Support local farmers	9/30/11
FANNIE GURROIA		911 S Fresno St LA 90033		7/30/11
Cecilia P. Day		1032 E Apricot Ave 93210 Fresno		7/30/11
Hsan Day		" "		7/30/11
Maive Prado		325 1/2 StH Redondo Beach 90234		7/30/11
Clark Lukin		" "		7/30/11
Gizelle Monares		5111 W. 115TH ST. L.A. CA 90047	lets do this	7/30/11
Ryan J. CARRANZA		7623 E. 91st St Tulsa, OK 74121	☺	5/2/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
BRENDA PENNIBBARD	Brenda Pennibbard	El zapote Victoria EL Salvador	cocosi.dir@gmail.com	31 July 2011
Linnca Capps	Linnca Capps	155 Underhill Ave Brooklyn NY 11233		31 July 11
Jennifer Kasper	Jennifer Kasper	147 CANTON RD. UNIT #3 BRANFORD MA 02130		31 July 11
Sandra E. Parada	Sandra E. Parada	3611 W. 54TH ST LACA 90043		8/2/11
Celeste A. Gambon	Celeste Gambon	3007 W. 5th St Los Angeles, CA 90020		8/2/11
Maggie Vasquez	Maggie Vasquez	6347 Seville Ave apt A Huntington Park, CA 90255		8-2-11
TONY M. AVILA	Tony M. Avila	1424 12th St #E Santa Monica 90401		8-2-11
LINDA PIERA-ÁVILA	Linda M. Piera Avila	1424 12TH ST. #E SANTA MONICA, CA.		8-2-11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Jessica Darrum		1814 N. Normandie Ave Los Angeles, CA 90027		7/31/11
Jenny Abrams, MD		324 19th Ave Seattle, WA 98122	rhodabrambs@gmail.com	7/31/11
Alexandro Araya		1840 W. First St. 91754		7/31/11
Marina Diaz		7909 Abigail Pl. Los Angeles, CA 90046		7/31/11
Lenna Martyak		1237 24th St #D Santa Monica, CA 90404		7/31/11
Claus Marcussen		1237 24th St #D, Santa Monica 90404		7/31/11
Don Lassus		603 W 13th St, Apts, 90731 San Pedro		7/31/11
Lisa Parsons		701 Dancig Fwy Rd Orland, CA 94552		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
LAURA TURIANO	Laura Turiano	94602 3355 GUIDO ST OAKLAND CA		7/31/11
Rachel Kelley	Rachel Kelley	6152 S Kenton Way Englewood CO 80111		"
Ann Miller	Ann Miller	4310 Finley Ave #1 LA, CA 90027		7/31/11
AJANTHA ATTALURI	Ajanta	24 MURDOCK ST, # 2 BOSTON, MA 02135	GREAT WORK!	7/31/11
Linda Sharp	Linda Sharp	4437 Ambrose Ave #19 Los Angeles, CA	thank you!	7/31/11
Jose Quiroga	Jose Quiroga	19756 Gilmore Blvd Woodland Hills CA 91367		7/31/11
Anjevan Beckelaer	Anjevan Beckelaer	1342 Oxford St Phila PA 19125		7/31/11
IRENE DOLAN	Irene Dolan	1007 S. JUANITA AVE TRERONDO BEACH CA 90277		7/31/2011
JYOTI PUVVULA	Jyoti Puvvula	102 Los Angeles, CA 90066		7/31/2011

JOPUVVULA@hotmail.com

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Caitlin Lassus, MD		663 W. 13TH St Apt 5 San Pedro, CA		7/31/11
Sindalisa Hear		2750 Oregon Ave. Long Beach, CA 90806		7/31/11
Vanita Varma		3281 S Sepulveda Blvd Los Angeles 90034
Monica Le		32 Burnside Ave Somerville MA 02144		7/31/11
Trisha Schimek		1060 Walnut St #105 Philadelphia, PA 19107		7/31/11
Sara Doorley		21st 20660 st st. Saratoga CA 95110		7/31/11
Irma Cruz Nava		Tehuantepec, Oax. Mex. CEPAFOS	cepafof@hotmail.com	7/31/11
Lily Walkover		1808 Bancroft Way Berkeley, CA 94703		"
Denise Zubla		63 MORTINE ST JAMAICA PLAIN, MA 02130		7/31/11

Petition to Restore the 41st and Alameda South Central Farm and Preserve the 2.6 Acres for community open green space.

