Comments for Public Posting: I can not believe the LA City Council is even thinking about a rodeo ban. This is brought on by animal right extremists who have probably never witnessed a rodeo. I have been going to rodeos for over 30 years in California. I have never witnessed animal cruelty in any form. Rodeo animals are treated better than any other livestock and are used for short period of times and only a few times a year. There are already more than 70 rules on the book regulating rodeo rules and regulations. It would of been nice if the city council took the time to listen to folks who work in the rodeo business as much as they listen to animal right extremists. We all love animals and care about their well being. There is always middle ground and banning rodeo is not an option. The middle ground are the rules already in place. Please do not ban an American tradition such as rodeo. It is clean family fun. Why don't YOU take the time to attend a rodeo and find out for yourself. Thank you.
