Comments for Public Posting: No to a ban on western heritage sports. Especially not from uninformed people as this is a slippery slope that can affect even basic horse enjoyment and ownership. Flank straps are not painful, standard spurs aren't either. Roweled spurs are actually more gentle than others and very greatly on the user as is all equipment. Consult with people in the know and nor animal rights activists that don't have a clue about how things work or don't. Thank you.