Petition summary and background	The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room dealt in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. "As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for	We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Printed Name	Signature	Address	Comment	Date
Joe Shortall		10568 Dashwood St Lakewood, CA 90713	Access to healthful food & green space is a human right!	7/31/11
Jonathan Kirsh MD		8 Blue Bottle Ln. Durham NC 27705		7/31/11
Clyde Lantford Smith		3544 Jerome Ave, RPSM BRONX, NY 10467	Greenspace, Lungs for Land & People!	31 July 2011
Cole Miller		4310 Finley Ave 1 Los Angeles, CA 90027	Greenspace + local Produce = Social good	7/31/11
Shirley Novak		2669 E. Genesee St Syracuse NY 13224		7-31-11
Sindalana Hean		1279 7930 Harwood Ave, Apt 207 Wauwatosa, WI 53213		7/31/11
E. JOHN LY		2414 S. Barrington Ave #209 Los Angeles, CA 90064		7/31/11
Ann Chirra		211 California Ave #305 Santa Monica, CA 90405		7/31/11
Grace Kim		383 Grand St M1602 NY, NY 10002		7/31/11

their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. sincerely, room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. sincerely, doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. sincerely, room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. sincerely, their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared.

determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

permits or fees, on any unused piece of land regardless of zoning. Those who plant gardens have the right to sell their produce on site. Previously they approved sports stadiums they couldn't afford, development projects that brought no increased income to the city, and condominiums that sit empty as homeless people sleep on the streets, all resulting in severe budget deficits and cuts to essential services. This is the first time that they've done something constructive for the City of San Diego that doesn't cost the taxpayers a dime and will benefit everyone. Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as an elected representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of California. Sincerely, Mark E. Smith "20110730-032f" "2011-07-30 07:25:09" "71.107.142.237" "stevemarine@gmail.com" "Steve" "Marine" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110730-bad6" "2011-07-30 12:22:05" "206.29.182.168" "gegeyee@gmail.com" "Graciela" "Geeyer" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110730-443a" "2011-07-30 13:33:01" "166.250.76.234" "hozwe@yahoo.com" "Josue"

"Bustos" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110730-236b" "2011-07-30 20:20:51" "66.41.11.29" "katercher5@yahoo.com" "Katherine" "Archer" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110730-886d" "2011-07-30 21:03:16" "67.177.185.203" "quakerite@comcast.net" "margie" "davis" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, margie davis" "20110731-608B" "2011-07-31 17:48:49" "76.169.16.11" "vvarma@ucla.edu" "Varma" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110801-c701" "2011-08-01 18:37:35" "76.173.102.89" "elanamann@gmail.com" "Elana" "Mann" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110801-fb5f" "2011-08-01 20:11:35" "98.176.75.244" "indianadroggers@gmail.com" "Indiana" "Rogers" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110801-a511" "2011-08-01 20:55:12" "76.169.195.62" "Conniedlou@gmail.com" "Connie" "DeSape-Layton" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted.

