Dear Ms. Dickinson,

my husband and I have lived directly behind the Van Luit complex for 36 years. We support the preservation of the complex as a historical building in our community.

As an example of conservation alone it should be treasured, add to that the architecture by renowned architects who have already been recognized by their peers for their work ; and you have what Mr. Van Luit called the "jewel of the neighborhood". This is the neighborhood he chose to live in adjacent to his complex and run his nationally renowned wallpaper design business ..

Mr. Van Luit was a man who appreciated the arts and architecture, not only that, he was a man ahead of his time in realizing the importance of conservation.

These days we are daily made so aware of the importance of conservation from the White House, the Government and the media, and here is a prime example of it ,right in our neighborhood..

Historically this is an example of excellence in architecture, design,and conservation, and we would like to see it recognized as such.

Thank you for your consideration,
Joan and James Tenner

Dear Chairman Huizar and Councilmembers,

The Board of Directors of Hollywood Heritage supports the retention of and designation of the Van Luit Complex on the basis that this is an exceptional mid-century modern structure which housed a unique and artistic business which contributed to the identity of Los Angeles as an international style center. It's association with the film industry is significant as is the individual professional achievements of Albert Van Luit in the interior decoration field. Mr. Van Luit's commitment to the welfare of the LGBT community of the time in offering employment to many who could not have secured employment elsewhere. Much care and professional skill was put into the design, placement and operation of this facility in relationship to the neighborhood, care which the neighborhood itself recognizes as a desire to integrate itself into the area without disturbing its quality. We are proud to join with other cultural and residential organizations in seeking to keep this landmark intact as part of the larger Los Angeles story.

Hollywood Heritage, Inc.
