Comments for Public Posting: We both our house 5 years ago next to a LA Park. Since then we've had numerous homeless leaving on the park to the point were me and my kids don't feel safe to go out of our house at night not even to our own yard as we had homeless throwing stuff to our yard...I've call the police numerous times but they can really do much. Last week found out that the guys that are living there were doing pit fire, they didn't seem to mind that it was one of the windiest day and could cause a fire in our property. I've call the police and had the firefighter come and talk to them but they left and did it again. Yes, the homeless need a place to leave but not next to my house using my fence as their own property and putting me and my family in danger.