An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110801-b971" "2011-08-01 21:51:22" "173.54.255.202" "loni.leiva@gmail.com" "Loni" "Leiva" "Dear Elected Representative, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Loni Leiva-Rich" "20110802-6f3b" "2011-08-02 00:31:36" "173.55.1.170" "tezzozmoc@hotmail.com" "Mr" "Tezzozmoc" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already had deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

"20110802-670a" "2011-08-02 11:49:28" "134.69.38.57" "13carrots@gmail.com" "Rosa" "Romero" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110802-6573" "2011-08-02 11:51:06" "98.112.35.90" "kharasnanol@aol.com" "Sarah" "Nolan" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110802-08ff" "2011-08-02 12:16:18" "76.168.152.212" "wemoonwitch@earthlink.net" "Tanya" "Selig" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110802-308f" "2011-08-02 13:24:57" "41.140.9.250" "mouniaoneal@gmail.com" "Hounia" "O'Neal" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"

"20110802-802f" "2011-08-02 15:17:24" "174.127.35.94" "drizwald@gmail.com" "Erik" "Andresen" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los

Anges. Sincerely,"

"20110802-671b" "2011-08-02 15:25:43" "12.175.182.2" "huertadosalud@gmail.com" "Gloria" "Flores Huerta" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Believe me, this is important to communities such as the one where the South central farm is located. Looting this site will hurt in ways you cannot imagine. Our young people, our old people, all of our people need this land for the Farm. Sincerely, Gloria Huerta"

"20110802-4261" "2011-08-02 15:30:22" "24.43.17.210" "rik.gajjin@mac.com" "rik" "bogusz" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and Community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110802-330c" "2011-08-02 17:52:48" "64.134.225.130" "uhmused@yahoo.com" "mike" "chamness" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely," Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-9d62" "2011-08-02 20:23:33" "99.91.139.70" "mialauredoba@aol.com" "Mia" "Harano" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-137d" "2011-08-02 21:28:34" "76.168.168.22" "mandyschutt@yahoo.com" "Aamanda" "Schutti" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110802-a262" "2011-08-02 21:48:30" "69.235.218.154" "purlplili1rocketmail.com" "Liliana" "Reyes" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\n"\"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow.\" -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.\r\n\r\nAdditionally,\r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.\r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.\r\n\r\nSincerely,"

"20110803-571d" "2011-08-03 00:11:53" "75.3.244.101" "jdkalilah@earthlink.net" "JD" "Kalish" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners,\r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

"20110803-76be" "2011-08-03 17:00:32" "207.8.125.210" "bhadsell@hadsellstormer.com" "Barbara" "Hadsell" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110803-1f0d" "2011-08-03 17:34:52" "76.240.183.126" "CO2MADANIYELA2@YAHOO.COM" "DANIELA" "COSMA" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

"20110803-69c8" "2011-08-03 17:38:32" "76.170.45.41" "brooke.jonte@gmail.com" "Brooke" "Jonte" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110803-bed1" "2011-08-03 17:42:22" "67.58.128.253" "sma.walsh@gmail.com" "Sarah" "Walsh" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003.

"20110803-ec90" "2011-08-03 18:00:16" "76.175.235.139" "rbutler@oxy.edu" "Roxanna" "Butler" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

"20110803-6a97" "2011-08-03 18:26:27" "76.208.188.147" "elisabeth.olin@gmail.com" "Elisabeth" "Gustafson" "Dear Elected Representative and Port Harbor Commissioners, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. ...

Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. ...

follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 ...

Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. ...

to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for. We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields, in the back room deal that Jan Perry cut for Juanita Tate, in 2003. Now we stand to lose that again because the city and port of Los Angeles want to take cash from the developer for the land. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for. We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and the port are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Katherine Stewart bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-2dc6" "2011-08-09 17:14:20" "128.125.224.128" "smurfie251@hotmail.com" "Annie" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, follow." LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

20110809-6b27 "2011-08-09 19:31:52" "174.74.15.16" "Colleen@miss-info.net" "Colleen" "Cavanaugh Anthony" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, 'I do have their names, and I can grab them.' She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their 'BRANDS' become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."

months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-8ced" "2011-08-09 20:33:08" "66.92.33.243" "yvonne.sone@gmail.com" "Yvonne" "Sone" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to

