Comments for Public Posting: This project is yet another example of prioritizing a developer's interests before those of the community and protection of Los Angeles. With little or no public notice, erecting a building that does not conform to the look of the rest of the neighborhood opens the door to the erosion of a historical aesthetic that once lost, will be gone forever. And for what? To save on building costs and maximize the profits of a developer? Our city MUST put the needs and desires of its constituents and the preservation of our historical city FIRST.

Comments for Public Posting: It's time to do more to preserve the history of Los Angeles. Stop the development of historic streets like Normandie. Keep Koreatown and surrounding neighborhoods history in tact. Please stop the project at 738 S Normandie now!
