Comments for Public Posting: Please learn the history of the rodeo and how it is a part of our national heritage. It is a way of life for many, and source of pride for many more. The animals are valued and treated as athletes. Abuse doesn't happen. These men and women pay to participate in these events. They are not paid as in most professional sports. A football player wouldn't walk across the street for what they MIGHT earn. These are proud and patriotic Americans. Don't destroy one of the most wholesome sporting events that allows men, women and children to participate and welcomes all nationalities and colors. KEEP AND SUPPORT THE RODEO!!!

Comments for Public Posting: Western lifestyle events stem from the foundation of modern day society. Without agriculture, our food supply would not sustain the number of humans currently on planet earth. I would encourage you to embrace these events that showcase the culture and techniques used for our existence. Unlike the NFL, NBA, NHL, UFC, etc., you and I rely on this culture to exist. This is not just another useless sport.

Comments for Public Posting: I grew up in Southern California where my love for animals, and especially horses, led me into the world of rodeo. I learned compassion, discipline, and responsibility. It was different than all the other sports I participated in, with so much more required of me around the clock. Keeping my horses in shape, well fed and healthy was the foundation of it all. I enjoyed the comrederie and I benefit from being outdoors and from the companionship of my horses. I rode in open barrel races, open team roping events, California High School Rodeo as well as Collegiate Rodeo for Cal Poly Pomona. Because of that passion, the tradition was passed to my children who not only learned to care for horses but went on to breed, raise, train and show cattle. Through their animals, they too participated in 4H where animal husbandry, responsibility, compassion, sportsmanship and leadership were just a small fraction of the values and skills that led them to be responsible young adults. Please don't allow the fringe minority take away something so important from LA. It is not just entertainment; rodeo represents the roots and quite honestly, the backbone of this country.

Comments for Public Posting: Please don't ban our most beloved Western heritage. Rodeo, ranching, farming, barrel racing, team roping, livestock and the like are an American way of life and tradition. They are family owned operated and loved. Fathers and sons, mothers and daughters working the land and caring for the animals are the strength and the binding glue of this nation. These families are God loving and the salt of the earth. Let their voices be heard. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: To ban Rodeo is to stop a way of life. I'm a ranchers daughter and I grew up on Rodeo. It's something I looked forward to come Rodeo time. The abuse of animals is just not true, if you don't take care of your livestock, how are you going to compete. It's most crucial that they are up to top form. People who are ignorant about this way of life just cannot be a voice to something they know absolutely nothing about.

Comments for Public Posting: Please stop the animal rights extremists from incrementally banning our use, ownership and enjoyment of our livestock and pets. Banning rodeo is just the second step (banning circuses was step one) toward their goal of roving all animals from our lives. Animal welfare is NOT their goal. It's all about cash and control!
