Comments for Public Posting: Rodeos are cruel, heartbreaking activities. They are relics of a mentality from the ignorant past. It's time we humans wake up, evolve and begin creating a more compassionate, intelligent world. Our lawmakers can do so much to put us on a kinder, gentler path. Please, I urge you, to support a ban on rodeos in Los Angeles and all the painful paraphernalia and violent attacks that tortures and terrifies innocent animals, some of whom are still babies, such as the calves. They are violently roped, often causing permanent injuries and death. Most people would be horrified and angry to see some of the antics perpetrated at rodeos. Let us march forward into a sane, civilized community.

Comments for Public Posting: The health and safety of the animals in rodeo and bull riding is paramount. Rodeo people make their living by breeding, training and working with the animal athletes, who get the best care. They truly love these animal athletes and have many safeguards in place to ensure their care.

Comments for Public Posting: Please thoroughly educate yourselves about a sporting event and culture before you begin canceling every aspect of the past. California sets many extreme precedents like trying to ban rodeo equipment and events that are counterproductive to genuine animal welfare struggles. If you truly care about animal lives, maybe you should focus on banning the construction of new homes and neighborhoods to keep from destroying forest habitat for millions of species every year in your state.

Comments for Public Posting: Please honor the important skills that are used daily in protecting our livestock across this country, the livestock so dearly loved and cared for during their useful lives until it is time they are brought to your dinner table. Cowboys are a rare and necessary kind of workforce that get to exhibit their skill in competition through rodeo. Rodeo helps the public better understand the western lifestyle, a necessary lifestyle to feed our country. It may not be for the weak hearted, or the sensitive, but lets thank those strong enough to get the job done, almost always putting the animals first. It would extremely unfortunate to outlaw rodeo or any rodeo events, further separating our city dwellers from those who feed us.

Comments for Public Posting: I heard from a FB post that you are considering banning rodeos. This is wonderful! Thank you so much for taking charge on this situation... rodeo sports are incredibly abusive to animals and have no place in our society. I commend you for taking the side of morality and taking a stand against abuse. Thank you!

Comments for Public Posting: Do not ban rodeo. You will not find a group of people more committed to animal welfare than the participants of this sport, the volunteers at the events, and the stock contractors themselves.
