Comments for Public Posting: I have flown out specifically to this event from GA on more than one occasion. The history, the athletes and the town put on a show like no other. I love the sport of rodeo, contrary to what non educated animal rights people may think, the animals are well cared for, well tended to and for the most part LOVE their jobs. You don't abuse you life line. Don't let such a long history of an amazing event disappear. We as a people are losing way to much to special interest. I hope you host again, I hope I get to come again. I still have the memorabilia and photos of when my son finally get to compete at your event!!... After watching it with us for so many years, he was honored and still has his back # and sign on his wall in his home. I would also like to point out how many of your citizens are moving away to get out of the mess known as California. Perhaps its time to stand up for the other 85% of the population, not just the 15.

Comments for Public Posting: The injustice of banning any kind of rodeo or rodeo sports in Los Angeles, needs to stop. America was born and thrived on Western heritage and the people who surrounded themselves with animals. It is still a Western way of life in the lower 48, and needs to be shown as so. Don't rewrite the history books, and think for yourselves and not other organizations who are trying to put a stop to these functions and events.

Comments for Public Posting: Our family looks forward to attending the Red Bluff Rodeo every year. It is one of our largest events that brings business to our small city in Northern California. Do not ban rodeo's in California. There is nothing wrong with supporting the sport just like every other sport allowed to compete.

Comments for Public Posting: This ordinance is based off of false and misguided information. It should be rejected. These animals are treated better than most people. I strongly object to this ordinance.

Comments for Public Posting: Rodeos are not entertainment for horses, bulls and other animals mistreated and exploited for greed. Animals were not put on this planet for our entertainment, profit, or dinner. We need to care for them, not hurt them.

Comments for Public Posting: Equestrian events are necessary to thousands of horse lovers. I find it incredibly offensive for some idiot sitting behind a desk who knows nothing about animal lovers to try and evoke this crazy wokeism on us. Stay the hell out of our lives you liberal assholes. If want to do something take care of your city and get the homeless off the streets and get rid of Gascone! You all should be ashamed!

Comments for Public Posting: As a lifelong resident of the city of Los Angeles, I urge you not to move forward with the ban on rodeo equipment. The rodeo is an essential western tradition with roots not only in the United States, but also in Canada and in Mexico. In its current form, the rodeo is cruelty-free and a ban on these basically harmless tools will function as a de facto ban on the sport itself. Again, I urge you to maintain the possibility of even having a rodeo as essential to the city of Los Angeles, else we become, say, New York West. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: I have been involved with rodeos off and on, my entire life. I have been to junior rodeos, amateur rodeos, and professional rodeos. The number one priority at all of them has been to make sure the stock is taken care of. The horses and cattle eat before the producers. Some bucking horses have been competing for over 20 years and still love what they do. I have been to National High School rodeos where every young person you talk to is very respectful and love to tell you about how much their horses mean to them. Watching them together, you can see how much the animals love what they do. From the trucks and trailers we use to haul our animals, to the places we keep them, they are kept in excellent condition. Clean and safe. I have retired from competing now, but my last two horses were passed on to high school students who used them to compete and helped them get college scholarships. The last I heard, one of them was helping a five year old girl get her start in rodeo. Please do not let a few extreme groups ruin a wholesome lifestyle that helps young people learn work ethic and responsibility, becoming working adults that have great ethics and morals. Thank you for your time. Mitch Fahrion

Comments for Public Posting: The State of California only exists because of the western way of life. From Vaqueros to English Olympian Equestrians, this is a direct link to our history and the melting pot that Los Angeles City and County have become. Not to mention the economic benefits of the tourism from such events and the community organizations like Compton Cowboys that exist to improve the inner cities and instill western values in at risk youths. But isn't that just like Los Angeles? Make the rich richer and perpetuate inner city crime and poverty. This city, county and state have become so grossly mishandled and erasing a way of life based on hard work and true values goes against what these politicians want.
