Comments for Public Posting: I support the Los Angeles Rodeo Ban. As someone who comes from farming on both sides of my family, and who grew up in an area where farming was prevalent, I've always found rodeos both disturbing and disrespectful to the reputation and image of farmers. Rodeos, to anyone who knows their history, are a great lie; an invented commercial sham posing as tradition and glorifying the disgusting and horrifying violence toward animals. If that wasn't bad enough, some rodeos have expanded the roster of animals to see what other sentient creatures they can torture. Animals used in rodeos suffer from physical injuries, fear and stress, and often a painful death. Tremendous pain is caused by the devices to make normally docile animals act fiercely. Broken bones and tails result from jumping on and grabbing the animals. Calf roping causes horrific neck injuries and trauma when they are slammed to the ground. This is to say nothing of the repeated torture inflicted upon them during all the "practice" that nobody witnesses. There is no excuse for animal abuse and the evil that is perpetrated by rodeos.
