I vigorously and heartily support the proposed ban on Fur sales in Los Angeles. Torturing, trapping and skinning a living creature for the benefit of people who think fur makes them glamorous is just plain wrong. While there might still be fur sold in Beverly Hills or online, we still need to send a message that we are condemning the practice of exploiting and abusing animals for human vanity.

I am a single mother of a 9 year old son who I'm raising to respect the dignity of animals and indeed all life. We live in Park LaBrea and he attends Third Street School in the fourth grade.

Sincerely,
Barbara Gallen
