Re: Amended Opposition of 13-1493 & 13-1493-S1

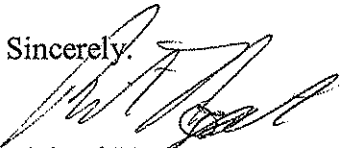

Dear Honorable Members:

Again, I renew and amend my strong opposition of 13-1493 & 13-1493-S1 as written. The current definitions of who and what is a business and vendor and where and when may a person express themselves is vague, ambiguous, and overboard, and compounds within its own terms and conditions. The ordinance requirement of the time, place, and one's management does not meet reasonable statutory construction standards. This ordinance will not sustain judicial scrutiny and public policy.

As I stated before, it appears this [proposed] ordinance must conform under Hopp v. City of Los Angeles as related to business and also People v. Dolezal, 2013 WL 5915773; No. B245316, Nov. 5, 2013 Cal. Ct. App. (2nd Dist.) concerning commercial speech.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

Sincerely,

Richard Hopp
