Dear Councilmembers:

First off, I would like to thank the council for their sound decision to take the ordinance back to the drawing board. We look forward to further engagement with the city on reasonable regulations that can best serve the City of Los Angeles. I wanted to forward some of our blog posts for your consideration as you continue the process:

Insurance a good requirement

San Diego struggles on STR ordinance

West Hollywood considering homesharing

Sacramento & Airbnb work together

Please let us know any data or other information we can provide you to help craft an ordinance that can be a precedent for other cities across CA and beyond.
