Comments for Public Posting: Last Chance for Animals (LCA), an international non-profit animal rights organization based in Los Angeles and founded in 1985, support the Los Angeles Rodeo Ban. Animals abused by the rodeo industry are chased, wrangled, roped, and tormented for entertainment. Horses, bulls, steers, and calves can suffer painful injuries, including broken ribs, back, legs, and tails, punctured lungs, internal organ damage, snapped necks, and agonizing deaths. LCA would also like to address the rumors that this ban will affect equestrian events. It will not, this is specifically a ban on the rodeo. If you have read or heard that this ban will affect horse riding, or any other equestrian event, that is false information. This is only a rodeo ban in the city of Los Angeles.

Comments for Public Posting: I love the Bill Pickett Rodeo and look forward to watching and enjoying the Cowboys and Cowgirls do their thing. I know for a fact that the animals are not harmed in any way. Can you please use your time and energy on shutting something else down. I definitely would appreciate it.
