Comments for Public Posting: The home sharing ordinance seems to be very fair in balancing the rights of opposing parties. It was a lot of work by the City and its diligent employees and council members to construct and implement it. We thank you for your dedication and hard work. A lot of people are complaining about the ordinance because they want to continue to run their airbnb hotel, although it was illegal under previous ordinance. Most of these people bought their houses that they rent before the platforms were operating and did not rely on short term rental to finance their purchases. All of them can still legally rent month to month or year to year and not ruin our communities or our neighborhoods or our schools as unbridled short term rental certainly has proven to do everywhere it is permitted. Rent it month to month or year to year and help keep affordable housing in Los Angeles. Otherwise, if you keep complaining, the next thing we should pass is a complete ban on short term rental so that we can create affordable housing and keep working people living in Los Angeles.

Comments for Public Posting: I completely support this motion! By expediting this case it helps to keep myself and many other freelancers, a job. As we all know living in Los Angeles can be challenging, especially with the economy changing on a daily basis with our country. This company helps not only homeowners but also laborers to keep the capital flow in this state! Thank you
