Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo events are derived from livestock management practices that were in place years ago before the advent of modern animal husbandry techniques /equipment . Cattle workers (ranch hands, cowboys) would often compete with their friends to see who was the fastest or most efficient in activities such as roping calves for treatment or green- breaking horses for riding and transportation purposes. Yes it is aggressive and strenuous on both the animal and the cattle owners/cowboys but it was a necessary part of the industry which still thrives to this very day . Just because some people in society have been steered toward a lifestyle of over-sensitivity and fragile personal feelings over something that they have no real understanding of or have been misled as to what rodeo is all about does not justify banning something that has been an important part of our American heritage. And I think that in todays world , we need to keep some of the elements of traditional America in our lives for the benefit of everyone.

Comments for Public Posting: The western heritage of Rodeo and alt of its events is part of who the USA is. California (the heavily populated) areas would love to sweep anything American under the carpet. Have enough inner strength to stand up for Rodeo, our prayers and respect for our country. Not your communist agenda.