2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-4d1c" "2011-08-09 21:19:35" "169.232.137.138" "sop@uclaalumni.net" "Sophia" "Tsai" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-8c7e" "2011-08-09 20:35:31" "66.92.33.243" "yvonne.sone@gmail.com" "Yvonne" "Sone" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"tomlin" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-2ab3" "2011-08-09 21:36:31" "75.62.146.82" "mike.manzoor@solitechnology.com" "michael" "manzoori" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-4da0" "2011-08-09 21:56:28" "76.168.173.107" "mandyschutt@yahoo.com" "amanda" "schutt" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-ac93" "2011-08-09 22:01:10" "76.168.207.17" "daniellaliber@gmail.com" "Daniella" "Liber" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers

all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-7c85" "2011-08-09 22:03:06" "99.103.247.52" "betabethany@gmail.com" "Bethany" "Malngren" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-76b0" "2011-08-09 22:10:53" "207.151.76.48" "eseitez@me.com" "Ellen" "Seiter" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-6d16" "2011-08-09 22:07:27" "75.50.188.124" "airezapastata@hotmail.com" "john" "martinez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110809-b26e" "2011-08-09 22:15:03" "76.90.177.101" "marlene0105@yahoo.com" "Marlene" "Buenrostro" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and

"20110809-b26e" "2011-08-09 22:15:03" "76.90.177.101" "marlene0105@yahoo.com" "Marlene" "Buenrostro" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

"20110809-aea7" "2011-08-09 23:53:26" "76.194.226.204" "leslie@radiojustice.net" "Leslie" "Radford" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-a250" "2011-08-10 00:07:11" "98.154.54.103" "iamtara@msn.com" "Tara" "Nearman" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-207d" "2011-08-10 01:16:30" "62.11.1.83" "akdavis@berkeley.edu" "Andra" "Davis" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-2f5b" "2011-08-10 08:26:36" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same.

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-2f5b" "2011-08-10 08:26:36" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-2f5b" "2011-08-10 08:26:36" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."

"20110810-did8" "2011-08-10 00:22:03" "200.121.205.190" "ramones@hotmail.com" "Jaguar" "rokoto" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-did8" "2011-08-10 00:22:03" "200.121.205.190" "ramones@hotmail.com" "Jaguar" "rokoto" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-did8" "2011-08-10 00:22:03" "200.121.205.190" "ramones@hotmail.com" "Jaguar" "rokoto" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

"20110810-fe8a" "2011-08-10 08:27:42" "108.76.158.61" "aztecrojo@yahoo.com" "Anthony" "Rojo" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary:\r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Jeanette Carlin our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Ed Tellis

South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Robert Garcia

Poetry, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Rosa Garza-Mourino

"perez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, "20110810-4f8a" "2011-08-10 22:38:36" "96.251.16.198" "laropa@verizon.net" "lainy" "bazy" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110811-ab34" "2011-08-11 00:01:30" "98.119.155.86" "vicentejr.juan@gmail.com" "Juan" "Vicente" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nJuan F. Vicente Jr. \r\n\r\nS. Jan Perry's concerns regarding current potentially hazardous emissions could be resolved by the South Central Farmers agricultural efforts. An additional industrial complex might lower the unemployment percentage while compounding Jan Perry's emissions concerns to a state of certainty. The restoration of the South Central Farm would not only lower unemployment it would also be a natural solution to Jan Perry's air quality concerns. Remember the 4-H motto: Hoad, Heart, Hends, and Health." "20110811-c165" "2011-08-11 00:25:43" "71.108.35.165" "vicki_jona@yahoo.com" "Vicki"

"Vigil" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110811-c220" "2011-08-11 07:52:54" "174.124.64.45" "wendyolney@yahoo.com" "Wendy" "Olney-Rattel" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110811-1ecc" "2011-08-11 08:44:33" "76.169.34.43" "arianewhite@yahoo.com" "Ariane" "White" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\nAs far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 \r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20110811-bf38" "2011-08-11 09:06:22" "75.73.91.102" "ljpoluha@gmail.com" "Lauren" "Poluha" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,"
 "20110811-6698" "2011-08-11 14:33:59" "99.91.216.134" "roleeg752@yahoo.com"
 "Robert" "Gomez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for fellow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,"
 "20110811-8h81" "2011-08-11 17:25:52" "71.130.84.40" "pshaw55@bcglocal.net" "Pam"
 "Hall" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,"
 "20110811-5588" "2011-08-11 15:14:45" "71.133.220.130" "rh257@georgetown.edu"
 "Rocio" "Hernandez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,"
 "20110811-695b" "2011-08-11 15:51:41" "64.60.9.46" "andrew_altamirano@yahoo.com"
 "Andrew" "Altamirano" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and

