The Mayor could balance the budget by making the millions of Los Angeles residents who cook outdoors with wood and charcoal purchase a yearly smoke pollution permit or face stiff fines — ( Smoke polluters are the number one cause of particulate lung destroying air pollution in LA — Smoke polluters are the number one reason why LA residential air is a health hazard ) -- She could also impose a very stiff pollution tax on every bag of charcoal purchased in the stores --

So when she tells you that she has looked at all potential new revenue sources, she is overlooking a monster that would bring hundreds of millions of new dollars into city coffers ----- She being a dedicated Marxist, she doesn't want to offend the very people Marxists are using to establish Communism in the USA ( OPEN BORDERS IS MARXIST — Let them in by the millions, kick them out one at a time— Apollyon is their god )
