RAMPART VILLAGE NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL

Jan 28, 2013

To: Hon. Herb J. Wesson, Jr.

City Hall Office, 200 N. Spring Street, Room 430

Los Angeles, CA 90012

From: Rampart Village Neighborhood Council (RVNC)
155 N. Occidental Blvd, Suite 236
Los Angeles, CA 90026

Re: RVNC supports overturning Citizens United and eliminating corporate personhood

Dear Council President Wesson,

Be advised that the above mentioned Neighborhood Council on Tuesday, Nov.15, 2011 in a (8-0-0) unanimously passed motion where we all agreed that:

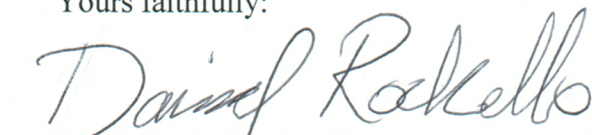

The Rampart Village Neighborhoods Council members believe that the Supreme Court is misguided in principle, and wrong on the law. In a democracy, the authority of the government is derived from its citizens and as such, the citizens rule.

Furthermore, the Rampart Village Neighborhoods Council requests that the City of Los Angeles join with other municipalities across the nation in passing the overturning of Citizens United and eliminating corporate personhood.

Therefore, we now ask that you:

Please support the motion from Council Member Alarcon to place on the May 2013 ballot the question of overturning Citizens United and eliminating corporate personhood.

Yours faithfully:

David Rockello, President
Rampart Village Neighborhood Council

Dear Council President Wesson and Council Members,

California and the rest of the country could be very influenced by how the City Council and the L. A. voters feel about corporate money's huge involvement in our present electorate system.

Please support the motion placing on the May 2013 ballot the Citizens United big question as proposed by Councilman Alarcon.

Thanks very much for listening and for your attention to this important matter.

7 September 2011

Dear Councilmember Koretz:

The South Robertson Neighborhoods Council requests that the City of Los Angeles join with other municipalities across the nation in passing a non-binding resolution which calls for amending the U.S. Constitution to firmly establish that money is not speech and that human beings, not corporations, are entitled to constitutional rights.

On January 21, 2010, with its ruling in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, the Supreme Court ruled that corporations are persons, entitled by the U.S. Constitution to unduly influence elections.

The South Robertson Neighborhoods Council members believe that the Supreme Court is misguided in principle, and wrong on the law. In a democracy, the authority of the government is derived from its citizens and as such, the citizens rule. If we wish to limit corporate campaign contributions, it is our right to do so.

We agree with Justice John Paul Stevens who stated in his dissenting opinion that the Court's opinion is "a rejection of the common sense of the American people, who have recognized a need to prevent corporations from undermining self government since the founding, and who have fought against the distinctive corrupting potential of corporate electioneering since the days of Theodore Roosevelt. . . While American democracy is imperfect, few outside the majority of this Court would have thought its flaws included a dearth of corporate money in politics."

Dear Council President Wesson,

Americans have just lived through the most expensive election in the history of the world. Six billion dollars were spent for the presidential election alone, and millions more were spent for senate, congressional, and judicial races. Where is all that money coming from? From the privileged few. In fact, less than 1% of Americans are responsible for 80% of election funding, and while money might not buy love, it sure does buy influence. New York Times columnist Thomas Friedman explains:

“Money in politics has become so pervasive that lawmakers have to spend most of their time raising it, selling their souls to those who have it or defending themselves from the smallest interest groups with deep pockets that can trump the national interest.”

This has got to end! We have big problems to solve: climate change, debt reduction, tax reform, financial regulation, and education, health care, and energy reform. This is why it is so important to place this motion on the ballot in Los Angeles. This action is part of re-empowering Americans to take back control of our government through amending the Constitution and restoring our right to regulate the money that is spent in elections. Please vote in favor of the motion and urge all your colleagues to do the same.
