Hi Etta & Sharon,

Thank you.

I have been a resident of Los Feliz for nine years now, and a near-daily visitor to the City of Hollywood and the Franklin corridor for both business and pleasure.

I would like to voice my strongest opposition to the current plans for the Millennium project. The size of the development and buildings is grossly out of scale with the surrounding area and the transportation capacity for that corridor, and would be a man-made nightmare that would start with the first day of construction and last for decades.

I am not in opposition to development, but the Millennium project must be scaled down to a plan that will not make life untenable for not only current but future residents and workers in the area.

I'm not convinced -along with most others in the public- that the true impact of the current project has been honestly assessed or addressed, and I beg the City of Los Angeles to put a halt to this madness so the project can be scaled down and properly planned to the betterment of the residents, community and City.

Thanks,
John Carlisle
