Comments for Public Posting: On record, I oppose the proposed ban on rodeo. Rodeo and all equine activities are part of the American, western and California's history. These are family type events that create young men and women who have respect for animals, learn what responsibility is and what hard work is. These activities are what keep the youth active, out of the streets, off of drugs and give them purpose and not glued to a television or video games. Please do the right thing. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: I love and value American Rodeo. These are events where athletic livestock, cowboys and cowgirls come together to compete in sporting events. It's challenging, it supports the western lifestyle and traditions and these are important to a large group of us still. Rodeo showcases the hard work and talent that it takes to be a competitive cowboy or cowgirl and livestock too. I'm not a fan of football, basketball, baseball or soccer and I don't support those events, but I don't stop them either. We value our choices and decisions and we respect yours too.

Comments for Public Posting: I've lived in the Valley Village neighborhood of the San Fernando Valley for over 30 years. I've been involved with horses for over 25 years, I own 2 right now. I been a trail rider, team Penner and team roper and a supporter and fan of Rodeo for just as long. I've developed some wonderful relationships over the years with professional Rodeo cowboys, their families and the various companies and corporations that facilitate the western way of life and the fans that I have met along the way that are to numerous to mention. I've also produced one of the biggest team roping events in Southern California for the last 10 years with the proceeds going to various charities. I like many lovers of this life style don't want to see it disappear because of agendas, scare tactics and misconception. Let's keep this western heritage of Southern California and truly AMERICAN tradition alive for our children and those coming after us. "LONG LIVE COWBOYS"! Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: I fully support the concept behind the proposed ban on rodeo events that utilize inhumane tools and training methods in Los Angeles. Tools such as spurs, shock devices, whips, etc do cause both physical and emotional trauma to equine and livestock. Since it is possible to retain some rodeo events without the use of these tools, I would like to see the city of Los Angeles monitor these events through officials educated on animal physiology. Hopefully, this could allow those who are willing to support animal welfare to continue running these events in a humane fashion as role models to the rest of the country.