"20110811-4237" "2011-08-11 18:39:51" "99.91.219.168"
 "angela_johnson_meszaros@yahoo.com" "Angela" "Johnson Meszaros" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.

Sincerely,"
 "20110811-65f2" "2011-08-11 18:43:33" "76.87.81.33" "david@souillyorganic.com"
 "David" "Weinstein" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised

you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-9aac" "2011-08-12 12:04:24" "75.30.123.140" "mcbethany@gmail.com" "Bethany" "McKinney" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Bethany McKinney Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-c328" "2011-08-12 12:10:18" "70.162.220.101" "rshman407@yahoo.com" "Ruth" "roman" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-002e" "2011-08-12 12:33:48" "24.43.81.18" "DerickDressel@gmail.com" "derick" "dressel" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-3f48" "2011-08-12 12:40:01" "166.205.140.183" "salinger83@me.com" "Heather" "Ashby" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-3e82" "2011-08-12 12:52:15" "75.82.181.84" "mkuhn@usc.edu" "Mary" "Ruhn" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110812-0fd8" "2011-08-12 12:52:51" "75.84.195.168" "rcim@att.net" "Roger" "Lim" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011... We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.

"20110812-207e" "2011-08-12 13:00:17" "64.183.63.11" "rachel3022@gmail.com" "Rachel" "Torres" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110812-6406" "2011-08-12 13:06:16" "64.60.206.228" "jrhautzinger@gmail.com" "John" "Hautzinger" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

"20110812-62ba" "2011-08-12 13:08:27" "108.66.103.165" "veganzen@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

"20110812-697b" "2011-08-12 13:09:45" "108.66.103.165" "veganzen@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Masongsong" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

"20110812-b385" "2011-08-12 13:37:12" "68.5.83.244" "gus.avila@gmail.com" "gus" "Avila" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."

"20110812-d27e" "2011-08-12 14:06:03" "173.55.106.89" "melaniekayle@gmail.com" "Melanie" "Dosen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry..."

children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.

"20110812-0636" "2011-08-12 14:16:01" "12.173.114.34" "sassyally5@hotmail.com" "LaPorte" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles."

"20110812-0636" "2011-08-12 14:16:01" "12.173.114.34" "sassyally5@hotmail.com" "LaPorte" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003."

"20110812-a836" "2011-08-12 14:44:58" "151.190.0.1" "jan.perry@city.org" "Jan Perry" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles."

"20110812-a836" "2011-08-12 14:44:58" "151.190.0.1" "jan.perry@city.org" "Jan Perry" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003."

"20110812-6156" "2011-08-12 15:06:30" "128.97.222.127" "tracy@college.ucla.edu" "Tracy" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles."

lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011. We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003.

"20110812-7967" "2011-08-12 14:44:58" "67.191.90.74" "tracygoes@hotmail.com" "Tracy" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003."

"20110812-14c5" "2011-08-12 15:06:30" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles."

"20110812-14c5" "2011-08-12 15:06:30" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003."

"20110812-7d5b" "2011-08-12 15:07:56" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles."

