TRANSPORTATION

On September 29, 2014, Mayor Garcetti and the Department of Transportation released a strategic plan with a goal to make streets safer and more accessible by 2025. The report, entitled "Great Streets for Los Angeles," provides concrete steps to guide the Department in delivering safe, comfortable streets that ease travel for all modes and give residents a wide array of transportation choices. One of the main features of the report is a call to action for Los Angeles to join numerous cities across the nation and the federal government to achieve zero traffic fatalities. In order to meet the ambitious goals outlined in the plan, the City will need to establish new priorities, streamline project delivery and invest in the latest technology.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Council instruct the Department of Transportation to present an overview of the "Great Streets for Los Angeles" strategic plan report.
