Comments for Public Posting: Please support recently displaced residents/ dwellers that have lost their homes. Some have income and just need the city to offset rental costs for them. Most working class people cannot pay $1,600 for a studio. The renter funds should cover portion while renter pays no more than 30% of total income, if that if they are unemployed. They likely don't need as much support from city, just need access to affordable units/buildings that will take the city assistance. The city could house many residents that can pass background checks and get housing on their own once more resources are made available to them. Our essential work force should not be sleeping in cars. www.HTWWS.org
