

Communication from Public

Name: Carolina Goodman, League of Women Voters of Los Angeles
Date Submitted: 05/16/2019 08:08 AM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Re: Ethics Commission budget During the recession, the Ethics Commission's staff was drastically reduced, yet the workload continued to increase. We've entered the current fundraising period without having completed the audit of the previous election. UNACCEPTABLE! Adding one staff position is not enough. With trust in City Hall at an all time low, the City must ensure that the Ethics Commission has the resources it needs to oversee government ethics and campaign finance, to enforce the City's lobbying ordinance, to maintain the public database and to provide education to those inside and outside of the government.
Re: LA Justice Fund It was the right thing to do to contribute $2 million over the last two years to the fund that provides counsel to immigrants facing deportation procedures. With ICE's targeting Los Angeles, the need is even greater. It is shocking that the City's budget did not include money for the LA Justice Fund Re: DROP The City's own studies have shown that this program has not been fiscally neutral. It is a shameful use of public funds. Most DROP participants go on medical leave for many months soon after starting the program, negating the purpose of the program which was to retain veteran officers. Note that retaining firefighters has never been an issue and should not have been included in the DROP program in the first place. Other cities who tried DROP have eliminated it; it's past time that Los Angeles did the same. Thank you for doing the hard job of prioritizing how to use taxpayer money.

Communication from Public

Name: Carolina Goodman, League of Women Voters of Los Angeles
Date Submitted: 05/16/2019 08:44 AM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Re: Ethics Commission budget During the recession, the Ethics Commission's staff was drastically reduced, yet the workload continued to increase. We've entered the current fundraising period without having completed the audit of the previous election. UNACCEPTABLE! Adding one staff position is not enough. With trust in City Hall at an all time low, the City must ensure that the Ethics Commission has the resources it needs to oversee government ethics and campaign finance, to enforce the City's lobbying ordinance, to maintain the public database and to provide education to those inside and outside of the government.
Re: LA Justice Fund It was the right thing to do to contribute $2 million over the last two years to the fund that provides counsel to immigrants facing deportation procedures. With ICE's targeting Los Angeles, the need is even greater. It is shocking that the City's budget did not include money for the LA Justice Fund Re: DROP The City's own studies have shown that this program has not been fiscally neutral. It is a shameful use of public funds. Most DROP participants go on medical leave for many months soon after starting the program, negating the purpose of the program which was to retain veteran officers. Note that retaining firefighters has never been an issue and should not have been included in the DROP program in the first place. Other cities who tried DROP have eliminated it; it's past time that Los Angeles did the same. Thank you for doing the hard job of prioritizing how to use taxpayer money.

Communication from Public

Name: Liz Amsden
Date Submitted: 05/15/2019 12:12 PM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: The new budget should include funding LA San's (as well as any other department requests) for needed supervisory personnel: efficient operation is a function of effective supervision.

Communication from Public

Name: Budget
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 06:51 AM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a Board member of Save Coldwater Canyon and a 26 year resident of the wild Studio City hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a priority for our city. The wildlife are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable, stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home, and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, Suellen Wagner 12184 Laurel Terrace Dr. Studio City CA 91604

Communication from Public

Name: Lucie Ayres
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 10:07 AM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Studio City hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, Lucie Ayres 3684 Buena Park Drive Studio City CA 91604

Communication from Public

Name: Masami Fukuhara
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 10:40 AM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Studio City hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. I'm attaching the photo of three Great Horned Owl babies nesting my back yard now. They are under heavy air traffic from the Burbank Airport. We value these owls taking care of rodents to control hillside erosion without poison. We'd like to keep natural eco system and balance in the community. Thank you very much for your help for our future. Sincerely,

Communication from Public

Name: Michelle
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 12:22 PM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, I live in the hills of Studio City and was drawn to our home dues to the quiet and wildlife that roams in our yard. I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. PLEASE PROTECT and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, Michelle Allen 3620 Goodland Drive Studio City, CA 91604

Communication from Public

Name: John VanTongeren
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 05:21 PM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Studio City hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, John Van Tongeren 12248 Viewcrest Rd Studio City, Ca. 91604 Your Name Address

Communication from Public

Name: Michele
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 06:34 PM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Sherman Oaks Hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. I have documented flights on Airnoise as low as 960 feet which means planes are just above the mountains barely and the noise is absolutely horrendous. Combustion of fuel at levels below 10,000 feet contribute heavily to death rates. According to National Geographic from 2010 study, "We found that unregulated emissions from [planes flying] above 3,000 feet [914 meters] were responsible for most of the deaths," So-called particulate matter that's especially small is the main culprit in human health effects, especially since the particulates can become wedged deep in the lung and possibly enter the bloodstream, scientists say. Please make this a top priority. Our health and the well being of our nature preserve is imminent. Sincerely, Michele Sherman Oaks Resident

Communication from Public

Name: Steven Baio
Date Submitted: 05/14/2019 10:00 PM
Council File No: 19-0600
Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Studio City hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, Steven Baio 11680 Valleycrest Road Studio City, CA 91604

Communication from Public

Name:

Date Submitted: 05/15/2019 10:29 AM

Council File No: 19-0600

Comments for Public Posting: Dear Councilmember Krekorian and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee, As a resident of the wild Sherman Oaks hills, home for many creatures, I urge you to fund wildlife corridors before it is too late! As you know, a large percentage of our natural wildlife habitat was lost in last year's fires, along with a great number of wild animals. In order for wildlife to survive in Los Angeles, habitat connectivity must be a top priority for our city. These animals are irreplaceable. We need to fund the wildlife corridor ordinance and hire a biodiversity expert now. The United Nations warned this week that 1 million species will become extinct if we, the most reckless of all species, refuse to act. This is an unfathomable and stunning proposition. YOU can do something now. Begin at home and provide the means for these wild animals to survive. Protect wildlife diversity by supplying the necessary funding for wildlife corridors and experts who can help to ensure survival for these precious, native Angelenos. It is a miracle to have wildlife and wilderness in the middle of the City of Los Angeles. We must not lose it forever. The actions of the FAA and Airports is extremely detrimental to wildlife preservation and climate change deliberately. I see it as BIG government purposely "infecting" the environment with way too much power over the people and the environment. Intrusive with no consequence for federal government actions that are not challenged. FAA and local airports need to answer and stop denying that changes have been made over flight paths. We have lived here 21 years and can attest to lying Airport/FAA comments of denial. Please make this a top priority. Sincerely, Michele Sherman Oaks, CA