

To whom it may concern,

The Peruvian Community proposes to designate the first Peruvian geographic area in Los Angeles, to be named "Peru Village".

With this letter, I affirm my support the "Peru Village" official designation at the proposed area at Vine St., between Melrose Ave. & Sunset Blvd. in Hollywood.

As an Angeleno I proudly embrace the cultural inclusion in Los Angeles of every community that forms part of one of this city, which is one of the most multicultural cities in the world.

"Hollywood is a unique place that live up to their stereotypes, right down to the sign. But it can offer a whole lot more. Said "NY Times" and I believe that "Peru Village" will add an important cultural ingredient that will attract more visitors to this area.

I believe that "Peru Village" with the golden ancient history of its country of origin and its strong nowadays economy, will be a magnet for tourism, and can contribute towards the revitalization of the "Peru Village" proposed area, as well as the US economy.

Obtaining the "Peru Village" name will be an important step for this thriving community, a well deserved recognition to a hispanic culture in LA, an opportunity to promote Cross-Culturalism in this ever-growing Kaleidoscope in Los Angeles, an opportunity to bring the power that a community of businesses can offer, generating new jobs, new investments, the Peruvian American buying power focused in our Hollywood neighborhood, and endless possibilities to the proposed area.

"The Chinese Theater" the most visited landmark in Hollywood nowadays, is a must go place to every tourist that comes to Hollywood. The Chinese Theater does not change the concept of Hollywood itself but adds more to the Hollywood experience by taking the tourist to a tour in time and space. Peru Village also will add more magic to the Hollywood experience, and by doing so will help increase the number of people coming to visit us.

For these reasons, I fully support the "Peru Village" initiative, and hope that my Hollywood neighborhood in my city of Los Angeles, will welcome the cultural inclusion of the thriving and hard-working Peruvian Community.

I am LEE SANCHEZ

As part of a growing number of Peruvian- Americans living and working in Los Angeles we are excited to be culturally included in this great city. Hollywood is an Important City to Los Angeles and to the world. Peruvians have a historic tie to Hollywood with large waves of immigrants coming to Vine Street and being part of the Hollywood mural. We are a unique community with a culturally diversity that mirrors that of Los Angeles.

Hollywood is going through many changes and many are positive. The changes are happening visually, culturally and economically and Peruvians living in the area have had a front row seat to these changes. We want to help preserve the magic, the glamour and historical significance that Hollywood has always had.

We are part of the solution. People who live in Los Angeles know what Hollywood really looks like on a day-to-day basis. We have tourists who have a vision of what Hollywood is and we want to make sure that anyone who comes to Hollywood gets the Hollywood experience. We are here to help enhance the look of this iconic city, preserve its historical remnants and move it forward to compete in the 21st Century Globalized and interconnected world which we are living in today.

I fully support the "Peru Village" initiative, and hope that my Hollywood neighborhood in my city of Los Angeles will welcome the cultural inclusion of the thriving and hard-working Peruvian Community.

I am Peru Village LA and I hope you are too! Big change starts with a vision and the community. It takes a village, Peru Village.

To whom it may concern,

The Peruvian Community proposes to designate the first Peruvian geographic area in Los Angeles, to be named "Peru Village".

With this letter, I affirm my support the "Peru Village" official designation at the proposed area at Vine St., between Melrose Ave. & Sunset Blvd. in Hollywood.

As an Angelino I proudly embrace the cultural inclusion in Los Angeles of every community that forms part of one of this city, which is one of the most multicultural cities in the world.

"Hollywood is a unique place that live up to their stereotypes, right down to the sign. But it can offer a whole lot more Said "NY Times" and I believe that "Peru Village" will add an important cultural ingredient that will attract more visitors to this area.

I believe that "Peru Village" with the golden ancient history of its country of origin and its strong nowadays economy, will be a magnet for tourism, and can contribute towards the revitalization of the "Peru Village" proposed area, as well as the US economy.

Obtaining the "Peru Village" name will be an important step for this thriving community, a well deserved recognition to a hispanic culture in LA, an opportunity to promote Cross-Culturalism in this ever-growing Kaleidoscope in Los Angeles, an opportunity to bring the power that a community of businesses can offer, generating new jobs, new investments, the Peruvian American buying power focused in our Hollywood neighborhood, and endless possibilities to the proposed area.

"The Chinese Theater" the most visited landmark in Hollywood nowadays, is a must go place to every tourist that comes to Hollywood. The Chinese Theater does not change the concept of Hollywood itself but adds more to the Hollywood experience by taking the tourist to a tour in time and space. Peru Village also will add more magic to the Hollywood experience, and by doing so will help increase the number of people coming to visit us.

For these reasons, I fully support the "Peru Village" Initiative, and hope that my Hollywood neighborhood in my city of Los Angeles, will welcome the cultural inclusion of the thriving and hard-working Peruvian Community.

Sincerely,

I am Oscar E. León

As part of a growing number of Peruvian- Americans living and working in Los Angeles we are excited to be culturally included in this great city. Hollywood is an important City to Los Angeles and to the world. Peruvians have a historic tie to Hollywood with large waves of immigrants coming to Vine Street and being part of the Hollywood mural. We are a unique community with a culturally diversity that mirrors that of Los Angeles.

Hollywood is going through many changes and many are positive. The changes are happening visually, culturally and economically and Peruvians living in the area have had a front row seat to these changes. We want to help preserve the magic, the glamour and historical significance that Hollywood has always had.

We are part of the solution. People who live in Los Angeles know what Hollywood really looks like on a day-to-day basis. We have tourists who have a vision of what Hollywood is and we want to make sure that anyone who comes to Hollywood gets the Hollywood experience. We are here to help enhance the look of this iconic city, preserve its historical remnants and move it forward to compete in the 21st Century Globalized and interconnected world which we are living in today.

I fully support the "Peru Village" initiative, and hope that my Hollywood neighborhood in my city of Los Angeles will welcome the cultural inclusion of the thriving and hard-working Peruvian Community.

I am Peru Village LA and I hope you are too! Big change starts with a vision and the community. It takes a village, Peru Village.