"20110812-7d5b" "2011-08-12 15:07:56" "108.66.103.165" "veganzem@gmail.com" "Zoe" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003."

again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm is a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110812-4d77" "2011-09-12 16:54:10" "69.232.38.173" "joey511@rocketmail.com" "JOSE" "ASBNCIO" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Ricky Grubb" "20110812-1007" "2011-08-12 18:37:00" "75.27.189.129" "catcampion@yahoo.com" "Catherine" "Campion" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110812-2e52" "2011-08-12 17:27:36" "71.118.247.254" "nobodyslaw@yahoo.com" "Ricky" "Grubb" "Dear Elected Representative, Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110812-6def" "2011-08-12 21:33:48" "99.194.173.164" "dougivafuc@aol.com"
"Katie" "House" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that those companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"

"20110812-ec7e" "2011-08-12 23:28:28" "99.106.246.116" "Spy86d@yahoo.com" "maria"
"sunden" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"
Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"

South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to

"20110813-eaf6" "2011-08-13 00:51:12" "76.90.201.235" "andrek@compuserve.com" "Andro"
"Kohler" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"

"20110813-6055" "2011-08-13 00:57:52" "75.50.109.32" "caroling38@yahoo.com" "Carol"
"Ng" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith

by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"

"20110813-284f" "2011-08-13 02:31:57" "71.177.60.158" "ursa-l@verizon.net"
"Bernie" "Eisenberg" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.
Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land.
The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them."
She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry."
We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm.
As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow."
LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011
Action petitioned for:
We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003.
Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents.
You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles.
Sincerely,"

"20110813-6005" "2011-08-13 03:10:44" "70.95.48.12" "dcwww@yahoo.com" "Donna"
"Wooden" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry,
The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Craig Keen Professor of Theology Azusa Pacific University

"20110813-f05e" "2011-08-13 11:37:56" "72.207.106.117" "celticwomanmicklow@hotmail.com" "Mary Lou" "Finley" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110813-c4fa" "2011-08-13 11:58:25" "67.185.102.237" "bluefire242@yahoo.com" "Angela" "Coryell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110813-766f" "2011-08-13 12:00:44" "99.107.201.206" "rdsathene@sbglobal.net" "Robert D." "Skeels" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and

follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110813-76b4" "2011-08-13 12:49:35" "159.83.182.130" "edgarzarriola3@yahoo.com" "edgar" "zarriola" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110813-95b8" "2011-08-13 12:58:12" "76.90.144.66" "antiracistaction_la@yahoo.com" "Michael" "Novick" "Dear Herb Wesson, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110813-6d67" "2011-08-13 14:02:19" "159.83.4.153" "savefolder99@hotmail.com" "RAUL" "OROZCO" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, Petition summary: The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110813-8c2f" "2011-08-13 14:14:04" "76.254.17.58" "normaha@pacbell.net" "Norma J F Harrison" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Norma J F Harrison, Berkeley, Ca. Working to let us become able to function for OUR benefit, opposite working for our Owners' benefit - whether we're employed or not."

"20110813-b881" "2011-08-13 15:47:35" "71.165.140.6" "pelbertson@stompweb.com" "Paul" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110813-9e53" "2011-08-13 17:38:01" "76.222.235.89" "xghasri@gmail.com" "Kamran Ghazri" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Mike Gomez"

"20110813-90bd" "2011-08-13 18:41:40" "70.237.103.69" "mg_91203@yahoo.com" "Mike Gomez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Mike Gomez"

"20110813-6c48" "2011-08-13 18:44:28" "190.62.50.140" "Mickey_villa@yahoo.com" "Mickey" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy, The City of Los Angeles has informed the South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetzy are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active,

by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110814-566e" "2011-08-14 08:35:21" "71.55.109.132" "onecasuso@yahoo.com" "Victor" "Caruso" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Victor A. Caruso" "20110814-b7c5" "2011-08-14 16:08:51" "76.171.77.52" "spikel979@earthlink.net" "Chris" "Devich" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110814-857d" "2011-08-14 19:24:34" "98.112.122.11" "jyudell@smc.edu" "j" "yudell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central

Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110815-61f4" "2011-08-15 01:37:41" "71.189.187.70" "eir_angel_224@yahoo.com" "Angelina" "Carrasco" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110815-863a" "2011-08-15 11:31:42" "71.165.14.188" "katerina.m.friesen@gmail.com" "Katerina" "Friesen" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110815-a02" "2011-08-15 12:33:39" "75.82.182.180" "adambowers2001@yahoo.com" "Adam" "Bowers" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110815-f663" "2011-08-15 13:22:56" "64.183.44.130" "yudamaan@yahoo.com" "Yehuda" "Maayan" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110815-fc44" "2011-08-15 14:24:00" "216.73.216.111" "goodwork@igc.org" "Joseph" "Maizlish" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110815-ad60" "2011-08-15 16:11:30" "38.64.72.180" "Shenayee@gmail.com" "Shenaya" "Archer" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110815-4c8b" "2011-08-15 19:47:01" "216.73.206.51" "motownlu@yahoo.com" "Lu P." "Cruz" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunity like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110816-16ad" "2011-08-16 05:55:57" "97.89.240.101" "dancurillo@yahoo.com" "jackie" "curilla" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles.

you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dave Waugh" "20110816-5778" "2011-08-16 22:47:05" "98.112.122.11" "jyudell@smc.edu" "j" "yudell" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003.

deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry.

by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110827-2a10" "2011-08-27 03:36:59" "76.255.239.238" "robmon@rocketmail.com"
 "Robin" "Monteiro" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110828-d436" "2011-08-28 21:06:15" "71.105.92.156" "saraemcdonald@gmail.com"
 "Sara" "McDonald" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely," "20110830-443a" "2011-08-30 17:18:59" "189.184.238.132" "jlei2003@hotmail.com"
 "Jenny" "Eisey" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Jenny Eisey"

 "20110902-f8d2" "2011-09-02 18:17:32" "71.107.51.174" "baharmony@yahoo.com" "bahar" "badi" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, bahara"
 "20110902-4c27" "2011-09-02 21:27:07" "72.197.56.13" "hijodechupacabra@yahoo.com"
 "Travis" "Corona" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,"
 "20110903-cd59" "2011-09-03 14:05:29" "71.189.24.231" "sanaa.ama1@gmail.com" "sanaa" "sma1" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, there's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011

"20110908-8439" "2011-09-08 13:38:44" "74.7.92.170" "Legaspi2@hotmail.com" "Lupe" "Legaspi" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

Los Angeles. ... "20110909-3045" "2011-09-09 11:37:40" "76.90.223.12" "eternalpulse@gmail.com" "Stewart" "Lopez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

"20110909-967e" "2011-09-09 11:42:49" "69.230.177.250" "themezenger@yahoo.com" "Rudy" "Villalobos" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

in 2003. ... "20110909-381e" "2011-09-09 13:20:08" "174.254.69.3" "Alicia.Ayala.90@gmail.com" "Alicia" "Ayala" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

"20110909-3f0d" "2011-09-09 18:24:05" "209.127.216.49" "marcbul84@yahoo.com" "martha" "Bueno" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

"Eduardo" "Zamora" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. ... "20110909-3f0d" "2011-09-09 18:24:05" "209.127.216.49" "marcbul84@yahoo.com" "martha" "Bueno" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

"Eduardo" "Zamora" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, ..."

children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, "20110912-60a6" "2011-09-12 18:49:27" "205.175.122.65" "bellapazza@hotmail.com" "Amity" "Neumeistor" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Dear Elected Representative Neumeistor Seattle WA "20110916-73d0" "2011-09-16 21:11:33" "24.205.20.66" "crystal.t.gonzalez@gmail.com" "Crystal" "Gonzalez" "Dear Elected Representative, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely, Crystal Gonzalez "20110917-8a51" "2011-09-17 12:46:10" "76.168.10.155" "eyeoverlap@msn.com" "Pete"

"Borboa" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110919-efec" "2011-09-19 18:42:12" "75.85.11.172" "aaronbrounstein@mac.com" "aaron" "brounstein" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated

it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110925-fe0e" "2011-09-25 11:32:49" "98.200.216.73" "ejhouse629@gmail.com" "eric" "house" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry. We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and follow. LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,

