Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo is a way of life for hundreds of thousands of people. And the animal ATHLETES are some of the most well taken care of in the world. Without rodeo these animals have nowhere to go

Comments for Public Posting: I am for rodeos. Rodeo animals are well taken care. Regularly inspected by veterinarians. Horses kept by stock contractors and owners live longer than horses in the wild.

Comments for Public Posting: I support the rodeo. It's a honored and cherished part of our heritage that must continue to exist. Hypocritical groups that seek to dismantle our culture over nonsensical feelings and fantasies should not be allowed away or control over our lives and livelihood.

Comments for Public Posting: I am writing in support of American Rodeo. Personally, I am very, very concerned that loony activists (that have little to no idea what the hell they are talking about) are making another stink about the sport of Rodeo. First, Rodeo is a sport. A sport that cares for their animals, it's people, and it's fans! Second, Rodeo and it's related economic impact is not only important for the stock contractors, athlete's, and local vendors, etc. Third, it is time for Council members to once again act like true Americans versus continuing to be the root of liberal nonsense! Frankly, there is no issue or problem with Rodeo except in the minds of lunatics' that "feel" they should create an issue where there is none! Our family supports Rodeo and always will.

Comments for Public Posting: I support rodeos and am against PETA. Our rodeos do everything they can to protect the animals and the kids. The money that is raised is given back to the kids and community. It's a good thing!

Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo is the purest form of sports on the planet. Those animals are performers just like the cowboys and cowgirls. Don't judge what you don't understand.
