ORDINANCE NO. 186191

An ordinance adding Article 5.6.1 to Chapter IV of the Los Angeles Municipal Code to protect affordable housing opportunities for persons using rental assistance and other sources of income, such as Section 8 vouchers, as payment for rent.

WHEREAS, the City of Los Angeles is committed to protecting desperately needed affordable housing for all segments of the community, in particular for its most vulnerable residents including those using rental assistance or other sources of income as payment for rent;

WHEREAS, recent reports reveal a shortage of landlords participating in the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles’s Section 8 rental subsidy program, which may reflect discrimination against Section 8 voucher holders and those persons receiving other forms of rental assistance;

WHEREAS, such discrimination may significantly limit the pool of housing available to persons receiving such assistance;

WHEREAS, both state and federal law require the City to identify impediments to providing affordable and accessible housing and to develop strategies for removing such impediments; and

WHEREAS, to fulfill its commitment to providing affordable housing opportunities and obligations as required by law, it is necessary to protect affordable housing opportunities for persons using rental assistance or other sources of payment for rent.

NOW, THEREFORE,

THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES
DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Article 5.6.1 is added to Chapter IV of the Los Angeles Municipal Code to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5.6.1

PROTECTING AFFORDABLE HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR PERSONS USING RENTAL ASSISTANCE OR OTHER SOURCES OF INCOME AS PAYMENT

SEC. 45.65. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

The City Council finds and declares:

Housing is a fundamental necessity of life. Housing plays a major role in defining quality of life, security, connection to community, and access to opportunity. In recognition of this, Objective 3.1 of the City's Housing Element of its General Plan requires the City to ensure that housing opportunities are accessible to all residents without discrimination on the basis of race, ancestry, sex, national origin, color, religion, sexual orientation, marital status, familial status, age, disability (including HIV/AIDS), and student status.

The Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles reports a shortage of landlords participating in its Section 8 rental subsidy program. At present, only 53% of Section 8 voucher holders are successful in finding a unit due to what is believed to be a combination of factors including discrimination against Section 8 voucher holders, low vacancy rates, and the high cost of housing. These findings are consistent with a study conducted on behalf of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, which found that 76.4% of landlords in the City contacted by phone in response to advertisements for rental units responded that they did not accept Section 8 vouchers. The average denial rate was 81.5% in low-poverty areas, 80.7% in medium poverty areas, and 66% in high poverty areas. Such rates were lower in jurisdictions with local laws against voucher discrimination as compared to those without such protections. These findings suggest that local laws that prohibit discrimination based upon source of income increase landlords' participation in Section 8 rental subsidy programs.

To further Objective 3.1 of the City's General Plan and to address the local housing crisis created by some landlords' lack of participation in the Section 8 rental subsidy program, this article prohibits discrimination based upon a person's use of rental assistance or other sources of income as payment for rent.
