Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo is the western way of life. Its been around for decades. The animals are not abused and are well cared for as they are the rodeo company's livelihood. You don't see cowboys kneeling when our National Anthem is played and the colors presented and you never will. They love America and respect our flag and they teach their children to do the same.

Comments for Public Posting: I support Black Cowboys and Cowgirls, the BPIR, and the tools of their profession. This is just another attempt at cancel culture! What you should be focusing on is reforming law enforcement and the treatment Black and Brown people get at the hands of the police, who by the way, treat these same people like the animals you claim to be concerned about in rodeos!

Comments for Public Posting: Please do not ban a uniquely American sport. People that don't like this sport don't have to attend. This is a slippery slope that can start impacting other equestrian sports, and trickle down to the individual horse owner. Homelessness is a much more pressing and HUMAN crisis. Please address that instead of banning entertainment that some don't like.
