Comments for Public Posting: Rodeos need to stop being so cruel to animals. We know animals do feel, it is no different if we did this to people at this point. We need to turn the page past animals in entertainment.

Comments for Public Posting: Bulls and cows are extremely gentle and peaceful animals -- one only needs to look at the bulls now living in sanctuaries to document their docility in their natural state. They are vegetarians - they are prey animals, not predators. Bulls, like all mammals, are sentient -- they strongly feel fear and pain. To strap bull into a chute in which it cannot move, use cattle prods to inflict pain in order to enhance the fear and anger --then to place a rider on top of that animal --it is a terrifying, torturous experience. There is no reason to inflict this suffering on an animal for any reason, let alone for entertainment. Please uphold the ban on Rodeo Bull Riding, as a mark of your compassion and humanity.
