Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo is an important part of California's history. I did not grow up with rodeo, but married a cowboy. We have horses and steers at our home and they are well loved and we take care of them just like our dogs. Please see the entire picture, do your homework before you judge someone's way of life.

Comments for Public Posting: This is so disheartening. Rodeo, especially for kids, teaches work ethic, responsibility, compassion, and so much more. It gives people a community where they can bound over their love and admiration for these animals. To celebrate each other and the ranch lifestyle.

Comments for Public Posting: Just now learning about the efforts to ban rodeo and other animal/human sporting interactions. In my opinion, this is a misguided and irresponsible decision that would have a greater negative outcome than what the author could perceive. Please take the effort to educate yourself and all stakeholders about the benefits that rodeo provides. Both economic and intrinsic value would be lost if LA moves forward to ban these events. Please don't allow feelings and misinformation to dictate bad policies that will have negative implications for years to come.

Comments for Public Posting: The rodeo has been a part of my life since I was little. I've never been in it but I always went with my Grumps. Those memories as a child are some of the best. Watching the talent out in that arena while wrapped in my Grumps arms are the best. He's in heaven now but he lives on through those memories. Please don't take away the opportunity for more memories like that to be made.
