Comments for Public Posting: Please do NOT ban live animal exhibitions! Animals in Rodeos, parades, dog shows, etc. are NOT being mistreated, not anymore than the thousands of babies that are being aborted each and every day! How can aborting babies be okay but riding horses or bulls in a rodeo is cruelty to those animals. What has become of our people, our society? Are town people so removed from where their roots came from? There are babies being aborted, children being victimized or sold into sex slavery and we are concerned about animals who are treated better than these children? Farmers, cowboys, cowgirls, ag people love their animals probably more than many people care for their children. Please reconsider, many animal activists have really no idea about what they are talking about.

Comments for Public Posting: Bending to the wishes of a small radical fringe group (like PETA) NEVER works. They're never satisfied. There are many reasons for you to squash this idea: 1 - studies show that kids involved with animals are better students, more respectful of life, have more empathy for others, and take on responsibilities - all of which our kids in LA are lacking! 2 - veterans have found a fantastic outlet for dealing with PTSD by being involved with animals, and horses especially. 3 - it's short step from banning an activity involving horses and ranch animals to banning activities involving pets - and then to banning pets altogether. Your city has NOT been very friendly to animal activities and it's well-known. 4 - The County supervisors, rather than thinking for themselves, tend to follow along with your hare-brained ideas. Seriously, don't you have more important things to do??? Everyone I know is avoiding your city like a plague due to the mass numbers of homeless and the over-abundance of illegals. Do you ever expect to win back our business??? These are some valid and important points that your city needs to grasp!!! LA is NOT the city it was. WHY not work on getting back to that - a place with thriving businesses and people enjoying their lives!!!!

Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo and other animal activities are part of our heritage. These animals are taken care of better than most pets. We need to keep these traditions!!!
