Comments for Public Posting: Re 20-1575. The animals used in rodeo are not tortured, slaughtered after use, or abused. These animals are bred for their event. Many of these horses and bulls are in the 6 figure range for value. They are not the animals seen on local family ranches, they are not tamed to be with humans. The owners make sure that they have water, feed, hoof care, vet care with immunizations as necessary. The animals are checked by brand inspectors every time they cross state lines and in some states, where they cross county lines. I think the council should ASK for opposition to these accusations from this group.
