

Richard Williams <richard.williams@lacity.org>

Volatile Solvent Ban in Regulations

Wesley Hein <wesley779@mac.com>

Wed, Jun 14, 2017 at 12:09 PM

To: richard.williams@lacity.org

Richard,

Over 50% of the California cannabis industry will be made up of concentrates or products that include concentrated oil (e.g., edibles). For Los Angeles to outright ban volatile solvents is very short-sighted — especially something as safe as ethanol. I strongly suggest you revisit this decision otherwise it will just encourage:

- a) companies to locate in neighboring cities.
- b) black market operators.

Thank you for your consideration of this.

Respectfully,

Wesley Hein
wesley779@mac.com
<http://about.me/wesleyh>