Dear Mr. Wesson,

As a resident of Koreatown and an city employee of the recs and park department, I strongly believe that the last thing we need in our city is more guns. I work as a Park Activity Monitor and can see no benefit in arming our Park Rangers. Quite the opposite- more guns means more violence. Put whatever money that would go into buying and maintaining these hypothetical weapons towards programs that will actually make our parks safer- help for the homeless and other social programs.

Thank You,

Seth Lewandowski