"20110926-eb3c" "2011-09-26 04:24:52" "71.45.13.49" "dce6@aol.com" "Daanna" "Cummings" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers

new 4 Monday, November 14, 2011 6:58 PM
The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"07def" "2011-10-30 12:08:20" "75.85.15.17" "autumnrooney@mac.com"
"A" "Rooney" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011105-fd50" "2011-11-05 20:52:48" "96.236.210.243" "vbelshotmail.com"
"Valerie" "Belt" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active,

-313-

Monday, November 14, 2011 6:58 PM
South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011109-231d" "2011-11-09 17:35:01" "69.235.90.25" "droogie4hire@aol.com" "andy"
"garcia" "Dear Elected Representative, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011113-b4b4" "2011-11-13 15:29:40" "207.62.73.244" "rigomez760@gmail.com"
"Rebecca" "Gomez" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith

-315-

new 4 Monday, November 14, 2011 6:58 PM
Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011107-lacf" "2011-11-07 08:00:46" "152.130.7.131" "spazienza@gmail.com"
"Shawneen" "Pazienza" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011113-9406" "2011-11-13 21:16:38" "75.51.94.130" "jen.shop@hudson.net"
"Jennifer" "Hudson" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. Not only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. The buyers of the site have been identified by Jen Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011 Action petitioned for: We, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. Additionally, There's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. The South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. You are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. Sincerely,
"2011114-7cc9" "2011-11-14 08:47:10" "12.51.184.5" "celia_graciano@yahoo.com"
"Celia" "Graciano" "Dear Elected Representative and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry, The City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central -316-

Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for:\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely,

"20111114-0c95" "2011-11-14 12:36:12" "66.91.204.215" "asemanie@my.hpu.edu"
 "Stephanie" "Samaniego" "Dear Elected Representative, \r\n\r\nPetition summary: \r\n\r\nThe City of Los Angeles has informed The South Central Farmers and community that they are going back on an eight year deal that was a back-room deal in 2003. \r\n\r\nNot only did the community lose the South Central Farm, supposedly there was a community benefit of 2.6 acres for soccer fields. Now we stand to lose that again because the city wants to take cash from the developer for the land. \r\n\r\nThe buyers of the site have been identified by Jan Perry's staffer as, "I do have their names, and I can grab them." She eventually came back with a list of company names: Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry." We request that these companies withdraw before their "BRANDS" become tarnished with the destruction of the SCF Farm. \r\n\r\n"As far as we know, in the tortured history of this piece of land over the last 25 years, the most productive use of it was the urban farm that lasted 14 years. No one wins with the land lying empty and fallow." -LA Times Editorial: A South-Central garden spot again? May 12, 2011\r\n\r\nAction petitioned for: \r\n\r\nWe, the undersigned, are concerned citizens who urge our leaders, the city and Impact, Active, Miss Me, and Poetry are not acting in good faith by changing an already bad deal from 2003. We demand that South Central Farm be restored and that the developer be compelled to deliver on the open green space that was promised in 2003. \r\n\r\nAdditionally, \r\n\r\nThere's a small window of opportunity, just four months, to restore the South Central Farm to the Farmers and the community that cultivated it for nearly 14 years. I urge you, as my representative, to make every effort to see that the Farm is returned to the community and to Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nThe South Central Farm is vital for South LA, a region that is critically short on healthy food. It needs to be restored as an educational center for families to teach their neighbors and their children how food is grown and prepared. And Los Angeles needs the South Central Farm to prove to the world that we respect our low-income neighborhoods and prize green space for all our residents. \r\n\r\nYou are a decision-maker who will help determine whether Los Angeles has room for the South Central Farm. I need you to support the restoration of the South Central Farm and to urge your colleagues to do the same. The bulldozing of the Farm was a wrong that can be righted. An opportunities like this doesn't come along often, and you have the capacity to help make it right. I'm counting on you, and so is the rest of Los Angeles. \r\n\r\nSincerely, \r\n\r\nStephanie Samaniego"